6 Still Hunted In Lisbon Jailbreak

'CLEAN BREAK' Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan examines the small opening cut in the bars of the shower area of the Columbiana County Jail through which six prisoners, their bodies covered with soap squeezed to freedom Monday night.

By PAUL YOUNG

LISBON — The tri-state area was being combed today for six prisoners who escaped early Monday night from the Columbiana County Jail here by soaping their naked bodies and squeezing through a small opening in the shower room bars.

The break took place at approximately 7:14 p.m., the sheriff's office said.

A minute later, after donning their white coveralls, the prisoners jumped from a window at the northwest corner of the jail and "completely disappeared."

PROSECUTING Atty. J. Warren Bettis reported the escape. He saw the fugitives running north in the jail alley as he drove up to the back of the jail.

The search continues for:

Dennis Dale Hunter, 18, of 211 W. 8th St., Salem; Vernon Kubankin, 19, of Hartley Rd., Salem RD 1; Mark F. Heverly, 22, of 524 New York Ave., Sebring; Charles Mercer Jr., 18, of 130 Ravine St., East Liverpool; Lester L. Donahue, 22, of 637 River Rd., East Liverpool, and Alan W. Jarvis, 18, of 1605 Chester Ave., Wellsville.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said, "They got some blades some way and sawed two bars out of the shower room down at the floor."

He said the opening measures 8½ by 10½ inches. Unable to get through with their clothes on, the prisoners undressed, soaped up in the shower, then slid through the opening.

THEY BROKE a small window to get out of the building. There were eight other prisoners in the section from which the six escaped, the sheriff said.

Jailer Harold Clecker, in the lobby, heard the sound of breaking glass, but was unable to locate the source before the prisoners escaped.

The sheriff said he believes the two bars were sawn over a period of two or three days. Thursday was the last visiting day. The bars are just under one inch in diameter. Four cuts were required to remove the two bars.

Law enforcement officers from neighboring communities and counties responded to the break alert and set up roadblocks all around the area.

Officers stopped all cars leaving and entering Lisbon and nearby communities, but found no trace of the escapees. Vacant buildings and the fairgrounds and cemetery were searched. Officers maintained the roadblocks until after midnight.

WHAT MAY be a clue to the disappearance of the six came about 8 today when Raphael Darcy of 289 W. Chestnut St., Lisbon, reported the theft of a 1950 black Chevrolet sedan parked between his house and the residence of Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt.

The chief said the car was still in the driveway when he returned home about 11 and was still there at 2 a.m. when his wife retired.

Chief Zahrndt said he believes the escapees were in a barn at the rear of Darcy's lot. He said he found several cigarette butts there and footprints in the mud where Darcy's car had been parked, indicating several persons pushed the car out of the driveway. No one in the neighborhood heard anything unusual, he said.

Hunter and Kubankin were placed in jail March 11 to await April grand jury action on a charge of burglary of Ivan's Used Furniture in Salem.

Heverly, committed Feb. 22, is charged with a burglary Feb. 15 at the Russell Reichenbach residence in North Georgetown.

Mercer has pleaded guilty to a burglary Dec. 27 at Pickens' grocery and a robbery Jan. 2 at the Humble Service Station,

British Face Pay Freeze, Tax Boost

New Budget Aims To Put Brakes On Imports Demand

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Labor government imposed an immediate ceiling on all forms of income for Britons today, instituted "severe increases in taxation" and ordered a cutback in consumption to pull the nation out of financial difficulties.

LONDON (AP) — The British public got ready for more bad news from the Labor government today—a program of wage and income freezes and heavy tax increases to curb the demand for imports.

This was the expectation of the government's new budget which Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins unveils before the House of Commons this afternoon. It is a chief factor in the future of the pound and Britain's part of the British-American effort to restore stability to the world monetary situation.

To Hike Several Taxes

Jenkins was expected to siphon off $1.2 billion in purchasing power by hiking the income and corporation taxes, raising the sales tax 10 per cent, and increasing the annual auto license fee and the special taxes on gasoline, liquor, beer, wine and tobacco.

The government also is freezing wages and incomes for at least 12 months and putting selective restraints on prices of goods that are not considered essential for the export drive.

The unions and the Labor party's left wing are certain to set up a howl.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's cabinet gave final approval to the financial blueprint Monday, and Jenkkins called on Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace to give her the traditional advance look at the document.

Must Curtail Imports

The chief aim of the bulky budget Jenkins has been working on for weeks is to permit British exports to take advantage of the competitive edge in

Serious Bid Seen To Break Deadlock

Gold Crisis Renews Talks Of Spending Cut, Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lash of the gold crisis has driven the White House and Congress into a new round of negotiations that could produce deep spending cuts and an income tax increase.

Nobody was talking much, but there was reason to think that a serious effort is under way to break the long deadlock on the issue of how big a spending cut President Johnson would have to accept to get his proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge —or some variation of it.

Would Shrink Red Ink

The combined spending cut—tax hike will be expected to shrink the prospective $20 billion red-ink figure in the nation's accounts.

Such a reduction would be counted on to strengthen confidence in the dollar and therefore bolster the emergency measures agreed on last weekend to check speculation in gold and maintain the present system of exchange between major Western currencies.

Following those weekend measures, the gold crisis was ebbing around the world. The dollar strengthened and gold prices sagged in Europe's markets Monday in overnight response to the seven-power agreement halting government sales to speculators and all other private buyers.

In Paris, scene of frenzied speculative attacks on the dollar last week, the gold price slid to $40.10 an ounce after reaching $44.36 Friday. In Zurich and Frankfurt gold went for $33 to $41 an ounce in quiet trading.

The opening offer of an economy drive came from President Johnson's side—to cut the budget by about $9 billion in appropriations, which translates into about $4 billion in actual spending cuts during the year beginning July 1.

Asks National Austerity

Johnson followed the offer up by calling in a Minneapolis speech for national austerity to win the Vietnam war and solve problems at home.

Duffy And Wilson Oppose Increase In Opening Round

Unable to muster sufficient votes Monday night for immediate enactment of legislation boosting the city income tax, Council agreed to adjourn until tonight at 8:30.

Councilmen James Lowe and Floyd Murray were excused from the regular session last night — Lowe because of the critical illness of his father and Murray because he was working a double shift at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co.

FIVE VOTING members were present — Councilmen John Wilson, Edward Massey, Donal I. Burcham, Robert W. Sample and Frank P. Duffy, but Wilson and Duffy came out against the tax increase last night.

The legislation calls for boosting the basic tax rate to a full one per cent from the present eight-tenths of one per cent. That would mean a boost from 80 cents to $1 in the tax paid by jeast Liverpool residents employed locally on each $100 of income.

Local residents employed in other cities which also collect income taxes from them would pay 70 cents on each $100 of earnings. At present, they pay 40 cents on the $100. The raise from those employed outside the city would result from the hike in the rate and a reduction in the credits they are allowed for other communities' taxes. The present credit is four-tenths on the tax of eight-tenths. It would be cut to thre-tenths on the new tax of a full 1 per cent.

Marines Kill 67 Of Enemy In New Battle Below DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines overran a rocket-firing band of North Vietnamese regulars Monday and reported killing 67 of the enemy in new fighting below the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

This brought enemy casualties around the U.S. Marine base at Dong Ha to more than 900 since March 1. Twelve Marines were killed and 24 were wounded in the clash Monday four miles north of the big Marine supply base.

About 150 Marines were maneuvering to attack the enemy position when they were flailed by about 40 rounds of 140mm rocket fire. Allied artillery, helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers hammered the enemy lines for an hour, and then the Leathernecks attacked.

Fighting Ends Quickly

The heavy fighting ended quickly, as the enemy fled. The Marines captured three prisoners.

Dong Ha, headquarters of the 3rd Marine Division and supply depot for all allied outposts along the eastern half of the DMZ, has been under pressure from troops of North Vietnam's 324B Division that slipped through the buffer zone and past allied outposts earlier this year. South Vietnamese forces have reported killing more than 700 of the enemy in the area this month while the Marines say they have killed more than 150.

Below the western end of the DMZ, North Vietnamese gunners hurled 125 rocket, mortar and artillery shells into the much-scarred Marine combat base at Khe Sanh Monday. A U.S. military spokesman said casualties as usual were light among the base's 7,000 defenders.

St. Clair Project To Cost $43,176

Blacktop resurfacing and other improvements on St. Clair Ave. from 6th St. to Princeton Ave. on the North Side will cost an estimated $43,176, Council was told Monday night by City Engineer George S. Bloomgren.

The proposed St. Clair improvement was one of four on which Council received reports from Bloomgren and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey. The two also told Council:

The Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office at New Philadelphia has indicated it will start work soon on preparation of plans for extension of the Freeway from W. 3rd and Monroe Sts. into East End and the study will include the possibility of erecting a new span across the Ohio River to replace the Chester Bridge.

RESURFACING and other work on the River Rd. would cost about $45,000, although no "firm" estimate has been prepared.

The Highway Department has proposed a project to level about 600 lineal feet of sinking pavement along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." at an overall cost of $5,000, including a $2,000 contribution from the city.

Bloomgren prepared the St. Clair Ave. project estimate at Council's request. At the same time, he was directed to investigate the cost of a River Rd. improvement. He said the St. Clair work would provide for a new 3-inch blacktop pavement, tapering off to 1½ inches at the edges, for the entire length of the two-lane stretch.

The price also would cover about 1,000 feet of curb and a gutter section on the west side of the thoroughfare, where none exists now; a new sewer catch basin above Grant St. to

Copper Strike Negotiations Hit New Snag

Talks Bog Down Between 3 Firms And 26 Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations between 26 striking unions and 3 big copper firms have hit new snags in White House-sponsored talks while a fourth firm awaited the outcome of union ratification meetings on a contract agreement.

Strikers in Arizona and Texas were voting on a 40-month contract with Phelps Dodge Corp. that would provide $1.13 per hour in increased wages and fringe benefits. Several endorsements by locals—and no rejections—were reported by early today.

Workers at Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corp. in Yonkers, N.Y., have already approved a separate contract providing a package of 75 cents per hour over 36 months.

Wages in the industry averaged $3.28 per hour before 50,000 workers in 22 states went on strike more than eight months

In Bid To Plug Dollar Drain

U.S. Will Ask 16 Nations To Reduce Port Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. aid officials—in a bid to plug a dollar drain—say they'll urge 16 nations to reduce their port charges for overseas unloading of food and other aid commodities.

Rutherford M. Poats, deputy administrator of the Agency for International Development, told a Senate Government Operations subcommittee the proposed new procedure would avoid a total dollar drain of about $17 million and result in a net saving of some $11 million.

To Hear Testimony

His testimony was prepared for today's subcommittee hearing.

Poats appeared before the subcommittee just a little over a month after The Associated Press first reported that the United States had paid port charges of some $600 million to unload foreign-aid cargoes in the harbors of 100 nations.

The hearings were scheduled about the time President Johnson proposed strict measures to curb the $3.6 billion balance-of-payments deficit, including possible restrictions or taxes on travel abroad by Americans.

The General Accounting Office, an agency of Congress, has been asking for three years why the United States was paying port charges on food and other emergency aid when agreements require that the recipient country pay them.

"Fortunate Coincidence"

An aide to Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, said Monday night the matter had come to the subcommittee's attention as "a fortunate coincidence" about the time of the Johnson speech.

Poats estimated that even if port charges had been paid on all AID-financed goods, the figure would total no more than $200 million and probably would be closer to $100 million.

"The problem you are exploring today is one we have wres-

Youths Held For Window Smash Spree

Two New Cumberland youths on a rock throwing spree caused an estimated $2,111 damage there Monday night.

Police Chief William Webster said today what some residents believed to be a "bomb in the town" turned out to be the two youths.

Thomas Reitter, 18, and a 17-year-old juvenile were arrested at 6:30 a. m. on charges of vandalism. They were apprehended at the Green Mill Restaurant on Chester St. in New Cumberland.

Webster said he received numerous calls from residents and store owners who reported their windows smashed by rocks.

Martin's Pie Shop, the post office, Courthouse, ANS Food Store, Phillips Hardware and two homes were hit.

Webster said the rock - throwing covered a period of about two hours.

The two were arraigned this morning before Squire John D. Herron and committed to the Brooke County Jail — Reitter in lieu of $10,000 bond and the juvenile in lieu of $5,000 bond — on seven counts of damaging property.

Their hearings have been set for Friday before Squire Herron.

Poats appeared before the subcommittee just a little over a month after The Associated Press first reported that the United States had paid port charges of some $600 million to unload foreign-aid cargoes in the harbors of 100 nations.

The hearings were scheduled about the time President Johnson proposed strict measures to curb the $3.6 billion balance-of-payments deficit, including possible restrictions or taxes on travel abroad by Americans.

The General Accounting Office, an agency of Congress, has been asking for three years why the United States was paying port charges on food and other emergency aid when agreements require that the recipient country pay them.

"Fortunate Coincidence"

An aide to Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, said Monday night the matter had come to the subcommittee's attention as "a fortunate coincidence" about the time of the Johnson speech.

Poats estimated that even if port charges had been paid on all AID-financed goods, the figure would total no more than $200 million and probably would be closer to $100 million.

Youths Held For Window Smash Spree

Two New Cumberland youths on a rock throwing spree caused an estimated $2,111 damage there Monday night.

Police Chief William Webster said today what some residents believed to be a "bomb in the town" turned out to be the two youths.

Thomas Reitter, 18, and a 17-year-old juvenile were arrested at 6:30 a. m. on charges of vandalism. They were apprehended at the Green Mill Restaurant on Chester St. in New Cumberland.

Webster said he received numerous calls from residents and store owners who reported their windows smashed by rocks.

Martin's Pie Shop, the post office, Courthouse, ANS Food Store, Phillips Hardware and two homes were hit.

Webster said the rock - throwing covered a period of about two hours.

The two were arraigned this morning before Squire John D. Herron and committed to the Brooke County Jail — Reitter in lieu of $10,000 bond and the juvenile in lieu of $5,000 bond — on seven counts of damaging property.

Their hearings have been set for Friday before Squire Herron.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The son of President Antonin Novotny was barred today from leaving the country for fear he would flee to the West in the wake of the scandal over Gen. Jan Sejna, his longtime friend who has defected to the United States.

An authoritative source said Antonin Novotny Jr., who heads the Artia Foreign Trade Corp., was denied an exit visa to West Germany and Yugoslavia where he was supposed to travel next week.

"We do not want to have another defection," said one informant.

Sentence Set For Robbery And Burglary

Terry Lee Hensel, 21, of 101 W. 7th St., East Liverpool, was sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory for armed robbery and burglary Monday noon in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard imposed concurrent sentences of 10 to 25 years for the robbery and 1 to 15 years for burglary. The court gave Hensel credit for time in the County Jail since he pleaded guilty March 8.

Hensel admitted the Jan. 2 robbery of Dale Saling, an attendant at the Humble Service Station, and a burglary Dec. 29 at Rose Pickens' grocery, both here.

Before denying Hensel's request for probation, Judge Buzzard remarked on the number of area cases of "you men who

Will Confer With Council

Beatty To Press Action On Schools' Sewer Line

Architect Robert Beatty informed the board of education Monday night he will contact City Council again relative to a new sewer line on Maine Blvd. for use by the schools now under construction on the North Side.

Board members pointed out that the new line must be ready by July 1 or the schools will have to be hooked into a line on Bradshaw Ave., which might prove inadequate.

FOUR CHANGE orders for the new schools were approved by the board during a consultation last night with Beatty.

Beatty said construction in general is progressing well. He will meet with members Saturday at the site of the new high school to conduct them on a tour of all the buildings.

The board authorized an expenditure of $187 for Sayre Electric to install a separate fuse circuit for the water pumping house so that it still could function even though power in other parts of the North Side complex might be turned off.

The action came after members reviewed a request for the installation by Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne. Van Dyne pointed out if the electricity should shut off in certain portions of the complex the pumps might not be operating in case of fire. In that event his department would have no water with which to work. Since the buildings are situated high above the remainder of the city, pumps are necessary to deliver an adequate water supply.

AN ADDITIONAL $10,000 will be spent to purchase a seamless flooring material from Sonnebor Corp. of Des Plaines, Ill.

Beatty said the seamless coating will last longer and "take more wear" than tile. A $4,416 credit will be given on the asbestos outlay bringing the price down from $14,414 for the newer type flooring.

The new flooring is guaranteed for five years and can be patched if damaged.

Sayre Electric also will install additional electrical facilities in the shop building for $18,470. The outlay will be necessary to bring the area up to standard for vocational training programs which are proposed.

The Potters Lumber Co. will be asked to submit a bid to change some walls in order to provide about 3,600 square feet of floor space. Presently plans call for only about 2,700 square feet of floor in the shop.

This will take away a small portion from the drafting room, but still will leave adequate space to qualify for a program in that area, Beatty said. The changes must be made, board members were told, or the state will not approve the proposed vocational training programs which the schools plan to implement in September. It is not known whether state money for the programs will be available then. The $18,000 figure is in addition to that electrical equipment already installed which was contracted for in the original electrical contract.

BEATTY will review with the two plumbing contractors the cost of installing 12 sinks in each of the three elementary schools.

Conti Plumbing and Heating bid $2,177 each for installing the sinks at North and East elementary buildings and Salem Plumbing and Heating bid $3,111 for installing the same number of sinks at the LaCroft building.

The Mike Pusateri Co. was given a contract to install a sewer at the LaCroft building running to Boring Ln. It was the lower of two bids submitted. Buckeye Plumbing and Heating bid $6,180.

Beatty also will confer again with members of the Ohio Department of Education in an effort to get the building section to reinstate three items for loose equipment needed for the new schools.

The department, in looking over the list of loose equipment needed, crossed out pencil sharpeners (72 for elementary and 42 for high school use), gymnastic equipment for physical education classes and a truck which is to be used solely for clearing snow around the North Side schools.

Board members pointed out the department specifically thought the truck a good idea for the area.

The board may have to sustain part of the loss encountered when vandals entered the new North elementary building last week. Beatty said some panels were damaged, windows broken and walls smeared.

Insurance will cover all damage except the four to six broken window panels.

Court Cuts Bond In Entry Charge

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a motion to reduce from $5,000 to $1,000 the appearance bond set for Dean Newlen, 30, of 916 Fairview St., who is accused of a burglary early Saturday morning at Hales Confectionery on Dresden Ave.

The court also set a preliminary hearing Thursday morning for the defendant, who pleaded not guilty this morning through his counsel, George Aronson. Solicitor J. Michael Kapp, the prosecutor, agreed to the reduction in bond.

Police alleged that Newlen was found inside the store about 12:20 a. m. Saturday by Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. He is charged with breaking and entering in the night season with intent to commit larceny.

Adopts Income Tax

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Elyria City Council adopted a 1 per cent city income tax Monday that will raise an estimated $560,000 this year and $1.6 million in 1969. The tax will become effective July 1.

An ampere is a unit of strength of an electric current.

Trial Opened For City Man

Clair Cunningham, 58, of 112 E. 2nd St. went on trial this morning before a Common Pleas Court Jury at Lisbon on a charge of harboring and concealing a felon.

The indictment alleges that Cunningham on Oct. 20 harbored and concealed William L. Nesbitt, 19, of 268 W. Washington St., Lisbon.

Nesbitt, indicted for four robberies, pleaded guilty to holdups Oct. 9 and 20 at the Little Dinner on Harvey Ave., Oct. 10 at Gilmore's Service Station in Glenmoor and Oct. 14 at Saltsman's Drugstore in Calcutta.

David Cunningham, 19, the defendant's son, was indicted on the harboring charge and has pleaded guilty. He was committed to jail Friday when a bondsman surrendered him to Common Pleas Court and asked for release as surety.

However, young Cunningham was released from jail Monday afternoon when a clerk discovered that the bondsman was not surety for the defendant in this case although he had bailed him out on another matter earlier in East Liverpool Municipal Court.

or continue his 18-month-old refusal to seek the nomination.

The Times said that Rockefeller's statement was already being drafted by speechwriter Hugh Morrow, but that his advisers were still undecided on what stand to take on Vietnam.

According to the newspaper, Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., and retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin have urged the New Yorker to picture himself as a "moderate dove."

The newspaper said advisers told Rockefeller his announcement would have little impact unless he took a dramatically different position from the hard-line policies of Richard M. Nixon.

Two Motorists Fined By Wellsville Mayor

Louis Crawford, 38, of 1822 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was fined $75 and costs by Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

Crawford was charged with reckless operation and failure to have his vehicle under control. David Chrisman of Wellsville was fined $25 and costs for reckless operation.

St. Clair

improve storm water runoff, and possibly removal of a stone retaining wall near North St. that impedes drivers' view and has the effect of creating a "job" in the pavement.

INSTALLATION of the curb and gutter would have the effect of widening the street by about three feet, as motorists now avoid a stretch of gutter that was built originally of brick and later covered with blacktop, Bloomgren said.

He said in investigating the River Rd. job he first considered some type of drainage structure on the upper side of the pavement to help eliminate damage caused by storm water. But he later decided on a compromise that would raise the crown of the street so that the pavement would drain readily, he said.

"A lot of blacktop will be required to build up the crown, as the middle now is depressed he commented. He said he believes a short stretch of concrete pavement should be laid under the Ralston's Crossing underpass to connect with the River Rd. The existing surface is "constantly churned up by traffic" and "blacktop will not last in a spot like that," Bloomgren said.

Bloomgren said the Highway Department promised no immediate matching funds will be required from the city when the state hires a consultant to update plans for extension of the Freeway, including detailed plans and specifications for construction. The original proposal was that the city would put up $50,000 of its share immediately "to show good faith," but that requirement now has been waived, he added.

ALTHOUGH the study will include the possibility of erecting a new bridge, "that doesn't mean necessarily that a new bridge will be built," he cautioned.

Within the next month, the state will send Council the customary "consent legislation" for the project. When the ordinance is passed, the way will be clear for the state to hire a consultant to make the study, Bloomgren said.

Bloomgren added that an engineering safety study of the present Chester Bridge has been completed and turned over to the Highway Department. The department's officials are scheduled to discuss the report March 27 and the details probably will be made public at that time, he added.

Vodrey told Council the Highway Department approached the city with the proposal to raise the level of the 600 feet of sunken pavement on the "Hill Rd." Storm water drainage and seepage from abandoned mines have been blamed for the pavement problem, which dates back many years. Council agreed to provide the city's $2,000 share for the project.

IN OTHER business, Council referred to Solicitor J. Michael Kapp for study a letter from Liverpool Township trustees asserting that township - owned fire equipment will not respond to any more blazes in East Liverpool unless the city and the township sign a mutual aid fire protection agreement.

The ordinance committee was given a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking appropriation of an additional $18,650 to cover the cost of a $35,870 project for modernization of the water department's pumping system and electricity supply. The department has funds available but the money must be appropriated, the letter explained.

Councilman John Wilson asked the street committee to make an investigation at Mars Alley and Oak St., where it was reported a stop sign had been knocked down by a vehicle.

Councilman Robert W. Sample asked the street committee to investigate a request from Dresden Ave. residents for installation of a blinker light again on a curve above Moore St. He said a blinker once was in service there, but it has been removed. The residents feel its installation will help reduce speeding, he said.

Sample also relayed a complaint from residents of Ohio Ave. above Elizabeth St. that cars ssometimes park on the sidewalk areas, since there are no curbs. He cautioned motorists to discontinue the practice or their cars will be ticketed or towed away.

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample.

ago. About 6,500 of the strikers are Phelps Dodge employes.

Talks with the other three major firms—Kennecott Copper Corp., Anaconda Co. and American Smelting & Refining Co.—bogged down anew when both sides took tough new bargaining stances.

However, Kennecott did announce it had reached agreements with four small locals in Nevada and New Mexico.

Sources said the three firms were resisting accepting the Phelps Dodge settlement as an industry pattern.

A spokesman for the firms said the unions had renewed their "apparently illegal company-wide demands" for simultaneous contract expiration dates and similar economic gains for all workers of each firm.

The unions abandoned those demands in settling with Phelps Dodge, but the industry statement said, "It is not clear whether there will be concession on these conditions in all the bargaining areas of the other three companies."

Each of the companies has widely scattered mining, smelting, refining and fabricating operations, plus lead and zinc operations.

The three firms again criticized the National Labor Relations Board for not seeking a federal court injunction after it issued a complaint that the company-wide demands constitute a refusal to bargain.

Government officials expressed hope, despite the new deadlock that contracts can be concluded between the unions and the three firms by late this week.

Will Confer With Council

Beatty To Press Action On Schools' Sewer Line

Architect Robert Beatty informed the board of education Monday night he will contact City Council again relative to a new sewer line on Maine Blvd. for use by the schools now under construction on the North Side.

Board members pointed out that the new line must be ready by July 1 or the schools will have to be hooked into a line on Bradshaw Ave., which might prove inadequate.

FOUR CHANGE orders for the new schools were approved by the board during a consultation last night with Beatty.

Beatty said construction in general is progressing well. He will meet with members Saturday at the site of the new high school to conduct them on a tour of all the buildings.

The board authorized an expenditure of $187 for Sayre Electric to install a separate fuse circuit for the water pumping house so that it still could function even though power in other parts of the North Side complex might be turned off.

The action came after members reviewed a request for the installation by Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne. Van Dyne pointed out if the electricity should shut off in certain portions of the complex the pumps might not be operating in case of fire. In that event his department would have no water with which to work. Since the buildings are situated high above the remainder of the city, pumps are necessary to deliver an adequate water supply.

AN ADDITIONAL $10,000 will be spent to purchase a seamless flooring material from Sonnebor Corp. of Des Plaines, Ill.

Beatty said the seamless coating will last longer and "take more wear" than tile. A $4,416 credit will be given on the asbestos outlay bringing the price down from $14,414 for the newer type flooring.

The new flooring is guaranteed for five years and can be patched if damaged.

Sayre Electric also will install additional electrical facilities in the shop building for $18,470. The outlay will be necessary to bring the area up to standard for vocational training programs which are proposed.

The Potters Lumber Co. will be asked to submit a bid to change some walls in order to provide about 3,600 square feet of floor space. Presently plans call for only about 2,700 square feet of floor in the shop.

This will take away a small portion from the drafting room, but still will leave adequate space to qualify for a program in that area, Beatty said. The changes must be made, board members were told, or the state will not approve the proposed vocational training programs which the schools plan to implement in September. It is not known whether state money for the programs will be available then. The $18,000 figure is in addition to that electrical equipment already installed which was contracted for in the original electrical contract.

BEATTY will review with the two plumbing contractors the cost of installing 12 sinks in each of the three elementary schools.

Conti Plumbing and Heating bid $2,177 each for installing the sinks at North and East elementary buildings and Salem Plumbing and Heating bid $3,111 for installing the same number of sinks at the LaCroft building.

The Mike Pusateri Co. was given a contract to install a sewer at the LaCroft building running to Boring Ln. It was the lower of two bids submitted. Buckeye Plumbing and Heating bid $6,180.

Beatty also will confer again with members of the Ohio Department of Education in an effort to get the building section to reinstate three items for loose equipment needed for the new schools.

The department, in looking over the list of loose equipment needed, crossed out pencil sharpeners (72 for elementary and 42 for high school use), gymnastic equipment for physical education classes and a truck which is to be used solely for clearing snow around the North Side schools.

Board members pointed out the department specifically thought the truck a good idea for the area.

The board may have to sustain part of the loss encountered when vandals entered the new North elementary building last week. Beatty said some panels were damaged, windows broken and walls smeared.

Insurance will cover all damage except the four to six broken window panels.

South Side Club To Hold Dinner

HOOKSTOWN — The South Side Band Boosters Club Monday night completed plans for a fish dinner March 29 from 5 to 7:30 p. m. at the Hookstown Grange Hall.

Mrs. John McCandless, president, said carryout orders will be available from 4:30 to 5. Tickets will be sold at the door.

The club will sponsor the spring band banquet April 27 at the South Side High School cafeteria. Senior band members and their parents will be honored.

The club will hold a round and square dance June 1 at the Shippingport Community Building. The annual band concert and bake sale will be May 16 at the high school.

Mrs. Peg Anderson, Mrs. Mary Dhyer and Mrs. Ann Yanchik were named to the nominating committee to present a slate of officers. The election will be at the next meeting April 15 at 8 p. m. in the high school music room.

Court Cuts Bond In Entry Charge

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a motion to reduce from $5,000 to $1,000 the appearance bond set for Dean Newlen, 30, of 916 Fairview St., who is accused of a burglary early Saturday morning at Hales Confectionery on Dresden Ave.

The court also set a preliminary hearing Thursday morning for the defendant, who pleaded not guilty this morning through his counsel, George Aronson. Solicitor J. Michael Kapp, the prosecutor, agreed to the reduction in bond.

Police alleged that Newlen was found inside the store about 12:20 a. m. Saturday by Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. He is charged with breaking and entering in the night season with intent to commit larceny.

Adopts Income Tax

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Elyria City Council adopted a 1 per cent city income tax Monday that will raise an estimated $560,000 this year and $1.6 million in 1969. The tax will become effective July 1.

Trial Opened For City Man

Clair Cunningham, 58, of 112 E. 2nd St. went on trial this morning before a Common Pleas Court Jury at Lisbon on a charge of harboring and concealing a felon.

The indictment alleges that Cunningham on Oct. 20 harbored and concealed William L. Nesbitt, 19, of 268 W. Washington St., Lisbon.

Nesbitt, indicted for four robberies, pleaded guilty to holdups Oct. 9 and 20 at the Little Dinner on Harvey Ave., Oct. 10 at Gilmore's Service Station in Glenmoor and Oct. 14 at Saltsman's Drugstore in Calcutta.

David Cunningham, 19, the defendant's son, was indicted on the harboring charge and has pleaded guilty. He was committed to jail Friday when a bondsman surrendered him to Common Pleas Court and asked for release as surety.

However, young Cunningham was released from jail Monday afternoon when a clerk discovered that the bondsman was not surety for the defendant in this case although he had bailed him out on another matter earlier in East Liverpool Municipal Court.

or continue his 18-month-old refusal to seek the nomination.

The Times said that Rockefeller's statement was already being drafted by speechwriter Hugh Morrow, but that his advisers were stili undecided on what stand to take on Vietnam.

According to the newspaper, Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., and retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin have urged the New Yorker to picture himself as a "moderate dove."

The newspaper said advisers told Rockefeller his announcement would have little impact unless he took a dramatically different position from the hard-line policies of Richard M. Nixon.

Louis Crawford, 38, of 1822 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was fined $75 and costs by Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

improve storm water runoff, and possibly removal of a stone retaining wall near North St. that impedes drivers' view and has the effect of creating a "job" in the pavement.

INSTALLATION of the curb and gutter would have the effect of widening the street by about three feet, as motorists now avoid a stretch of gutter that was built originally of brick and later covered with blacktop, Bloomgren said.

He said in investigating the River Rd. job he first considered some type of drainage structure on the upper side of the pavement to help eliminate damage caused by storm water. But he later decided on a compromise that would raise the crown of the street so that the pavement would drain readily, he said.

"A lot of blacktop will be required to build up the crown, as the middle now is depressed he commented. He said he believes a short stretch of concrete pavement should be laid under the Ralston's Crossing underpass to connect with the River Rd. The existing surface is "constantly churned up by traffic" and "blacktop will not last in a spot like that," Bloomgren said.

Bloomgren said the Highway Department promised no immediate matching funds will be required from the city when the state hires a consultant to update plans for extension of the Freeway, including detailed plans and specifications for construction. The original proposal was that the city would put up $50,000 of its share immediately "to show good faith," but that requirement now has been waived, he added.

ALTHOUGH the study will include the possibility of erecting a new bridge, "that doesn't mean necessarily that a new bridge will be built," he cautioned.

Within the next month, the state will send Council the customary "consent legislation" for the project. When the ordinance is passed, the way will be clear for the state to hire a consultant to make the study, Bloomgren said.

Bloomgren added that an engineering safety study of the present Chester Bridge has been completed and turned over to the Highway Department. The department's officials are scheduled to discuss the report March 27 and the details probably will be made public at that time, he added.

Vodrey told Council the Highway Department approached the city with the proposal to raise the level of the 600 feet of sunken pavement on the "Hill Rd." Storm water drainage and seepage from abandoned mines have been blamed for the pavement problem, which dates back many years. Council agreed to provide the city's $2,000 share for the project.

IN OTHER business, Council referred to Solicitor J. Michael Kapp for study a letter from Liverpool Township trustees asserting that township - owned fire equipment will not respond to any more blazes in East Liverpool unless the city and the township sign a mutual aid fire protection agreement.

The ordinance committee was given a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking appropriation of an additional $18,650 to cover the cost of a $35,870 project for modernization of the water department's pumping system and electricity supply. The department has funds available but the money must be appropriated, the letter explained.

Councilman John Wilson asked the street committee to make an investigation at Mars Alley and Oak St., where it was reported a stop sign had been knocked down by a vehicle.

Councilman Robert W. Sample asked the street committee to investigate a request from Dresden Ave. residents for installation of a blinker light again on a curve above Moore St. He said a blinker once was in service there, but it has been removed. The residents feel its installation will help reduce speeding, he said.

Sample also relayed a complaint from residents of Ohio Ave. above Elizabeth St. that cars ssometimes park on the sidewalk areas, since there are no curbs. He cautioned motorists to discontinue the practice or their cars will be ticketed or towed away.

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample.

ago. About 6,500 of the strikers are Phelps Dodge employes.

Talks with the other three major firms—Kennecott Copper Corp., Anaconda Co. and American Smelting & Refining Co.—bogged down anew when both sides took tough new bargaining stances.

However, Kennecott did announce it had reached agreements with four small locals in Nevada and New Mexico.

Sources said the three firms were resisting accepting the Phelps Dodge settlement as an industry pattern.

A spokesman for the firms said the unions had renewed their "apparently illegal company-wide demands" for simultaneous contract expiration dates and similar economic gains for all workers of each firm.

The unions abandoned those demands in settling with Phelps Dodge, but the industry statement said, "It is not clear whether there will be concession on these conditions in all the bargaining areas of the other three companies."

Each of the companies has widely scattered mining, smelting, refining and fabricating operations, plus lead and zinc operations.

The three firms again criticized the National Labor Relations Board for not seeking a federal court injunction after it issued a complaint that the company-wide demands constitute a refusal to bargain.

Government officials expressed hope, despite the new deadlock that contracts can be concluded between the unions and the three firms by late this week.

Facing Financial Reality

In introducing a boost in the city income tax Monday night, Council reacted to an eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation with financial realities that could not be ignored.

The plain fact is that the municipal government does not have enough anticipated revenue in sight for 1968 to maintain services the public has come to expect. And it has unpaid bills left over from 1967 that will be left unpaid for many months.

Although it is estimated conservatively that the two-tenths of one per cent increase will produce $86,000 more annually, the raise is so small and spread across such a large base that it will not work a hardship on anyone.

Local residents employed here would pay an additional two-tenths of one per cent. That means the rate will be an even $1 on each $100 of income, compared with the present 80 cents.

EAST LIVERPOOL residents employed at Midland would pay seven-tenths of one per cent locally, or 70 cents on each $100 of earnings. They now pay 40 cents per $100. The boost in their tax rate is planned by cutting the credits for taxes paid out of state at the same time the overall rate was boosted.

The additional income apparently would make it possible for Council to proceed with its previous plan to provide $12,000 to establish the office of coordinator of city "master plan" projects. The tentative proposal is to set up $8,000 for the salary and $4,000 for expenses. The coordinator is expected to make it possible for the city to secure federal aid projects that will return to the community manyfold the amount spent for his salary.

After months of deliberation, Council concluded that East Liverpool must strive to move forward to keep pace with its area, its state and its nation.

Other recurring annual expenses persuaded Council it must boost income to meet the outlay.

The most pressing obligation is represented by about $25,000 in unpaid street department obligations carried over from 1967.

LAST YEAR, as part of a wage settlement, the city assumed the cost of hospital and surgical insurance premiums for employes' dependents and the premiums for the workers' life insurance. That "fringe benefit" will cost $24,000 to $25,000 a year.

There also was a general pay increase that must be paid again this year. In addition, the city took on last year a $600-a-month subsidy to an ambulance service firm, which amounts to $7,200 a year.

Forward - looking, thoughtful citizens will commend Council for courage in undertaking the tax rate, a move certain to meet with at least some opposition.

And those same citizens will expect Council and the administration to take a long, careful look at all requested expenditures. The officials bear the responsibility for wise use of public monies.

Citizens should expect to see more and more tangible results in the way of capital improvements and projects that will benefit the community generally.

GOP Should Have Zagged

Safest bet in the United States after the New Hampshire primary was Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's weekend decision to seek Democratic delegates before his party's nominating convention in August.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota demonstrated in New Hampshire there are delegates to be had for seeking. He had proved that President Johnson is vulnerable on the war issue.

Sen. McCarthy drew blood. He proved what no other Democrat, including chiefly the younger brother of the man whose presidential decision first escalated the Vietnam War in 1961, had risked political defeat to find out.

Sen. McCarthy came out of New Hampshire a national figure. He loomed larger than any Democrat, other than President Jonhson.

If Robert Kennedy were going to keep from being pushed into the background on the only issue he could argue with Lyndon Johnson, he had to move fast.

He moved fast.

Two Democratic senators now are seeking convention delegates as critics of the Johnson administration's war policy.

Experts are wondering what this is going to do to the Democratic party and guessing it may split it. Some of us with no claim to expertise on this matter are wondering what it already has done to Republicans.

It had been a certainty for some time that the Vietnam War was going to be the paramount issue in 1968, pollsters to the contrary notwithstanding. The Republican party's cue was to oppose the Johnson administration on the war.

Instead, Republicans kept falling over themselves on the war issue. It is no wonder that a couple of shrewd Democrats have picked up the loose ball and are running away with it.

This leaves Republicans in their usual election-year pickle of having to wage a campaign of me-tooism . . . only better.

We don't know how Robert Kennedy and Gene McCarthy are going to make out on their delegate hunt. But some Republican hopefuls have been bagged and are on their way to the taxidermists.

They zigged when they should have zagged.

Doctor's Challenge

Dr. Alex Fisher, well-known city pediatrician, began his duties over the weekend at Pittsburgh as chairman of the Tri-State Israelli Bond Organization.

Dr. Fisher, ever busy with his profession and duties in other civic endeavors, takes over leadership of an organization which just last year sold more than $2 million worth of bonds.

Those who know the direct, energetic doctor can easily see how the campaign will surpass the laudable mark of 1967. It would not surprise them if a quota were set for Cairo — under the Beaver County division — with the new chairman personally heading up an organization drive.

We join with others in saluting Dr. Fisher for his acceptance of a major challenge, and wish him good fortune.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Mr. Don Gosney is the holder of five political jobs. Some of these five jobs are quite rewarding (to him). One might think a person of these achievements is a member of what one living ex-president called "The Shakedown Party." Not so. Mr. Gosney is a Democrat.

Within the past fortnight he has likened Sen. Fulbright as an ally of Ho Chi Min of North Vietnam. In Saturday's paper he called Sen. Bobbie Kennedy "foolish", and added that Bobbie "couldn't shine his brother's shoes." It doesn't seem reasonable that Sen. Ted Kennedy would ask his older brother to shine his shoes.

The Democrats in Columbiana County will have to work hard this fall to elect a President, a U.S. Senator; a Congressman; two County Commissioners, a State Representative, and the various other county officials.

It might make our job considerably easier if our party officials would keep their lips buttoned up and not hamstring the rank and file members in the coming campaign. Even Nixon does not attack members of his own party, and he is about as unscrupulous as they come.

So please, officials, button up those chops.

Odd Facts

A recent study of Bedouins, the desert Arabs of Asia and Africa, revealed they have no heart or weight problems. One reason for this could be traced to their diet, which is mainly unleavened bread and sour milk from sheep, goats, camels and donkeys.

One of the fastest - growing of all plants is bamboo. Within six or eight weeks after it has pushed up throught he ground, the bamboo towers 50 feet or more.

Potatoes were probably introduced into North America in 1621, and may have been brought to Virginia from England by way of Bermuda. The potato itself originated in South America.

A Friend In Need?

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

As soon as Sen. Eugene McCarthy won 42% of the votes in New Hampshire, he received a telephone call from Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York.

"We won!" said Bobby.

"Huh?" Sen. McCarthy said.

"We really gave it to them, Gene, and I want you to know I'll never forget the role you played."

"Gee, thanks, Bobby."

"Don't thank me. Ethel and I were sitting around the living room reassessing — we always reassess on Tuesday, because that's the nurse's day off — and suddenly Ethel turned to me and said, 'Why don't you call Gene McCarthy? You haven't spoken to him in a long time.' On reassessment, it occured to me that she was right. So I just picked up the phone and here I am."

Art Buchwald

"It's good to talk to you, Bobby," Sen. McCarthy said.

"Not as good as it is to talk to you, Gene. Tell me what your plans are now."

"I thought I would run in the primaries in Wisconsin, Oregon, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Minnesota."

"GOOD IDEA, Gene. I knew Ethel was wrong."

"What do you mean, Ethel was wrong?"

"She said you looked very tired, and she thought the strain of the primaries was getting to you. I told her you were in great health for a man of your age, and you wouldn't want to give up now. It was probably the television lights that made you look so bad."

"I'm not tired at all, Bobby. As a matter of fact, I'm elated. I think I can take Johnson at the convention in August."

"That's what you think, huh?"

"You're darn tootin. And I want you to know, Bobby, if I make it, you can be my attorney general."

"That's nice. Now let's be serious a minute, Gene. If you go after the nomination after your showing in New Hampshire, people are going to accuse you of being opportunistic and ruthless. They'll also accuse you of splitting the party. I don't want people to say things like that about you."

"I don't want people to say that, either."

"My people have been reassessing what we could do to help you, and I believe we've come up with a solution. If I run in the primaries as a smokescreen for you, I will get all the flack, and at the same time if I do well I could turn my delegates over to you in Chicago."

"Gosh, Bobby, you'd do that for me?"

"WHY NOT? Everyone knows I have no interest in the election except to see that the best man gets the job. I'm one of the few politicians in this country who can take the presidency or leave it alone."

"But Bobby, I was looking forward to running in the primaries. It gave me an excuse to get away from those Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings."

"Gene, I'm not forcing you to do anything you don't want to do. It's not as if I'm begging you to step aside. You can do what you damn please, for all I care."

"You don't have to get sore, Bobby."

"Who's sore? All I say is that if I'm man enough to reassess my position, you should have the decency to reassess yours."

"I'll reassess it if you want me to, Bobby. But I still want to run."

"I told Ethel there was no sense calling you," Bobby said. "I should have reassessed this call in the first place."

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

We had big news in our house this week. We got a questionaire from a television survey company.

At last, we are real guinea pigs and have a chance to exert influence in the American way of life. It sure was nice of those people to ask us to participate in this survey, and we appreciate it.

The questionnaire came yesterday and for once we had something interesting to talk about at supper last night. Everybody was real thrilled.

On the whole, the family agreed it would be a lot of fun to keep a list for a week of all the TV programs we watch, except that some age-old differences of opinion were renewed.

"This will give me a chance to put in a meaningful plug for my favorite cartoon show, 'Road Runner,' " said one.

"My gosh," said another, "you're not going to admit to that great big survey company that we have that on our TV set."

"Why not?" asked the first. "You don't think we are going to tell them we watch that inane Pagan Place' show of yours, do you?"

"And how about that aging blonde with her weight-reducing, physical fitness program. We can't tell them we watch that," somebody said. "About all we can do to keep our self-respect is to admit we see most of those bloody western and detective shows. But then what will they think?"

The science fiction fan in the family forthrightly exclaimed, "I'm not ashamed to list all the outer space things I watch, because they really are very scientific and picture the world and universe as we will eventually know them in our lifetime."

A devious note crept in with, "Maybe we should just list all the classical programs and let it go at that. Like all the Shakespeare plays, ballet and opera."

"Yeh, but you don't watch them anyway. And when you stop to think about it, how many programs like that are there in a week?"

"I don't watch them," said the other. "But maybe the reason I don't watch them is because there aren't any. I couldn't list them anyhow if there aren't any."

"Gee, I sure hope we list 'Jinx the Cat,' 'Yogi Bear' and 'Huckleberry Hound,' " hoped the cartoon lover. "They got real people beat a mile.'

'They aren't even on anymore, that's how popular they were," said a nay-sayer.

"Yeah, but look what took their place. You should brag about your shows. I don't see why I can't have my own TV set in my room so I can watch what I want to. Nobody else ever wants to see anything good," said one of the dissenters.

This questionnaire didn't stop with asking about TV shows. It also wanted to know how about the deodorants, cigarettes, beer and headache remedies our family uses.

By the time the family got through arguing over what TV programs to list for the survey, everyone was in such a sweat they went out and bought extra deodorant, cigarettes, beer and headache pills.

Possibly that was the purpose of the survey.

But if you see any improvement in TV you can give us some of the credit, because the company said the purpose of the survey was to improve TV. That's what it said.

Happy viewing.

VICTOR RIESEL

Rocky's Rescue

NEW YORK: Influential labor leaders are preparing to throw money, manpower, millions of pieces of literature and even the AFL-CIO's political machine COPE behind Nelson Rockefeller's drive for the Republican presidential nomination.

Victor Riesel

The national network for such triphammer political action is ready for instant operation. These labor leaders have had it in mothballs for four years. They used it in 1964. And now they're planning to reactivate it.

By no means does this insinuate they're ready to abandon Lyndon Johnson for Nelson Rockefeller. They'd bolt Bob Kennedy, but not Lyndon Johnson.

It does mean they fear a Nixon-Reagan ticket just as they feared a Goldwater ticket away back then.

These labor chiefs see a powerful coast-to-coast Nixon-Reagan coalition smashing the New York governor's campaign before he can even get started.

The union strategists, whether AFL-CIO President George Meany or the rebellious Walter Reuther, want the GOP nomination to go to Mr. Rockefeller. Then, in the words of one influential national union president, "We can go home and really not worry who wins a Johnson-Rockefeller race."

Labor's campaign is being "softly" coordinated now, as it was in New York back in '64 by Mr. Rockefeller's soft-spoken labor specialist, Victor Borella. There are few labor doors he can't enter.

JUST THE OTHER WEEK, down in Bal Harbour, Fla., he was in a small group which spent a pleasant social evening dining with George Meany in the Sea View Hotel.

Behind the labor push for Mr. Rockefeller are some of the nation's most powerful unions. There are, of course, the Building and Construction Trades Dept.'s affiliates. Mr Rockefeller is their man because "he is the most constructive capitalist, financier and public official we've even known."

But there also is, for example, the powerful United Steelworkers of America, one of whose locals was in "Rocky's" advance guard in the 1964 New Hampshire primary.

There are the AFL-CIO's left-wing unions in the hospital field, as well as the conservative construction trades. There are the Retail Clerks union, the Building Service locals, and a string of middle-of-the roaders.

When the Rockefeller machine really swings into high speed, its labor mobilization headquarters will be in this city. But it will reach into Oregon where the AFL-CIO's COPE (Committee on Political Education) was the Rockefeller battering ram in the primaries four years ago.

Here the headquarters will be staffed by scores of union volunteers — some from the Office and Professional Employes, some from the Building Service Employes, and many from the construction trades.

To hit at Gov. Ronald Reagan behind his own stout political walls, the sub-surface political machine will tie up again with the California building and construction unions. In '64 the Rockefeller operation was directed on the West Coast by the California building unions' chief, Bryan P. Deavers, operating out of San Francisco.

LATE IN APRIL of that year, Deavers dispatched letters to all his colleagues in the building trades officialdom. He mobilized the unions' 27 regions. Then, with other California labor chiefs, the movement attempted to swing California's estimated 400,000 registered Republican unionists against Barry Goldwater.

No state with any labor concentration was overlooked. Even Teamsters Local 299 ran a pro-Rockefeller rally in Detroit.

The theory is simple. Contrary to what the professional ploitical pundits are saying, the labor leaders believe that a Nixon-Reagan ticket, or any ticket headed by Richard Nixon, will be tough to beat. Their private polls in some areas show that Mr. Johnson is running about a percentage point ahead of Mr. Nixon.

They know that they can't do business with Dick Nixon, the man they booed as far back as 1953 when he came to the AFL convention in St. Louis as a spokesman for President Eisenhower. Since then, they've fought and attacked him relentlessly.

So the labor movement wants to stop him before he can make the ticket. And they can only stop him with Mr. Rockefeller.

Then they can swing into the fight to beat the New Yorker by throwing their apparatus — active in some 1,500 cities — behind Lyndon Johnson.

But, should Rockefeller defeat their first choice, so what, they ask. Gov. Rockefeller has given New York labor many a break. He had a $1.50 an hour minimum wage before the federal government met that figure.

He pushed billions of dollars in public construction — almost 100 per cent unionized, with his encouragement. He led on medicaid. He has governed the state as though it were the nation — and he were its President.

They can live with him even if they lose the Congress. But, they say, first things first. And first, they want to stop Dick Nixon.

Facing Financial Reality

In introducing a boost in the city income tax Monday night, Council reacted to an eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation with financial realities that could not be ignored.

The plain fact is that the municipal government does not have enough anticipated revenue in sight for 1968 to maintain services the public has come to expect. And it has unpaid bills left over from 1967 that will be left unpaid for many months.

Although it is estimated conservatively that the two-tenths of one per cent increase will produce $86,000 more annually, the raise is so small and spread across such a large base that it will not work a hardship on anyone.

Local residents employed here would pay an additional two-tenths of one per cent. That means the rate will be an even $1 on each $100 of income, compared with the present 80 cents.

EAST LIVERPOOL residents employed at Midland would pay seven-tenths of one per cent locally, or 70 cents on each $100 of earnings. They now pay 40 cents per $100. The boost in their tax rate is planned by cutting the credits for taxes paid out of state at the same time the overall rate was boosted.

The additional income apparently would make it possible for Council to proceed with its previous plan to provide $12,000 to establish the office of coordinator of city "master plan" projects. The tentative proposal is to set up $8,000 for the salary and $4,000 for expenses. The coordinator is expected to make it possible for the city to secure federal aid projects that will return to the community manyfold the amount spent for his salary.

After months of deliberation, Council concluded that East Liverpool must strive to move forward to keep pace with its area, its state and its nation.

Other recurring annual expenses persuaded Council it must boost income to meet the outlay.

The most pressing obligation is represented by about $25,000 in unpaid street department obligations carried over from 1967.

LAST YEAR, as part of a wage settlement, the city assumed the cost of hospital and surgical insurance premiums for employes' dependents and the premiums for the workers' life insurance. That "fringe benefit" will cost $24,000 to $25,000 a year.

There also was a general pay increase that must be paid again this year. In addition, the city took on last year a $600-a-month subsidy to an ambulance service firm, which amounts to $7,200 a year.

Forward - looking, thoughtful citizens will commend Council for courage in undertaking the tax rate, a move certain to meet with at least some opposition.

And those same citizens will expect Council and the administration to take a long, careful look at all requested expenditures. The officials bear the responsibility for wise use of public monies.

Citizens should expect to see more and more tangible results in the way of capital improvements and projects that will benefit the community generally.

GOP Should Have Zagged

Safest bet in the United States after the New Hampshire primary was Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's weekend decision to seek Democratic delegates before his party's nominating convention in August.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota demonstrated in New Hampshire there are delegates to be had for seeking. He had proved that President Johnson is vulnerable on the war issue.

Sen. McCarthy drew blood. He proved what no other Democrat, including chiefly the younger brother of the man whose presidential decision first escalated the Vietnam War in 1961, had risked political defeat to find out.

Sen. McCarthy came out of New Hampshire a national figure. He loomed larger than any Democrat, other than President Jonhson.

If Robert Kennedy were going to keep from being pushed into the background on the only issue he could argue with Lyndon Johnson, he had to move fast.

He moved fast.

Two Democratic senators now are seeking convention delegates as critics of the Johnson administration's war policy.

Experts are wondering what this is going to do to the Democratic party and guessing it may split it. Some of us with no claim to expertise on this matter are wondering what it already has done to Republicans.

It had been a certainty for some time that the Vietnam War was going to be the paramount issue in 1968, pollsters to the contrary notwithstanding. The Republican party's cue was to oppose the Johnson administration on the war.

Instead, Republicans kept falling over themselves on the war issue. It is no wonder that a couple of shrewd Democrats have picked up the loose ball and are running away with it.

This leaves Republicans in their usual election-year pickle of having to wage a campaign of me-tooism . . . only better.

We don't know how Robert Kennedy and Gene McCarthy are going to make out on their delegate hunt. But some Republican hopefuls have been bagged and are on their way to the taxidermists.

They zigged when they should have zagged.

Doctor's Challenge

Dr. Alex Fisher, well-known city pediatrician, began his duties over the weekend at Pittsburgh as chairman of the Tri-State Israelli Bond Organization.

Dr. Fisher, ever busy with his profession and duties in other civic endeavors, takes over leadership of an organization which just last year sold more than $2 million worth of bonds.

Those who know the direct, energetic doctor can easily see how the campaign will surpass the laudable mark of 1967. It would not surprise them if a quota were set for Cairo — under the Beaver County division — with the new chairman personally heading up an organization drive.

We join with others in saluting Dr. Fisher for his acceptance of a major challenge, and wish him good fortune.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Mr. Don Gosney is the holder of five political jobs. Some of these five jobs are quite rewarding (to him). One might think a person of these achievements is a member of what one living ex-president called "The Shakedown Party." Not so. Mr. Gosney is a Democrat.

Within the past fortnight he has likened Sen. Fulbright as an ally of Ho Chi Min of North Vietnam. In Saturday's paper he called Sen. Bobbie Kennedy "foolish", and added that Bobbie "couldn't shine his brother's shoes." It doesn't seem reasonable that Sen. Ted Kennedy would ask his older brother to shine his shoes.

The Democrats in Columbiana County will have to work hard this fall to elect a President, a U.S. Senator; a Congressman; two County Commissioners, a State Representative, and the various other county officials.

It might make our job considerably easier if our party officials would keep their lips buttoned up and not hamstring the rank and file members in the coming campaign. Even Nixon does not attack members of his own party, and he is about as unscrupulous as they come.

So please, officials, button up those chops.

Odd Facts

A recent study of Bedouins, the desert Arabs of Asia and Africa, revealed they have no heart or weight problems. One reason for this could be traced to their diet, which is mainly unleavened bread and sour milk from sheep, goats, camels and donkeys.

One of the fastest - growing of all plants is bamboo. Within six or eight weeks after it has pushed up throught he ground, the bamboo towers 50 feet or more.

Potatoes were probably introduced into North America in 1621, and may have been brought to Virginia from England by way of Bermuda. The potato itself originated in South America.

A Friend In Need?

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

As soon as Sen. Eugene McCarthy won 42% of the votes in New Hampshire, he received a telephone call from Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York.

"We won!" said Bobby.

"Huh?" Sen. McCarthy said.

"We really gave it to them, Gene, and I want you to know I'll never forget the role you played."

"Gee, thanks, Bobby."

Art Buchwald

"Don't thank me. Ethel and I were sitting around the living room reassessing — we always reassess on Tuesday, because that's the nurse's day off — and suddenly Ethel turned to me and said, 'Why don't you call Gene McCarthy? You haven't spoken to him in a long time.' On reassessment, it occured to me that she was right. So I just picked up the phone and here I am."

"It's good to talk to you, Bobby," Sen. McCarthy said.

"Not as good as it is to talk to you, Gene. Tell me what your plans are now."

"I thought I would run in the primaries in Wisconsin, Oregon, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Minnesota."

"GOOD IDEA, Gene. I knew Ethel was wrong."

"What do you mean, Ethel was wrong?"

"She said you looked very tired, and she thought the strain of the primaries was getting to you. I told her you were in great health for a man of your age, and you wouldn't want to give up now. It was probably the television lights that made you look so bad."

"I'm not tired at all, Bobby. As a matter of fact, I'm elated. I think I can take Johnson at the convention in August."

"That's what you think, huh?"

"You're darn tootin. And I want you to know, Bobby, if I make it, you can be my attorney general."

"That's nice. Now let's be serious a minute, Gene. If you go after the nomination after your showing in New Hampshire, people are going to accuse you of being opportunistic and ruthless. They'll also accuse you of splitting the party. I don't want people to say things like that about you."

"I don't want people to say that, either."

"My people have been reassessing what we could do to help you, and I believe we've come up with a solution. If I run in the primaries as a smokescreen for you, I will get all the flack, and at the same time if I do well I could turn my delegates over to you in Chicago."

"Gosh, Bobby, you'd do that for me?"

"WHY NOT? Everyone knows I have no interest in the election except to see that the best man gets the job. I'm one of the few politicians in this country who can take the presidency or leave it alone."

"But Bobby, I was looking forward to running in the primaries. It gave me an excuse to get away from those Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings."

"Gene, I'm not forcing you to do anything you don't want to do. It's not as if I'm begging you to step aside. You can do what you damn please, for all I care."

"You don't have to get sore, Bobby."

"Who's sore? All I say is that if I'm man enough to reassess my position, you should have the decency to reassess yours."

"I'll reassess it if you want me to, Bobby. But I still want to run."

"I told Ethel there was no sense calling you," Bobby said. "I should have reassessed this call in the first place."

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

We had big news in our house this week. We got a questionaire from a television survey company.

At last, we are real guinea pigs and have a chance to exert influence in the American way of life. It sure was nice of those people to ask us to participate in this survey, and we appreciate it.

The questionnaire came yesterday and for once we had something interesting to talk about at supper last night. Everybody was real thrilled.

On the whole, the family agreed it would be a lot of fun to keep a list for a week of all the TV programs we watch, except that some age-old differences of opinion were renewed.

"This will give me a chance to put in a meaningful plug for my favorite cartoon show, 'Road Runner,' " said one.

"My gosh," said another, "you're not going to admit to that great big survey company that we have that on our TV set."

"Why not?" asked the first. "You don't think we are going to tell them we watch that inane Pagan Place' show of yours, do you?"

"And how about that aging blonde with her weight-reducing, physical fitness program. We can't tell them we watch that," somebody said. "About all we can do to keep our self-respect is to admit we see most of those bloody western and detective shows. But then what will they think?"

The science fiction fan in the family forthrightly exclaimed, "I'm not ashamed to list all the outer space things I watch, because they really are very scientific and picture the world and universe as we will eventually know them in our lifetime."

A devious note crept in with, "Maybe we should just list all the classical programs and let it go at that. Like all the Shakespeare plays, ballet and opera."

"Yeh, but you don't watch them anyway. And when you stop to think about it, how many programs like that are there in a week?"

"I don't watch them," said the other. "But maybe the reason I don't watch them is because there aren't any. I couldn't list them anyhow if there aren't any."

"Gee, I sure hope we list 'Jinx the Cat,' 'Yogi Bear' and 'Huckleberry Hound,' " hoped the cartoon lover. "They got real people beat a mile.'

'They aren't even on anymore, that's how popular they were," said a nay-sayer.

"Yeah, but look what took their place. You should brag about your shows. I don't see why I can't have my own TV set in my room so I can watch what I want to. Nobody else ever wants to see anything good," said one of the dissenters.

This questionnaire didn't stop with asking about TV shows. It also wanted to know how about the deodorants, cigarettes, beer and headache remedies our family uses.

By the time the family got through arguing over what TV programs to list for the survey, everyone was in such a sweat they went out and bought extra deodorant, cigarettes, beer and headache pills.

Possibly that was the purpose of the survey.

But if you see any improvement in TV you can give us some of the credit, because the company said the purpose of the survey was to improve TV. That's what it said.

Happy viewing.

VICTOR RIESEL

Rocky's Rescue

NEW YORK: Influential labor leaders are preparing to throw money, manpower, millions of pieces of literature and even the AFL-CIO's political machine COPE behind Nelson Rockefeller's drive for the Republican presidential nomination.

Victor Riesel

The national network for such triphammer political action is ready for instant operation. These labor leaders have had it in mothballs for four years. They used it in 1964. And now they're planning to reactivate it.

By no means does this insinuate they're ready to abandon Lyndon Johnson for Nelson Rockefeller. They'd bolt Bob Kennedy, but not Lyndon Johnson.

It does mean they fear a Nixon-Reagan ticket just as they feared a Goldwater ticket away back then.

These labor chiefs see a powerful coast-to-coast Nixon-Reagan coalition smashing the New York governor's campaign before he can even get started.

The union strategists, whether AFL-CIO President George Meany or the rebellious Walter Reuther, want the GOP nomination to go to Mr. Rockefeller. Then, in the words of one influential national union president, "We can go home and really not worry who wins a Johnson-Rockefeller race."

Labor's campaign is being "softly" coordinated now, as it was in New York back in '64 by Mr. Rockefeller's soft-spoken labor specialist, Victor Borella. There are few labor doors he can't enter.

JUST THE OTHER WEEK, down in Bal Harbour, Fla., he was in a small group which spent a pleasant social evening dining with George Meany in the Sea View Hotel.

Behind the labor push for Mr. Rockefeller are some of the nation's most powerful unions. There are, of course, the Building and Construction Trades Dept.'s affiliates. Mr Rockefeller is their man because "he is the most constructive capitalist, financier and public official we've even known."

But there also is, for example, the powerful United Steelworkers of America, one of whose locals was in "Rocky's" advance guard in the 1964 New Hampshire primary.

There are the AFL-CIO's left-wing unions in the hospital field, as well as the conservative construction trades. There are the Retail Clerks union, the Building Service locals, and a string of middle-of-the roaders.

When the Rockefeller machine really swings into high speed, its labor mobilization headquarters will be in this city. But it will reach into Oregon where the AFL-CIO's COPE (Committee on Political Education) was the Rockefeller battering ram in the primaries four years ago.

Here the headquarters will be staffed by scores of union volunteers — some from the Office and Professional Employes, some from the Building Service Employes, and many from the construction trades.

To hit at Gov. Ronald Reagan behind his own stout political walls, the sub-surface political machine will tie up again with the California building and construction unions. In '64 the Rockefeller operation was directed on the West Coast by the California building unions' chief, Bryan P. Deavers, operating out of San Francisco.

LATE IN APRIL of that year, Deavers dispatched letters to all his colleagues in the building trades officialdom. He mobilized the unions' 27 regions. Then, with other California labor chiefs, the movement attempted to swing California's estimated 400,000 registered Republican unionists against Barry Goldwater.

No state with any labor concentration was overlooked. Even Teamsters Local 299 ran a pro-Rockefeller rally in Detroit.

The theory is simple. Contrary to what the professional ploitical pundits are saying, the labor leaders believe that a Nixon-Reagan ticket, or any ticket headed by Richard Nixon, will be tough to beat. Their private polls in some areas show that Mr. Johnson is running about a percentage point ahead of Mr. Nixon.

They know that they can't do business with Dick Nixon, the man they booed as far back as 1953 when he came to the AFL convention in St. Louis as a spokesman for President Eisenhower. Since then, they've fought and attacked him relentlessly.

So the labor movement wants to stop him before he can make the ticket. And they can only stop him with Mr. Rockefeller.

Then they can swing into the fight to beat the New Yorker by throwing their apparatus — active in some 1,500 cities — behind Lyndon Johnson.

But, should Rockefeller defeat their first choice, so what, they ask. Gov. Rockefeller has given New York labor many a break. He had a $1.50 an hour minimum wage before the federal government met that figure.

He pushed billions of dollars in public construction — almost 100 per cent unionized, with his encouragement. He led on medicaid. He has governed the state as though it were the nation — and he were its President.

They can live with him even if they lose the Congress. But, they say, first things first. And first, they want to stop Dick Nixon.

To Meet Fall Needs

Board Will Ask Bids On 3 Buses

With the opening of four new buildings in September, the East Liverpool board of education was informed Monday night that it will need three more buses to assure adequate student transportation.

Zigmont Rataiczak, assigned by the Ohio Department of Education to assist boards in this area with their transportation problems, told members they are making good use of the buses currently in service, but the additional vehicles will be necessary since about 623 more pupils will have to be transported.

Rataiczak said the buses now make about 41 trips each morning, with each bus making approximately 3.4 trips and carrying a total of 200 students on each run. The East Liverpool school district covers aboout 14 square miles.

HE POINTED to other districts in his area, however, which transport approximately the same number of pupils over 1,604 miles each day, using 27 buses which make 1.2 trips each and carry only a total of 91 pupils on each bus.

The 14 buses in East Liverpool daily carry about 2,400 students to the various elementary and senior high buildings.

State funds would pay for 61 per cent of the new buses with the local district supplying the remainder.

About $30,000 was allocated this year to finance the bus program, but Supt. Paul Blair estimates about $46,000 will be needed. He said the difference, about $16,000, will be paid during the summer to the local board and that money might be used to purchase the new vehicles.

The board will advertise for bids for three new 66 - passenger buses that meet local, state and national safety standards.

A LETTER from the City Federation of Parent - Teaacher Organizations concerning the need for a sex education program in the school system was presented by Samuel Brown, board president.

The letter pointed out local groups recently have held discussions on the matter, with considerable interest expressed.

Complete factual information should be made available, the letter advised, with the group going on record in support of any efforts by the board to implement such a program.

Asst. Supt. Carl Pelini added the program is being outlined now.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, a board member, said serious consideration must be given to the matter of an instructor.

"We want that person to be well qualified." Brown added.

Mrs. Dunlop said limited materials in the field already are available, awaiting implementation into a total program.

FIVE TEACHERS were granted continuing contracts. They are Eleanor June Rice, Westgate elementary; Donald Hunsberger, instrumental music at Westgate Junior High; Robert McNea, head football coach and physical education instructor in the high school; Ralph Hutchinson. high school Spanish instructor, and Phoebe Giambroni, first grade teacher at McKinley school.

All the teachers have been given eight - year professional certificates by the state, Blair pointed out.

Two rentals were approved. The Kiwanis Club will use Westgate School cafeteria March 30 for a pancake supper and James Tice will use the East Junior High gymnasium March 27-29 for a 6th, 7th and 8th grade basketball tournament.

Pearl Stamateris was appointed secretary in the high school principal's office during the absence of Mrs. Margaret Poe. She is on maternity leave.

Bills presented for payment totaled $11,319.27. Federal bills totaled $200.36. The board will ask Tony Laneve, who coordinates the federal school programs here, to seek additional federal funds for projects if they are available.

A deficit of $30,574.28 was reported in the general fund, due to the fact that payrolls are due this week, Clerk Kathryn Leibschner said. Presently the board has total operating cash amounting to $211,364.28. There is a balance of $502,675.20, in the new school fund. A total of $15,216.84 has been encumbered for repairs and maintenance.

Calcutta Department Tests Spray Nozzle

A new spray nozzle was tested during a meeting of the Calcutta volunteer firemen Monday night.

New dress caps are being ordered, Norman Neal, president, announced. Twelve attended.

Nomination of officers will be heard March 25.

It was reported the new overhead door is too short and must be replaced.

Home owners in the area will be asked to check with their insurance agents to determine if a fire rider agreement has been sent the department.

Tom Dailey and Randy Seckman, Boy Scouts, are servicing and cleaning the trucks as part of their civic service project.

He said the pattern of shipping expenditures has been examined by AID and that there are 16 nations—recipients of major U.S. aid—in which it would make sense to apply a new procedure on port charges.

Poats Names Countries

The countries he named are India, Vietnam, Pakistan, Korea, the Philippines, Indonesia; Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Columbia, Ecuador, Chile, Peru, the Congo, Tunisia, Morocco and Turkey.

Poats said that since 1965 a practical means has been sought to avoid payment of the port-cost component of freight bills.

The question has come up particularly on donations of surplus food under the food-for-freedom program and from U.S. voluntary agencies which are sending assistance abroad on a humanitarian basis.

"These people-to-people donation programs derive much of their benefit from the manner in which assistance bestowed," he said. "Therefore, until our own recent severe balance-of-payments difficulties made it necessary we hesitated to haggle with recipients over the 2 per cent of donated commodity value represented by port charges."

The allied commands reported two other ground actions Monday in which 56 of the enemy were killed. Troops of the U.S. 11th Light Infantry Brigade killed 11 guerrillas along the coast 310 miles northeast of Saigon while suffering no casualties. South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 45 enemy soldiers in a battle 35 miles southwest of Saigon and said their own casualties were light.

In Operation Quyet Thang, the biggest allied offensive of the war, government troops sweeping five miles north of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base, found a cache containing 80 122mm rockets, 1,200 mortar rounds, 138 warheads for bazooka-type rockets, 30 recoilless rifle shells and half a ton of TNT.

821 Of Enemy Killed

No major ground action was reported in the eight-day-old operation. The U.S. Command reported 821 enemy soldiers and 32 Americans have been killed, while a government spokesman said South Vietnamese losses have been light.

U.S. headquarters reported an Air Force F100 Super Sabre jet and two helicopters were shot down Monday.

The Super Sabre, 811th U.S. combat plane officially reported lost over North Vietnam, was downed in the panhandle 30 miles southwest of Dong Hoi. One crewman was rescued, the other was missing.

One crewman was wounded in a helicopter crash 115 miles west of Saigon, while two crewmen were wounded when their chopper was shot down 110 miles southwest of the capital.

U.S. planes flew 71 missions over North Vietnam Monday. Among their targets were the Kien An airfield six miles southwest of Haiphong, a power plant 27 miles northeast of the port city, and a highway ferry 18 miles south of Hanoi.

Girl, 4, Safe After Kidnap; Man Arrested

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — FBI agents safely returned dark-eyed, curly-haired Dana Lynn Kelfer, 4, to her parents late Monday night, about 10 hours after she was abducted at gunpoint by a man who demanded $30,000 ransom.

The FBI said an agent found the girl bound and gagged in an isolated barn. She had apparently spent hours alone in the dark.

A 56-year-old television repairman led agents to the barn about 30 miles north of San Antonio. The man was arrested after five times driving past a point where authorities, acting on telephoned instructions, had placed the $30,000 ransom.

Bexar County authorities took custody of the man. He was jailed after giving a statement but no charges were filed immediately.

To Meet Fall Needs

Board Will Ask Bids On 3 Buses

With the opening of four new buildings in September, the East Liverpool board of education was informed Monday night that it will need three more buses to assure adequate student transportation.

Zigmont Rataiczak, assigned by the Ohio Department of Education to assist boards in this area with their transportation problems, told members they are making good use of the buses currently in service, but the additional vehicles will be necessary since about 623 more pupils will have to be transported.

Rataiczak said the buses now make about 41 trips each morning, with each bus making approximately 3.4 trips and carrying a total of 200 students on each run. The East Liverpool school district covers aboout 14 square miles.

HE POINTED to other districts in his area, however, which transport approximately the same number of pupils over 1,604 miles each day, using 27 buses which make 1.2 trips each and carry only a total of 91 pupils on each bus.

The 14 buses in East Liverpool daily carry about 2,400 students to the various elementary and senior high buildings.

State funds would pay for 61 per cent of the new buses with the local district supplying the remainder.

About $30,000 was allocated this year to finance the bus program, but Supt. Paul Blair estimates about $46,000 will be needed. He said the difference, about $16,000, will be paid during the summer to the local board and that money might be used to purchase the new vehicles.

The board will advertise for bids for three new 66 - passenger buses that meet local, state and national safety standards.

A LETTER from the City Federation of Parent - Teaacher Organizations concerning the need for a sex education program in the school system was presented by Samuel Brown, board president.

The letter pointed out local groups recently have held discussions on the matter, with considerable interest expressed.

Complete factual information should be made available, the letter advised, with the group going on record in support of any efforts by the board to implement such a program.

Asst. Supt. Carl Pelini added the program is being outlined now.

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, a board member, said serious consideration must be given to the matter of an instructor.

"We want that person to be well qualified." Brown added.

Mrs. Dunlop said limited materials in the field already are available, awaiting implementation into a total program.

FIVE TEACHERS were granted continuing contracts. They are Eleanor June Rice, Westgate elementary; Donald Hunsberger, instrumental music at Westgate Junior High; Robert McNea, head football coach and physical education instructor in the high school; Ralph Hutchinson. high school Spanish instructor, and Phoebe Giambroni, first grade teacher at McKinley school.

All the teachers have been given eight - year professional certificates by the state, Blair pointed out.

Two rentals were approved. The Kiwanis Club will use Westgate School cafeteria March 30 for a pancake supper and James Tice will use the East Junior High gymnasium March 27-29 for a 6th, 7th and 8th grade basketball tournament.

Pearl Stamateris was appointed secretary in the high school principal's office during the absence of Mrs. Margaret Poe. She is on maternity leave.

Bills presented for payment totaled $11,319.27. Federal bills totaled $200.36. The board will ask Tony Laneve, who coordinates the federal school programs here, to seek additional federal funds for projects if they are available.

A deficit of $30,574.28 was reported in the general fund, due to the fact that payrolls are due this week, Clerk Kathryn Leibschner said. Presently the board has total operating cash amounting to $211,364.28. There is a balance of $502,675.20, in the new school fund. A total of $15,216.84 has been encumbered for repairs and maintenance.

Calcutta Department Tests Spray Nozzle

A new spray nozzle was tested during a meeting of the Calcutta volunteer firemen Monday night.

New dress caps are being ordered, Norman Neal, president, announced. Twelve attended.

Nomination of officers will be heard March 25.

It was reported the new overhead door is too short and must be replaced.

Home owners in the area will be asked to check with their insurance agents to determine if a fire rider agreement has been sent the department.

Tom Dailey and Randy Seckman, Boy Scouts, are servicing and cleaning the trucks as part of their civic service project.

tled with for several years," Poats said. "It is not easily solved—and we have discovered that what may appear to be solutions on paper are often simply not workable in reality."

He said the pattern of shipping expenditures has been examined by AID and that there are 16 nations—recipients of major U.S. aid—in which it would make sense to apply a new procedure on port charges.

Poats Names Countries

The countries he named are India, Vietnam, Pakistan, Korea, the Philippines, Indonesia; Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Columbia, Ecuador, Chile, Peru, the Congo, Tunisia, Morocco and Turkey.

Poats said that since 1965 a practical means has been sought to avoid payment of the port-cost component of freight bills.

The question has come up particularly on donations of surplus food under the food-for-freedom program and from U.S. voluntary agencies which are sending assistance abroad on a humanitarian basis.

"These people-to-people donation programs derive much of their benefit from the manner in which assistance bestowed," he said. "Therefore, until our own recent severe balance-of-payments difficulties made it necessary we hesitated to haggle with recipients over the 2 per cent of donated commodity value represented by port charges."

James Whistler, the noted artist, once sued John Ruskin for libel. Whistler won damages of one farthing and had this coin made into a watch charm and wore it proudly.

missions Monday afternoon and this morning also hit enemy troop positions 16 miles north of Ban Me Thuot, in the Central Highlands.

The allied commands reported two other ground actions Monday in which 56 of the enemy were killed. Troops of the U.S. 11th Light Infantry Brigade killed 11 guerrillas along the coast 310 miles northeast of Saigon while suffering no casualties. South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 45 enemy soldiers in a battle 35 miles southwest of Saigon and said their own casualties were light.

In Operation Quyet Thang, the biggest allied offensive of the war, government troops sweeping five miles north of Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base, found a cache containing 80 122mm rockets, 1,200 mortar rounds, 138 warheads for bazooka-type rockets, 30 recoilless rifle shells and half a ton of TNT.

821 Of Enemy Killed

No major ground action was reported in the eight-day-old operation. The U.S. Command reported 821 enemy soldiers and 32 Americans have been killed, while a government spokesman said South Vietnamese losses have been light.

U.S. headquarters reported an Air Force F100 Super Sabre jet and two helicopters were shot down Monday.

The Super Sabre, 811th U.S. combat plane officially reported lost over North Vietnam, was downed in the panhandle 30 miles southwest of Dong Hoi. One crewman was rescued, the other was missing.

One crewman was wounded in a helicopter crash 115 miles west of Saigon, while two crewmen were wounded when their chopper was shot down 110 miles southwest of the capital.

U.S. planes flew 71 missions over North Vietnam Monday. Among their targets were the Kien An airfield six miles southwest of Haiphong, a power plant 27 miles northeast of the port city, and a highway ferry 18 miles south of Hanoi.

Girl, 4, Safe After Kidnap; Man Arrested

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — FBI agents safely returned dark-eyed, curly-haired Dana Lynn Kelfer, 4, to her parents late Monday night, about 10 hours after she was abducted at gunpoint by a man who demanded $30,000 ransom.

The FBI said an agent found the girl bound and gagged in an isolated barn. She had apparently spent hours alone in the dark.

A 56-year-old television repairman led agents to the barn about 30 miles north of San Antonio. The man was arrested after five times driving past a point where authorities, acting on telephoned instructions, had placed the $30,000 ransom.

Bexar County authorities took custody of the man. He was jailed after giving a statement but no charges were filed immediately.

U.S. Officer Hits Report Of Bomb Tip

SAIGON (AP) — Six North Vietnamese defectors said today that Hanoi's intelligence sources provide as much as 24 hours advance notice and the approximate location of U.S. B52 bombing raids in South Vietnam.

"Preposterous," said a senior U.S. officer on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff.

"The thing that disproves this statement is that many of the missions aren't even planned 24 hours in advance," the officer said.

The information has enabled North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces to dig in and protect themselves from the huge bomb loads dropped by the high-altitude bombers, the defecotrs said.

Nguyen Cong Tan, a political officer who defected last summer, told newsmen at a Saigon news conference "the North Vietnamese army knows 24 hours in advance about the B52 bombing" from agents in many foreign countries. He said he did not know specifically how Hanoi gets the notice.

La Thanh Dong, 33, a first lieutenant who defected near Khe Sanh last month, said: "Through foreign agents and the Central Security Service in Hanoi we know each B52 strike 24 hours before they take off and the tentative coordinates" locating the attack on the map

The B52s fly to targets in Vietnam mainly from Guam and Thailand. It is possible, U.S. officials admit, for Russian trawlers to pass on information about the planes taking off from Guam, and for agents in Thailand to do likewise.

But this would give a few hours warning at most. Earlier warning would mean that the Communists are intercepting coded U.S. military messages or that they have other access to advance information on the B52 raids.

Lt. Dong said every time North Vietnamese troops in his area were warned a B52 raid was on the way, they hid in trenches.

"Maybe nothing would happen," he said, "but about 50 per cent of the time the B52s did come."

Luong Dinh Du, one of the defectors, said he had seen a B52 strike wipe out one-quarter of his battalion.

Bill Eyed On Driver Liability Insurance

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate Highways Committee is considering today a bill that would require all Pennsylvania drivers to have liability insurance.

The compulsory insurance bill was part of a package of five motor vehicle bills introduced Monday by Sen. Louis G. Hill, D-Philadelphia, and several other Democratic senators.

The bill would require drivers to show proof of liability coverage before registering a vehicle in the state. Moreover, drivers would have to show proof of such coverage to have their vehicles inspected.

Violators would face penalties of fines of up to $500, 50 days in jail, or both.

prices provided by the Nov. 18 devaluation of the pound and get Britain's foreign trade balance out of the red. That can be done only by curtailing imports which are not essential to export industries.

The government has already announced a number of military cutbacks and other economies designed to reduce its spending by $2.4 billion by 1970.

The new budget is designed to complete that economic program by taking from the British people an estimated $1.2 billion in purchasing power during the fiscal year beginning April 1. The idea is to keep the people, who have been on a spending spree for weeks, from buying imported goods or domestic products which could be exported to earn money abroad.

Britain's foreign payments have been in the red since 1962. Last year the deficit was a massive 540 million pounds, or $1.29 billion at the post-devaluation exchange rate.

Wallace Group At Weirton Gets 300 Signatures

WEIRTON — Some 300 signatures were obtained here Monday afternoon by the American Party in the drive to have former Alabama Gov. George Wallace's name placed on the November ballot, according to state Rep. Lewis Headley of Alabama.

Wallace supporters must collect 8,000 signatures in the state. Signatures must be recorded with the secretary of state's office at Charleston, no later than May 13, the day before the state's primary election.

Persons signing the petition in support of Wallace have been reminded that they automatically forfeit their right to vote in the primary except for nonpartisan school board races.

The law states that the signature of a person on a petition for a third party candidate is the vote of the signer.

Therefore, no person who supports that party, no matter what his previous registration, has a right to support a candidate in either of the two major parties.

Street To Be Closed During Bridge Work

LISBON—A Salineville bridge on E. Main St. extension over Nancy Run is being torn out.

Ursu said the material has been fabricated and will be shipped as soon as the crew removes the old bridge and repairs the existing abutments.

U.S. Officer Hits Report Of Bomb Tip

SAIGON (AP) — Six North Vietnamese defectors said today that Hanoi's intelligence sources provide as much as 24 hours advance notice and the approximate location of U.S. B52 bombing raids in South Vietnam.

"Preposterous," said a senior U.S. officer on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff.

"The thing that disproves this statement is that many of the missions aren't even planned 24 hours in advance," the officer said.

The information has enabled North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces to dig in and protect themselves from the huge bomb loads dropped by the high-altitude bombers, the defecotrs said.

Nguyen Cong Tan, a political officer who defected last summer, told newsmen at a Saigon news conference "the North Vietnamese army knows 24 hours in advance about the B52 bombing" from agents in many foreign countries. He said he did not know specifically how Hanoi gets the notice.

La Thanh Dong, 33, a first lieutenant who defected near Khe Sanh last month, said: "Through foreign agents and the Central Security Service in Hanoi we know each B52 strike 24 hours before they take off and the tentative coordinates" locating the attack on the map

The B52s fly to targets in Vietnam mainly from Guam and Thailand. It is possible, U.S. officials admit, for Russian trawlers to pass on information about the planes taking off from Guam, and for agents in Thailand to do likewise.

But this would give a few hours warning at most. Earlier warning would mean that the Communists are intercepting coded U.S. military messages or that they have other access to advance information on the B52 raids.

Lt. Dong said every time North Vietnamese troops in his area were warned a B52 raid was on the way, they hid in trenches.

"Maybe nothing would happen," he said, "but about 50 per cent of the time the B52s did come."

Luong Dinh Du, one of the defectors, said he had seen a B52 strike wipe out one-quarter of his battalion.

Bill Eyed On Driver Liability Insurance

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate Highways Committee is considering today a bill that would require all Pennsylvania drivers to have liability insurance.

The compulsory insurance bill was part of a package of five motor vehicle bills introduced Monday by Sen. Louis G. Hill, D-Philadelphia, and several other Democratic senators.

The bill would require drivers to show proof of liability coverage before registering a vehicle in the state. Moreover, drivers would have to show proof of such coverage to have their vehicles inspected.

Violators would face penalties of fines of up to $500, 50 days in jail, or both.

prices provided by the Nov. 18 devaluation of the pound and get Britain's foreign trade balance out of the red. That can be done only by curtailing imports which are not essential to export industries.

The government has already announced a number of military cutbacks and other economies designed to reduce its spending by $2.4 billion by 1970.

The new budget is designed to complete that economic program by taking from the British people an estimated $1.2 billion in purchasing power during the fiscal year beginning April 1. The idea is to keep the people, who have been on a spending spree for weeks, from buying imported goods or domestic products which could be exported to earn money abroad.

Britain's foreign payments have been in the red since 1962. Last year the deficit was a massive 540 million pounds, or $1.29 billion at the post-devaluation exchange rate.

Wallace Group At Weirton Gets 300 Signatures

WEIRTON — Some 300 signatures were obtained here Monday afternoon by the American Party in the drive to have former Alabama Gov. George Wallace's name placed on the November ballot, according to state Rep. Lewis Headley of Alabama.

Wallace supporters must collect 8,000 signatures in the state. Signatures must be recorded with the secretary of state's office at Charleston, no later than May 13, the day before the state's primary election.

Persons signing the petition in support of Wallace have been reminded that they automatically forfeit their right to vote in the primary except for nonpartisan school board races.

The law states that the signature of a person on a petition for a third party candidate is the vote of the signer.

Therefore, no person who supports that party, no matter what his previous registration, has a right to support a candidate in either of the two major parties.

Street To Be Closed During Bridge Work

LISBON—A Salineville bridge on E. Main St. extension over Nancy Run is being torn out.

Ursu said the material has been fabricated and will be shipped as soon as the crew removes the old bridge and repairs the existing abutments.

The DOCTOR Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Q—For my angina my doctor is giving me white tablets but my friend, who also has angina, is taking pink pills. Do you think my doctor is giving me the right medicine?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Granted that pink pills are prettier, both probably contain the same drug or closely related drugs. On the other hand, your friends disease may not be identical with yours. If your tablets prevent or relieve your attacks, you are getting the right medicine. Trust your doctor and don't be misled by idle conjectures.

Q — What causes adhesions? When my gall bladder was removed the surgeon found adhesions. Could this have been caused by a motorcycle accident in which I incurred internal injuries?

A — Most adhesions in the abdominal cavity are a growing together of a cut surface or a surface inflamed by an infection and an adjacent structure. Internal injuries could be responsible, but this is one of those things that would be hard to prove.

Q — Can anxiety neurosis cause one to feel weak? What treatment is best?

A — Anxiety neurosis may cause a variety of symptoms, including weakness, breathlessness, sweating and trembling. Treatment usually requires a careful search by a specialist in nervous diseases for the underlying cause. The victim must then work out for himself a calmer way of life.

Q — What is Butibel used for? What are its side effects?

A — This is a barbiturate and belladonna that is given for heartburn, peptic ulcer, colitis and other diseases of the gastrointestinal tract. The barbiturate is habit - forming and the belladonna may cause dry mouth and blurred vision.

Q — My grandson, 9, has taken many bottles of Chloromycetin. I recently read that 350 Americans have died from the effects of this drug. How dangerous is it?

A — This valuable antibiotic is recommended for periods not exceeding three weeks. Prolonged treatment is likely to cause a dangerous reduction in both red and white blood cell counts.

Q — Why would a healthy, active 20-year-old boy feel cold all the time?

A — This may be caused by poor circulation or a thyroid deficiency. The commonest cause, however, is neurocirculatory asthenia. This is due to a chronic state of nervous tension.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Drive Launched To Aid Disabled Rogers Resident

A trust fund has been established at the New Waterford Bank by a group seeking contributions for the purchase of an electric wheelchair for a disabled Rogers man.

George Barnhouse, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dale Barnhouse of Rogers, was injured in an auto accident Sept. 25, 1959, and has been a quadraplegic since.

Mrs. Alberta Crawford of Rogers RD 1, chairman of the drive, said he is at times able to lift a cup with both hands or sometimes feed himself.

His father is employed by a Columbiana firm and does odd jobs. His mother is under the care of a physician for a heart and nerve condition and is not able to care for her son fully, especially in lifting him.

It is hoped that funds can be obtained for purchase of an electric wheelchair and body lift so that he could move about and care partly for himself and to aid his mother, Mrs. Crawford said.

Contributions may be sent to the George Barnhouse Wheelchair and Lift Fund in care of the New Waterford Bank.

The DOCTOR Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Q—For my angina my doctor is giving me white tablets but my friend, who also has angina, is taking pink pills. Do you think my doctor is giving me the right medicine?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Granted that pink pills are prettier, both probably contain the same drug or closely related drugs. On the other hand, your friends disease may not be identical with yours. If your tablets prevent or relieve your attacks, you are getting the right medicine. Trust your doctor and don't be misled by idle conjectures.

Q — What causes adhesions? When my gall bladder was removed the surgeon found adhesions. Could this have been caused by a motorcycle accident in which I incurred internal injuries?

A — Most adhesions in the abdominal cavity are a growing together of a cut surface or a surface inflamed by an infection and an adjacent structure. Internal injuries could be responsible, but this is one of those things that would be hard to prove.

Q — Can anxiety neurosis cause one to feel weak? What treatment is best?

A — Anxiety neurosis may cause a variety of symptoms, including weakness, breathlessness, sweating and trembling. Treatment usually requires a careful search by a specialist in nervous diseases for the underlying cause. The victim must then work out for himself a calmer way of life.

Q — What is Butibel used for? What are its side effects?

A — This is a barbiturate and belladonna that is given for heartburn, peptic ulcer, colitis and other diseases of the gastrointestinal tract. The barbiturate is habit - forming and the belladonna may cause dry mouth and blurred vision.

Q — My grandson, 9, has taken many bottles of Chloromycetin. I recently read that 350 Americans have died from the effects of this drug. How dangerous is it?

A — This valuable antibiotic is recommended for periods not exceeding three weeks. Prolonged treatment is likely to cause a dangerous reduction in both red and white blood cell counts.

Q — Why would a healthy, active 20-year-old boy feel cold all the time?

A — This may be caused by poor circulation or a thyroid deficiency. The commonest cause, however, is neurocirculatory asthenia. This is due to a chronic state of nervous tension.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Drive Launched To Aid Disabled Rogers Resident

A trust fund has been established at the New Waterford Bank by a group seeking contributions for the purchase of an electric wheelchair for a disabled Rogers man.

George Barnhouse, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dale Barnhouse of Rogers, was injured in an auto accident Sept. 25, 1959, and has been a quadraplegic since.

Mrs. Alberta Crawford of Rogers RD 1, chairman of the drive, said he is at times able to lift a cup with both hands or sometimes feed himself.

His father is employed by a Columbiana firm and does odd jobs. His mother is under the care of a physician for a heart and nerve condition and is not able to care for her son fully, especially in lifting him.

It is hoped that funds can be obtained for purchase of an electric wheelchair and body lift so that he could move about and care partly for himself and to aid his mother, Mrs. Crawford said.

Contributions may be sent to the George Barnhouse Wheelchair and Lift Fund in care of the New Waterford Bank.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do when the wax polish on my furniture begins to take on a streaky appearance?

A.—Probably it's time to remove that old wax which has become mixed with dirt and has collected on the surface. Mild soap and lukewarm water will usually do the job, but don't let the soap remain on the furniture any length of time. Be sure also to polish or rewax the furniture immediately after washing it.

Q.—How can I deal with a fresh grease or oil stain on a fabric?

A.—Sprinkle with talcum powder or cornstarch, rub this well into the stain, let stand until the powder has absorbed the grease, then mrush off. Repeat as often as may be necessary.

Q.—How can I remove crayon marks from a parchment-type lampshade?

A.—By rubbing gently over the spots with a ball of soft bread.

Q. — How can I remove match scratches from white painted surfaces?

A. — By rubbing over these blemishes with a cut lemon.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do when the wax polish on my furniture begins to take on a streaky appearance?

A.—Probably it's time to remove that old wax which has become mixed with dirt and has collected on the surface. Mild soap and lukewarm water will usually do the job, but don't let the soap remain on the furniture any length of time. Be sure also to polish or rewax the furniture immediately after washing it.

Q.—How can I deal with a fresh grease or oil stain on a fabric?

A.—Sprinkle with talcum powder or cornstarch, rub this well into the stain, let stand until the powder has absorbed the grease, then mrush off. Repeat as often as may be necessary.

Q.—How can I remove crayon marks from a parchment-type lampshade?

A.—By rubbing gently over the spots with a ball of soft bread.

Q. — How can I remove match scratches from white painted surfaces?

A. — By rubbing over these blemishes with a cut lemon.

Dinner Held For DeMolay

Members of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and their master councilor were guests during the Legion of Honor dinner meeting Monday night at the Inn Town Motel.

Guest speaker was Earl Kinds. Members of the Legion of Honor are Robert Kidd, Homer Hoffman, Dr. Alex Fisher, Mayor George E. Willshaw, Thomas W. Eason, I. J. Vorndran, Postmaster Samuel K. Brown, James Walker, Merrill Hall, James Batey and Don Eckert.

Nineteen DeMolay boys were guests along with four sponsors and the 11 legion members.

Next year's dinner meeting also will be held on March 18. Brown and Walker will serve on the banquet committee and Fisher and Kidd on the program committee. Willshaw and Hall are co-treasurers.

Harding chapter is joining with more than 2,500 chapters throughout Ohio in observance of DeMolay Week, which began March 17 and will end March 24.

Mayor Willshaw issued a proclamation today in connection with the observance. He asked the public to "'join in saluting the young men of the Order of DeMolay and in expressing our grateful appreciation of the fine examples set by these young leaders in contributing to the welfare and character of other young men iin this community."

Robert E. Matheny, master councilor, said the 1968 theme, "Young Men On The Go," was chosen because "it is indicative of the growth and activities of the Harding chapter." Matheny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Matheny.

A special tribute to DeMolay and its ideals will be offered during a chapter inspection Thursday night at 7 in the Masonic Temple. Other activities are being planned. Chapter adviser is Homer D. Hoffman of Hoffman Courts.

The order was founded in 1911 by Frank S. Land and nine teenage youths in Kansas City, Mo.

Tax Hike Action Scheduled Again

reading of an ordinance that would grant the Ohio Valley Gas Co. a rate increase as part of a new four-year agreement.

Council set its meeting for 8:30 because the members have been invited to a dinner at 6:30 at Central Fire Station celebrating an anniversary of the International Association of Firefighters. The adjourned meeting will follow the dinner program.

About 20 residents attended the meeting last night because of the announced intention to present the tax legislation. Many of them spoke, occupying an hour of the session devoted to "personal privilege." Some questioned the need for a new tax or were critical of the way in which the funds were used in the past.

Others simply questioned other parts of the municipal operations or commented on them. The residents began speaking when Council convened at 8 and the speeches from the audience continued until 9, ranging over a wide field of subjects.

James Buchheit of 234 W. 4th St., first to speak, identified himself as a Crucible employe. The ordinance will have the effect of raising his taxes three-tenths of a per cent, but will mean a boost of only two-tenths for his neighbor, who is employed locally, he said. He said he eventually may be required to pay a full 1 per cent tax here and another 1 per cent at Midland "because it looks like reciprocity is on the way out."

"I don't think we'll ever get reciprocity with Midland," Sample replied. He said he is a millworker, also, and added: "I pay the same tax as you and I don't like it any better than you do."

ED MILLER of 840 Avondale St. told Council frequent raises in taxes may force the 2,000 East Liverpool residents who work in the Midland area to move out of East Liverpool. He said he is "not against taxes, but added: "When you raise taxes, remember that these 2,000 people don't have to live here. They not only support the local tax structure, but the retail business," he added.

"What do you intend doing for the city?" Larry Finlay of 709 Sophia St. asked Council. He asked if the additional revenue will be "used for another round of pay increases."

"I don't know any dollar I spend that I get less return on than my tax dollar," Finlay continued. "I resent taxes." He said Council has indicated it will establish a coordinator for the "master plan," adding: "I think we need that like another hole in the head." Finlay said five new homes were built in East Liverpool last year, but 30 homes were torn down.

"I'm not going to vote for this tax," Duffy told Finlay. "I never did and I never will. I still say it should be put to a vote of the people."

Ralph Musuraca of St. Clair Ave., next to speak, discussed at length the reasons why East Liverpool and Midland were unable to work out reciprocity on their two income taxes. He said a Pennsylvania law requiring reciprocity for out-of-state residents was enacted in 1965, but the statute was changed in 1967 before the city took advantage of it.

"Is this town being operated efficiently?" Musuraca asked. "You can't just spend and spend and spend. You ought to give us tax relief instead of adding to it year after year."

ROBERT McLANE of 1129 Vine St. pointed out to Council the present income tax raises $335,000 a year, adding: "I haven't seen where the city has been improved that much."

Sample cited some of the new operating expenses confronting the city, including a $600-a-month ambulance subsidy and an additional $17,000 the city must pay annually since police and fire pension systems were taken over by the state.

Massey reviewed for Musuraca the story of tax reciprocity between Midland and East Liverpool, dating back to a $10 head tax imposed on workers by Midland Council which later was ruled illegal. East Liverpool sent a delegation to Midland seeking to work out reciprocity on the income taxes, but it was told: "You run your business and we'll run ours," Massey said.

He also cited additional expense items facing the city, including a need for more firemen and proposed improvements on St. Clair Ave. and the River Rd. He said East Liverpool needs a recreation director, a federal project coordinator and a project for covering the East End Run.

Wilson cited the benefits accruing to the school district since it hired a federal coordinator.

"If he gets just one federal grant a year, he has paid his salary for that year," Wilson said. The local coordinator "has paid his salary a thousand times over," he added.

"I'm against the income tax, but I am in favor of a federal coordinator," Wilson said.

DUFFY, taking the floor again, repeated a declaration that Mayor George E. Willshaw could handle the coordinator's duties. He added that "there is a lot of deadwood" on the city payroll. Duffy said there is no need for a woman to operate the "Meter Maid" office at City Hall; an assistant city soficitor and separate secretaries for the mayor's and director's offices.

"If we collect the tax, I feel the people should vote on it," Duffy said. "The city is no better off than it was in 1958 when the income tax first went on."

Finlay took the floor again, relating how he urged the Board of Education a few years ago to take advantage of federal aid programs. "If the city has a coordinator, will it be another political plum and expense to the tax-payer?" he asked.

Buchheit then declared that if the city's four fire stations are undermanned, as Massey asserted, the force should be consolidated into a single station. James Garwood of Bank St. attacked both the income tax hike and a proposed boost in gas rates, but asserted the gas boost would cost the public the most money.

Edward Zehnder of Pope Ave. complained that Council was "rushing the ordinance without letting the people have a chance to let you know how they feel."

Mike Sweeney of W. 7th St., next to take the floor, declared that Council should curb "cowboy drivers" of the privately - operated Lynn Ambulance Service.

"There is going to be a bad wreck some day at Lisbon and W. 8th Sts.," Sweeney said. "A citizen told me they even use the siren just to go to the post office."

MUSURACA, taking the floor again, said the city has not done enough street work with income tax funds. "Avondale St. is still a disgrace," he said. "Why can't we get some of the holes patched on other rough streets?" He also questioned the need of a system of electrical signals that will be installed to mark lanes in use at different hours on the three-lane section of outer St. Clair Ave.

Laird Christen of Bradshaw Ave., a Little League enthusiast, said the league has been attempting to get work done for three years to put a ballfield into shape. A long discussion ensued on ways of obtaining heavy equipment on loan for such work.

A discussion ended on the tax ordinance, Sample moved to table the gas rate legislation until tonight because two members were absent. He was seconded by Burcham.

Duffy argued that the ordinance should be presented immediately. A vote was 3-2 in favor of tabling. Duffy and Massey voted against the action, with Sample, Burcham and Wilson voting "yes."

Due Salary Boosts

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Salary increases that will cost the city an estimated $3 million over the next two years were approved Monday by city council. Some 3,600 city employes are covered.

Means Committee, the most powerful congressional holdout against a tax hike, expressed cautious interest.

"That word austerity pleases me," he told reporters. But he added he had not been consulted on the $9 billion cut program. He would not say what he thought the spending cut figure should total but presumably it would be higher than Johnson's.

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee also declined to set a figure but said $9 billion was inadequate.

His committee wants to trim everything in sight, he said, and as a first step will battle a $215 million addition the Senate put on a $1.2 billion catch-all appropriation bill passed by the House.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, said nobody had consulted him and said he was skeptical of any administration offers to cut spending until they were examined in detail.

Wants To See Program

"I want to see the program," he said. "I want to see the color of their eyes."

In other developments marking the shift to a two-price system—a free market for privately held gold but continuation of the $35 price on sales between governments:

—The New York stock exchange bounded up 13 points in early Monday trading, but cooled off later for an average gain of 2.54 points.

—In Britain, the Wilson government was presenting to Commons today a budget that was expected to include heavy tax hikes plus wage and income freezes in an attempt to curb consumer - imports demand and thus to get the British balance of payments out of the red. The prime goal is to improve the condition of the recently devalued pound.

—Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board warned the dollar is not yet safe. The storm could rise anew, he told a Detroit audience, if the United States does not move promptly to restore confidence by cutting its budget and raising taxes.

While Mills and Mahon contemplated House action to put the economy drive in gear, two moves were developing in the Senate to seize the initiative by trying to attach an income-tax increase to a different bill already passed by the House.

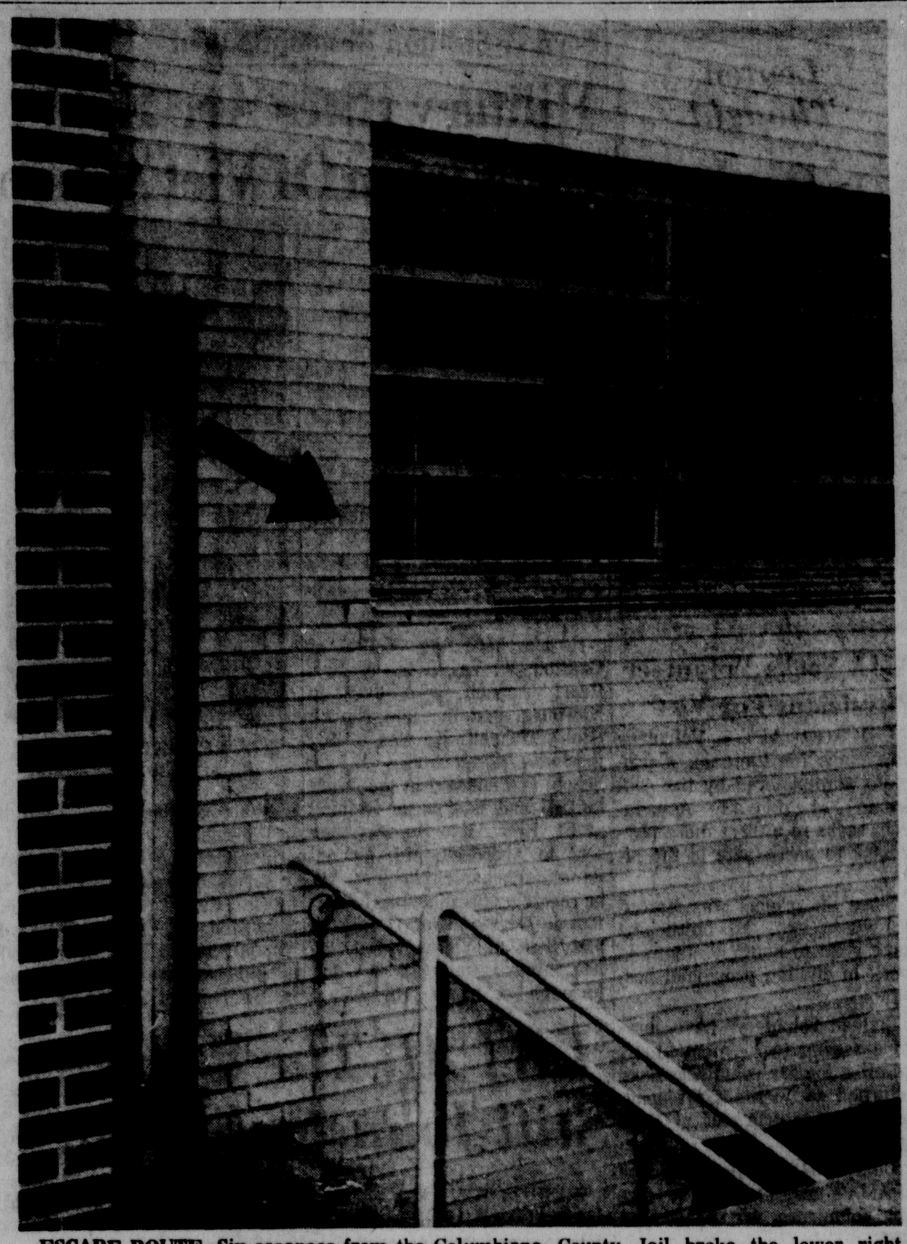

But sponsors did not appear to have the votes. And in any case the House, traditionally jealous of its constitutional prerogative of originating all tax legislation, would not be likely to accept such a maneuver.

One Senate proposal to be offered would append the 10 per cent surtax to a bill extending excise tax rates. The other would combine a surtax, an $8 billion spending cut and a directive to government departments to shrink their payrolls 200,000 persons by attrition.

The Senate-House Economic Committee reflected the wide range of opinions in Congress over the proposed tax increase when it published its annual report, augmented by individual statements of members.

The committee majority reported inability to agree on a recommendation for or against the surtax.

Chairman William Proxmire, D-Wis., said the gold crisis had only strengthened his conviction there should not be an increase.

both in East Liverpool. Just yesterday, Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ordered an investigation for probation in these cases. The youth has been in jail since Jan. 22.

DONAHUE was returned from Lima State Hospital March 12 and is awaiting a hearing for probation violation. He pleaded guilty in 1965 to a charge of forgery in East Liverpool. The sheriff returned Donahue from Nevada in January.

Jarvis was sentenced Jan. 11 from Juvenile Court as a juvenile delinquent (auto theft and resisting arrest) and was due for release May 1. He was removed from the juvenile detention room to the general section of the jail on his 18th birthday Feb. 6.

The last escape from the County Jail occurred last Aug. 5 when two "trusties" — Gerald Crabtree, 19, of 209 Ravine St., East Liverpool, and Thomas Buckius, 19, of Salem — fled through an unbarred window in the kitchen.

Crabtree's father returned him the same night. Pennsylvania state police picked up Buckius the next day on a stolen bicycle.

Both youths were indicted for escape from jail and pleaded guilty Sept. 25. They are awaiting probation hearings.

In the only other escape, three men sawed through bars Sept. 15, 1956, not long after the new jail was open, and jumped out a front window. They were captured three days later in a wooded area near Wellsville.

Light Response Seen In Registration Drive

The County Election Board said today there has been only a light response in its current campaign to enroll unqualified East Liverpool voters before the deadline March 27 for the primary elections May 7.

Fifteen electors have registered in the last three business days and three more have recorded changes of address.

Enrollment will end March 27 at 9 p. m. — a week from tomorrow. The board will operate branch registration offices the last three days of the campaign, March 25-27, inclusive.

pack a pistol and stick it in somebody's face and say, 'I want your money.' I am getting to the point where I am no more sympathetic toward society than I am toward the defendant and his rehabilitation," the judge declared.

Investigation showed that Hensel, one of three indicted for the robbery, had the gun and entered the station first.

In related cases earlier yesterday, Judge Buzzard sentenced Stanley C. Lovett, 26, of 669½ Walnut St. to the state penitentiary for 10 to 25 years for the robbery and 1 to 15 years for each of two burglaries — Pickens Grocery and the Pearl China Co. — and considered the probation request of Charles J. Mercer, 18, of 130 Ravine St. by ordering a pre-sentence investigation and report. The youth pleaded guilty to the robbery and grocery burglary.

Lovett pleaded guilty to all three charges and made an unsuccessful request for probation.

Driver, 26, Fined $15 On Speeding Charges

John L. Weber, 26, of 323 Blakeley St. was fined $15 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

Weber was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol last Wednesday at 7:35 p. m. on Route 7.

Two more cited drivers were ordered to pay court costs. They are James Scritchfield, 41, of 1114 St. Clair Ave., arrested by the patrol on Route 170 March 2 on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle, and David Freeman of 314 W. 7th St., arrested by local police March 11 on a charge of operating an auto without a license.

Scritchfield told the court he has disposed of the allegedly unsafe vehicle and Freeman produced a new operator's permit.

both in East Liverpool. Just yesterday, Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ordered an investigation for probation in these cases. The youth has been in jail since Jan. 22.

DONAHUE was returned from Lima State Hospital March 12 and is awaiting a hearing for probation violation. He pleaded guilty in 1965 to a charge of forgery in East Liverpool. The sheriff returned Donahue from Nevada in January.

Jarvis was sentenced Jan. 11 from Juvenile Court as a juvenile delinquent (auto theft and resisting arrest) and was due for release May 1. He was removed from the juvenile detention room to the general section of the jail on his 18th birthday Feb. 6.

The last escape from the County Jail occurred last Aug. 5 when two "trusties" — Gerald Crabtree, 19, of 209 Ravine St., East Liverpool, and Thomas Buckius, 19, of Salem — fled through an unbarred window in the kitchen.

Crabtree's father returned him the same night. Pennsylvania state police picked up Buckius the next day on a stolen bicycle.

Both youths were indicted for escape from jail and pleaded guilty Sept. 25. They are awaiting probation hearings.

In the only other escape, three men sawed through bars Sept. 15, 1956, not long after the new jail was open, and jumped out a front window. They were captured three days later in a wooded area near Wellsville.

Light Response Seen In Registration Drive

The County Election Board said today there has been only a light response in its current campaign to enroll unqualified East Liverpool voters before the deadline March 27 for the primary elections May 7.

Fifteen electors have registered in the last three business days and three more have recorded changes of address.

Enrollment will end March 27 at 9 p. m. — a week from tomorrow. The board will operate branch registration offices the last three days of the campaign, March 25-27, inclusive.

pack a pistol and stick it in somebody's face and say, 'I want your money.' I am getting to the point where I am no more sympathetic toward society than I am toward the defendant and his rehabilitation," the judge declared.

Investigation showed that Hensel, one of three indicted for the robbery, had the gun and entered the station first.

In related cases earlier yesterday, Judge Buzzard sentenced Stanley C. Lovett, 26, of 669½ Walnut St. to the state penitentiary for 10 to 25 years for the robbery and 1 to 15 years for each of two burglaries — Pickens Grocery and the Pearl China Co. — and considered the probation request of Charles J. Mercer, 18, of 130 Ravine St. by ordering a pre-sentence investigation and report. The youth pleaded guilty to the robbery and grocery burglary.

Lovett pleaded guilty to all three charges and made an unsuccessful request for probation.

Driver, 26, Fined $15 On Speeding Charges

John L. Weber, 26, of 323 Blakeley St. was fined $15 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

Weber was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol last Wednesday at 7:35 p. m. on Route 7.

Two more cited drivers were ordered to pay court costs. They are James Scritchfield, 41, of 1114 St. Clair Ave., arrested by the patrol on Route 170 March 2 on a charge of operating an unsafe vehicle, and David Freeman of 314 W. 7th St., arrested by local police March 11 on a charge of operating an auto without a license.

Scritchfield told the court he has disposed of the allegedly unsafe vehicle and Freeman produced a new operator's permit.

Spending Slash Urged In Cincinnati Schools

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sgt. Paul Miller proposed Monday that Cincinnati Public Schools slash spending which would force cutbacks in several areas but prevent a tax increase.

Miller advised chopping $1.2 million this summer and fall. The brunt of his plan entails eliminating over 300 teaching jobs by not filling vacancies created over the summer.

Fear Of Bilharzia Costs Golfer Key Shot

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) —Golfer Gary Player's fear of bilharzia cost him a key shot in a challenge match won recently by Trevor Wilkes 3 and 1 at Circle Country Club in this Indian Ocean port.

A Player tee shot landed in a stream and he asked officials if the water had been tested for bilharzia, a disease carried by snails.

It had not, so Player took another shot from the fairway. The drop cost him a four on the hole against Wilkes' three.

Like A Square Egg, Not Such Good Idea

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) —The first rectangular lens in the world has been produced here by Carl Zeiss, Oberkochen —a 115 m.m., f-4 Pro-Tessar for the Zeiss Ikon Contraflex single lens reflex camera.

Reason for the manufacture was to study the size and weight reduction options in the design of optical systems with relatively large front elements.

It was found that the performance of the rectangular lens was identical to that of a normal lens of the same design.

However, the extra work involved in shaping the round lens elements and barrel into rectangular form increased the cost of manufacture and the lens will not be offered for sale.

Women Traffic Cops Can't Wear Miniskirts

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — The first women traffic cops in Johannesburg, to be appointed shortly, will not wear miniskirts. "We don't want them wearing anything that is going to stop the traffic," said J. F. Oberholzer, chairman of the city council's traffic committee.

Traffic chief Saville Dorfman will invite designs for the uniforms from leading fashion designers but they aren't going to become a regular fashion fad. "We just wouldn't want the expense of issuing new uniforms every time somebody in Paris got a new idea," Dorfman said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about a scorched area in a white shirt?

A.—Try bleaching it under a sunlamp. Moisten the blemished area with water, and hold it under the lamp until the fabric retains its whiteness. You may have to repeat the process several times.

Q.—How can I renew suede shoes that have worn smooth?

A.—A few light strokes with a very fine grade of sandpaper will bring back the roughened surface of the suede. Other such tips on the care and cleaning of wearing apparel are included in my household book.

Q.—How can I remove printing ink stains from fabrics?

A.—By working lard, shortening, or petroleum jelly into the stains, then laundering with plenty of soap and water. If not washable, sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Q. — How can I remove grease spots from clothes?

A. — One good remedy is to cover the stains with flour and, after a clean white blotter has been placed over the flour, iron over it with a warm iron. The grease will be absorbed by the blotter, and the flour can then be shaken out.

Q. — How can I re-whiten discolored handkerchiefs?

A. — By immersing them in cold water to which has been added a pinch of cream of tartar.

'LBJ All The Way,' Still Johnson Slogan

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Just one final word," said Lyndon B. Johnson, and then proceeded to utter more than 1,000 words—words designed not only to defend his policies in Vietnam but to help insure his political survival.

If anyone ever needed proof the President is a campaign-seasoned fighter, here was vocal evidence that for him the slogan in 1968 hasn't changed from 1964. It's "LBJ all the way."

And, from a look at the weekend headlines, one might even gain the impression that, when political survival is at stake, Johnson is a rugged infighter.

Before the LBJ counter-attack, the headlines reflected a solid week of bad news, from his standpoint: The "moral victory" over Johnson by Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in New Hampshire's Democratic primary; the challenge to Johnson's presidency by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.; and finally a gold-dollar crisis of dimensions unrivaled in more than 30 years.

One might suspect Johnson would have been dismayed, if not bowed, by all this. Assuredly, he felt the onrush of events. But he came back fighting hard.

Indeed, Johnson's step seemed to become springier and his platform oratory more pointed as the challenge grew.

The headlines really tell the story of the Johnson counter-attack against the forces arrayed against him.

On Saturday, Kennedy was accorded free television-radio time to announce his candidacy for the presidency. Initially, most observers thought he had the headlines wrapped up for Sunday morning newspapers.

But these seers reckoned without Johnson. Unnanounced, he went before an audience of top-drawer businessmen and voiced a rather determined defense of his embattled Vietnam policy.

And that was only the beginning.

Simultaneously, "reliable sources" disclosed that Vietnam troop reinforcements would be moderate compared with the reported request for 206,000 additional men by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam.

What's more, the same sources disclosed that Johnson was secretly collaborating with leaders of Congress to make significant cuts in the federal budget—as the price for the higher taxes the President seeks.

Result: Johnson and the anonymous sources, wrapped into a single news account, captured headlines from Kennedy in many newspapers around the country.

Johnson, when pressed, is adept at using the power of his office to put down any challenge. So was John F. Kennedy. Barry Goldwater once complained that every time he had the potential of making headlines at a Republican meeting in the capital, the late President found a way to stop him.

On Sunday, the challengers to Johnson had an ostensible two-to-one advantage in network television time, and presumably in headlines Monday morning. The line-up on network question-and-answer programs was Kennedy and McCarthy vs. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

But then it was disclosed—by still unnamed sources—that Kennedy had met with Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford to discuss a proposal for setting up a special presidential commission to revise Vietnam policy.

As the sources put it, Kennedy offered not to run for president if Johnson adopted the commission proposal.

Kennedy later accused the White House of distorting its accounts of the proposal and his part in it. He denied assertions by administration aides that he had attempted to force Johnson to change his Vietnam policies.

Exactly how this explosive bit of political interplay was "leaked" is a matter in dispute. Kennedy blamed the administration and the White House professes innocence.

But no matter how it came about, the story as told by the anonymous sources placed Kennedy in the position of a political blackmailer and would-be usurper of presidential power.

YOU AND THE LAW

"This is the police. Hold it right there, mister! Don't move!" the voice from the dark corner of the lot commands.

Tom stops in his tracks as the spotlight from the police cruiser flashes on him.

"What's the trouble officer?" Tom stammers as the policeman came running up to him.

"There was a fight down the block a few minutes ago. A person of your description slugged a man and hurt him badly. You sure look like you've been mixing it up, what with those torn clothes and that bloodied fist. I'm arresting you on the charge of assault and battery," the policeman says.

"Wait a minute. That's only a misdemeanor. You cant' arrest me on that charge unless you saw me do it or you've got a warrant," Tom sneers.

"THAT'S NOT the way Ohio law reads now, mister,. We can arrest you on certain misdemeanor charges now if we have reason to believe you're guilty. This includes petty theft incidents and making menacing threats. We don't have to see the person do the act or have a warrant."

"Now that's a heck of a note," Tom replies.

"Well, before you make any comments let me warn you that you may remain silent. Any statement you make can be used against you. You have the right to have an attorney. If you can't afford one, then one will be appointed for you. Do you understand that?" the policeman says.

"Sure, I understand. And right now I know you've got me cold. The guy I slugged can identify me for sure. He's my cousin," Tom replies.

"O.K. against the wall, mister. Let's see if you've got any weapons," the policeman orders. "Then, we'll give you a ride in our nice, new cruiser down to the police station.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sgt. Paul Miller proposed Monday that Cincinnati Public Schools slash spending which would force cutbacks in several areas but prevent a tax increase.

Fear Of Bilharzia Costs Golfer Key Shot

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) —Golfer Gary Player's fear of bilharzia cost him a key shot in a challenge match won recently by Trevor Wilkes 3 and 1 at Circle Country Club in this Indian Ocean port.

A Player tee shot landed in a stream and he asked officials if the water had been tested for bilharzia, a disease carried by snails.

It had not, so Player took another shot from the fairway. The drop cost him a four on the hole against Wilkes' three.

Like A Square Egg, Not Such Good Idea

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) —The first rectangular lens in the world has been produced here by Carl Zeiss, Oberkochen —a 115 m.m., f-4 Pro-Tessar for the Zeiss Ikon Contraflex single lens reflex camera.

Reason for the manufacture was to study the size and weight reduction options in the design of optical systems with relatively large front elements.

It was found that the performance of the rectangular lens was identical to that of a normal lens of the same design.

However, the extra work involved in shaping the round lens elements and barrel into rectangular form increased the cost of manufacture and the lens will not be offered for sale.

Women Traffic Cops Can't Wear Miniskirts

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — The first women traffic cops in Johannesburg, to be appointed shortly, will not wear miniskirts. "We don't want them wearing anything that is going to stop the traffic," said J. F. Oberholzer, chairman of the city council's traffic committee.

Traffic chief Saville Dorfman will invite designs for the uniforms from leading fashion designers but they aren't going to become a regular fashion fad. "We just wouldn't want the expense of issuing new uniforms every time somebody in Paris got a new idea," Dorfman said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What can I do about a scorched area in a white shirt?

A.—Try bleaching it under a sunlamp. Moisten the blemished area with water, and hold it under the lamp until the fabric retains its whiteness. You may have to repeat the process several times.

Q.—How can I renew suede shoes that have worn smooth?

A.—A few light strokes with a very fine grade of sandpaper will bring back the roughened surface of the suede. Other such tips on the care and cleaning of wearing apparel are included in my household book.

Q.—How can I remove printing ink stains from fabrics?

A.—By working lard, shortening, or petroleum jelly into the stains, then laundering with plenty of soap and water. If not washable, sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Q. — How can I remove grease spots from clothes?

A. — One good remedy is to cover the stains with flour and, after a clean white blotter has been placed over the flour, iron over it with a warm iron. The grease will be absorbed by the blotter, and the flour can then be shaken out.

Q. — How can I re-whiten discolored handkerchiefs?

A. — By immersing them in cold water to which has been added a pinch of cream of tartar.

'LBJ All The Way,' Still Johnson Slogan

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Just one final word," said Lyndon B. Johnson, and then proceeded to utter more than 1,000 words—words designed not only to defend his policies in Vietnam but to help insure his political survival.

If anyone ever needed proof the President is a campaign-seasoned fighter, here was vocal evidence that for him the slogan in 1968 hasn't changed from 1964. It's "LBJ all the way."

And, from a look at the weekend headlines, one might even gain the impression that, when political survival is at stake, Johnson is a rugged infighter.

Before the LBJ counter-attack, the headlines reflected a solid week of bad news, from his standpoint: The "moral victory" over Johnson by Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy in New Hampshire's Democratic primary; the challenge to Johnson's presidency by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.; and finally a gold-dollar crisis of dimensions unrivaled in more than 30 years.

One might suspect Johnson would have been dismayed, if not bowed, by all this. Assuredly, he felt the onrush of events. But he came back fighting hard.

Indeed, Johnson's step seemed to become springier and his platform oratory more pointed as the challenge grew.

The headlines really tell the story of the Johnson counter-attack against the forces arrayed against him.

On Saturday, Kennedy was accorded free television-radio time to announce his candidacy for the presidency. Initially, most observers thought he had the headlines wrapped up for Sunday morning newspapers.

But these seers reckoned without Johnson. Unnanounced, he went before an audience of top-drawer businessmen and voiced a rather determined defense of his embattled Vietnam policy.

And that was only the beginning.

Simultaneously, "reliable sources" disclosed that Vietnam troop reinforcements would be moderate compared with the reported request for 206,000 additional men by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam.

What's more, the same sources disclosed that Johnson was secretly collaborating with leaders of Congress to make significant cuts in the federal budget—as the price for the higher taxes the President seeks.

Result: Johnson and the anonymous sources, wrapped into a single news account, captured headlines from Kennedy in many newspapers around the country.

Johnson, when pressed, is adept at using the power of his office to put down any challenge. So was John F. Kennedy. Barry Goldwater once complained that every time he had the potential of making headlines at a Republican meeting in the capital, the late President found a way to stop him.

On Sunday, the challengers to Johnson had an ostensible two-to-one advantage in network television time, and presumably in headlines Monday morning. The line-up on network question-and-answer programs was Kennedy and McCarthy vs. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

But then it was disclosed—by still unnamed sources—that Kennedy had met with Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford to discuss a proposal for setting up a special presidential commission to revise Vietnam policy.

As the sources put it, Kennedy offered not to run for president if Johnson adopted the commission proposal.

Kennedy later accused the White House of distorting its accounts of the proposal and his part in it. He denied assertions by administration aides that he had attempted to force Johnson to change his Vietnam policies.

Exactly how this explosive bit of political interplay was "leaked" is a matter in dispute. Kennedy blamed the administration and the White House professes innocence.

But no matter how it came about, the story as told by the anonymous sources placed Kennedy in the position of a political blackmailer and would-be usurper of presidential power.

YOU AND THE LAW

"This is the police. Hold it right there, mister! Don't move!" the voice from the dark corner of the lot commands.

Tom stops in his tracks as the spotlight from the police cruiser flashes on him.

"What's the trouble officer?" Tom stammers as the policeman came running up to him.

"There was a fight down the block a few minutes ago. A person of your description slugged a man and hurt him badly. You sure look like you've been mixing it up, what with those torn clothes and that bloodied fist. I'm arresting you on the charge of assault and battery," the policeman says.

"Wait a minute. That's only a misdemeanor. You cant' arrest me on that charge unless you saw me do it or you've got a warrant," Tom sneers.

"THAT'S NOT the way Ohio law reads now, mister,. We can arrest you on certain misdemeanor charges now if we have reason to believe you're guilty. This includes petty theft incidents and making menacing threats. We don't have to see the person do the act or have a warrant."

"Now that's a heck of a note," Tom replies.

"Well, before you make any comments let me warn you that you may remain silent. Any statement you make can be used against you. You have the right to have an attorney. If you can't afford one, then one will be appointed for you. Do you understand that?" the policeman says.

"Sure, I understand. And right now I know you've got me cold. The guy I slugged can identify me for sure. He's my cousin," Tom replies.

"O.K. against the wall, mister. Let's see if you've got any weapons," the policeman orders. "Then, we'll give you a ride in our nice, new cruiser down to the police station.

Budget Outlined By School Board

A 1968 budget of $5,928,801 was outlined for operation of the East Liverpool school district at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Education.

It now will be submitted to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon for consideration.

Allotments in the general fund total $2,428,399.

OF THIS, $1,410,350 will go for teachers salaries and $34,000 for substitutes.

Teachers for special classes will receive a total of $21,000 and summer school teachers a total of $12,000. The superintendent's salary is set at $18,920; the assistant superintendent's at $15,400; the superintendent's clerks', $17,257; supervisors, $11,500; principals, $109,950, and principals clerks, $22,300. The board's clerk will receive $6,450, while board members will be paid a total of $180.

The attendance officer will receive $5,175; $2,500 will go for medical inspection; $5,187 for the school nurse; a total of $16,200, for librarians; $23,000 for bus drivers; $4,800 for stadium custodial work; $5,000 for mechanics; $124,000 for janitors; $9,155 for engineers; $13,200 for the maintenance of buildings and grounds; $100 for lectures; $100 for legal salaries, and $14,000 for other special services.

Other anticipated expenditure include $10,000 for gas and oil for buses; $30,000 for textbooks; $20,000 for library books; $35,000 for electricity; $6,900 for telephones; $11,000 for tuition to other districts; $25,000 for insurance; $5,000 for student activity programs; $28,416 to the employes' retirement system; $198,022 to the teachers' retirement system; $4,265 for election expenses; $30,780 for auditor's and treasurer's fees; $27,113 to the Ohio board of education; $10,000 for an ROTC instructor.

Some $265,000 is earmarked for maturing bonds and another $129,956 for interest on bonds.

THE BOARD may realize $28,000 from the sale of buildings and another $113,991 on interest of bonds. In addition, $2,803,033 has been allocated for the new schools.

Clerk Kathryn Leibschner pointed out salaries comprise 88.9 per cent of the general fund.

Members also noted that certain fixed costs must be paid before the board ever sees its money. The $30,000 figure for auditor and treasurer fees was offered as an example.

Shortly after approval of the budget, the board turned down a request by High School Principal Clifford Lynch and Supt. Paul Blair to institute a computer-run class scheduling system in the high school beginning with the next term.

The lowest bid came from the First National Bank and its Data Center at Pittsburgh, with a bid of 51 cents per pupil, or a total cost of roughly $637. A higher bid of $875, or 70 cents per pupil, was submitted by the Electronic Tabulating Co. of Cleveland. Such a program already is in use in Salem.

Board member Harry McConville, pointing to the operation of the new schools during the coming term, declared: "I'm afraid we may run into too many expenses we don't know about. We must be very careful."

McConville then voted "no" on the motion, George Ward abstained and Samuel Brown also voted "no," killing the action.

Ward questioned the board about the status of an ROTC instructor to replace the sergeant who left recently. Brown said the schools currently are seeking a new man, but as yet have been unsuccessful.

Action On Bond Issue For Viet Vets Bonus Due

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill calling for a $50 million bond issue for payment of a state bonus for veterans of the Vietnam war is awaiting House action today.

The bill, which would require a constitutional amendment for implementation, was unanimously approved by the Senate on Monday.

If passed by the House, and by both chambers again during the next legislative session, the proposed constitutional amendment could be put before the state's voters in the 1969 Primary Election.

The bill would permit the legislature to determine the amount of bonus payments and eligibility requirements. It would however, require that the bonus be paid to all men who served in the armed forces during the period of hostilities in Vietnam.

The Senate also passed, by a 29-11 vote, and returned to the House a bill that permits the sale of antiques on Sunday by persons who observe a day other than Sunday as their sabbath.

The version of the bill passed by the House earlier would have granted blanket permission for the sale of antiques on Sunday.

Budget Outlined By School Board

A 1968 budget of $5,928,801 was outlined for operation of the East Liverpool school district at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Education.

It now will be submitted to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon for consideration.

Allotments in the general fund total $2,428,399.

OF THIS, $1,410,350 will go for teachers salaries and $34,000 for substitutes.

Teachers for special classes will receive a total of $21,000 and summer school teachers a total of $12,000. The superintendent's salary is set at $18,920; the assistant superintendent's at $15,400; the superintendent's clerks', $17,257; supervisors, $11,500; principals, $109,950, and principals clerks, $22,300. The board's clerk will receive $6,450, while board members will be paid a total of $180.

The attendance officer will receive $5,175; $2,500 will go for medical inspection; $5,187 for the school nurse; a total of $16,200, for librarians; $23,000 for bus drivers; $4,800 for stadium custodial work; $5,000 for mechanics; $124,000 for janitors; $9,155 for engineers; $13,200 for the maintenance of buildings and grounds; $100 for lectures; $100 for legal salaries, and $14,000 for other special services.

Other anticipated expenditure include $10,000 for gas and oil for buses; $30,000 for textbooks; $20,000 for library books; $35,000 for electricity; $6,900 for telephones; $11,000 for tuition to other districts; $25,000 for insurance; $5,000 for student activity programs; $28,416 to the employes' retirement system; $198,022 to the teachers' retirement system; $4,265 for election expenses; $30,780 for auditor's and treasurer's fees; $27,113 to the Ohio board of education; $10,000 for an ROTC instructor.

Some $265,000 is earmarked for maturing bonds and another $129,956 for interest on bonds.

THE BOARD may realize $28,000 from the sale of buildings and another $113,991 on interest of bonds. In addition, $2,803,033 has been allocated for the new schools.

Clerk Kathryn Leibschner pointed out salaries comprise 88.9 per cent of the general fund.

Members also noted that certain fixed costs must be paid before the board ever sees its money. The $30,000 figure for auditor and treasurer fees was offered as an example.

Shortly after approval of the budget, the board turned down a request by High School Principal Clifford Lynch and Supt. Paul Blair to institute a computer-run class scheduling system in the high school beginning with the next term.

The lowest bid came from the First National Bank and its Data Center at Pittsburgh, with a bid of 51 cents per pupil, or a total cost of roughly $637. A higher bid of $875, or 70 cents per pupil, was submitted by the Electronic Tabulating Co. of Cleveland. Such a program already is in use in Salem.

Board member Harry McConville, pointing to the operation of the new schools during the coming term, declared: "I'm afraid we may run into too many expenses we don't know about. We must be very careful."

McConville then voted "no" on the motion, George Ward abstained and Samuel Brown also voted "no," killing the action.

Ward questioned the board about the status of an ROTC instructor to replace the sergeant who left recently. Brown said the schools currently are seeking a new man, but as yet have been unsuccessful.

Action On Bond Issue For Viet Vets Bonus Due

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill calling for a $50 million bond issue for payment of a state bonus for veterans of the Vietnam war is awaiting House action today.

The bill, which would require a constitutional amendment for implementation, was unanimously approved by the Senate on Monday.

If passed by the House, and by both chambers again during the next legislative session, the proposed constitutional amendment could be put before the state's voters in the 1969 Primary Election.

The bill would permit the legislature to determine the amount of bonus payments and eligibility requirements. It would however, require that the bonus be paid to all men who served in the armed forces during the period of hostilities in Vietnam.

The Senate also passed, by a 29-11 vote, and returned to the House a bill that permits the sale of antiques on Sunday by persons who observe a day other than Sunday as their sabbath.

The version of the bill passed by the House earlier would have granted blanket permission for the sale of antiques on Sunday.

Council OK's 1968 Budget At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council Monday night adopted a 1968 appropriation ordinance of $822,895, a $33,000 increase over 1967.

The boost represents primarily salary and wage increases recently granted city employes.

The actual expenditures last year were $841,470 — $51,000 above the 1967 appropriation due to emergency situations such as power plant repairs, purchase of a new tractor and other items.

Council failed to reach an agreement with Unity Township trustees concerning an offer of $1,500 as the township share for firefighting and first aid calls by city firemen in the township. The city has rejected the figure as "inadequate."

Another meeting of the safety committee on the township issue will be held next week, and a report will be filed at the next meeting of Council April 1.

Council established a new billing system charging sewer rentals along with monthly electric bills. Customers have been paying $5 every three months for sewer charges. Customers will not pay $1.66 each month with the electric to save on billing cards and office handling.

Mayor Robert Harding advised Council reports coming from Lisbon last week indicating city and county commissioners have reached an agreement on projection of utility lines into outlying areas was premature. He said the comissioners merely indicated their willingness to join in the program when details are worked out.

Glenn Woods directed the chorus in practice for the event scheduled April 20 at Westgate School.

A letter was read from City Hospital inviting the membership to participate in the blood bank on an individual basis.

Ike Shumaker, president, announced the regional contest of the Johnny Appleseed District will be held March 30 at Akron. Four choruses will be selected for the international competition July 10-13 at Cincinnati.

Refreshments were served by Jack Hughey.

The group will rehearse again Monday.

Ted Kennedy's Book Blasts U.S. Policies On China, Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., challenges America's containment policies towards China, U.S. military tactics in Vietnam and the rationale for a massive American military presence in Asia in his first book published today.

"If we look at what China has done, rather than what she has said, the portrait of a force hell-bent for trouble fades," Kennedy said in "Decisions for a Decade," published by Doubleday & Co. Inc.

"The kind of war we are fighting in Vietnam will not gain the long range objectives we have there," he said. "The widespread destruction we are creating will only make a workable political future for that country more difficult."

Military support for certain regimes in Laos, Korea and South Vietnam "has at times harmed, rather than promoted, our national interests," Kennedy said.

"We paid and trained their armies, and taught their police to put down demonstrations, apparently on the theory that it was more important for these governments to control the population than to serve it," he said.

To make our China policies more realistic, Kennedy said, we should "attempt a relaxation on our total trade embargo," bring China into arms limitation talks, increase cultural contacts, and work for her admission to the United Nations on equal footing with Formosa.

An alternative to search-and-destroy tactics in Vietnam, he suggested, is a military posture "designed to protect and hold areas of heavy population in order to maximize the safety and security of the Vietnamese people rather than to search out and destroy the enemy."

General Assembly Set To Close Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 107th Ohio General Assembly will close up shop Wednesday, with the possibility of piling four more measures on top of the 502 already approved.

Leaders say one work day will suffice for the wrapup meeting. Then the House and Senate gavels will be quiet until 1969, unless Gov. James A. Rhodes has cause to call a special session during this year.

The four measures still before the lawmakers are a bill to increase the authorized strength of the Ohio Highway Patrol from 850 to 880, a teacher negotiation bill a public officials pay raise proposal and a bill setting stricter regulations on the sale of fireworks.

The first three were arrested at the Red Dog in Hancock County and charged with interstate travel to promote gambling. The others were charged with altering contents of liquor at the Red Dog.

Ted Kennedy's Book Blasts U.S. Policies On China, Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., challenges America's containment policies towards China, U.S. military tactics in Vietnam and the rationale for a massive American military presence in Asia in his first book published today.

"If we look at what China has done, rather than what she has said, the portrait of a force hell-bent for trouble fades," Kennedy said in "Decisions for a Decade," published by Doubleday & Co. Inc.

"The kind of war we are fighting in Vietnam will not gain the long range objectives we have there," he said. "The widespread destruction we are creating will only make a workable political future for that country more difficult."

Military support for certain regimes in Laos, Korea and South Vietnam "has at times harmed, rather than promoted, our national interests," Kennedy said.

"We paid and trained their armies, and taught their police to put down demonstrations, apparently on the theory that it was more important for these governments to control the population than to serve it," he said.

To make our China policies more realistic, Kennedy said, we should "attempt a relaxation on our total trade embargo," bring China into arms limitation talks, increase cultural contacts, and work for her admission to the United Nations on equal footing with Formosa.

An alternative to search-and-destroy tactics in Vietnam, he suggested, is a military posture "designed to protect and hold areas of heavy population in order to maximize the safety and security of the Vietnamese people rather than to search out and destroy the enemy."

General Assembly Set To Close Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 107th Ohio General Assembly will close up shop Wednesday, with the possibility of piling four more measures on top of the 502 already approved.

Leaders say one work day will suffice for the wrapup meeting. Then the House and Senate gavels will be quiet until 1969, unless Gov. James A. Rhodes has cause to call a special session during this year.

The four measures still before the lawmakers are a bill to increase the authorized strength of the Ohio Highway Patrol from 850 to 880, a teacher negotiation bill a public officials pay raise proposal and a bill setting stricter regulations on the sale of fireworks.

Other Trials Delay Action On 'Red Dog'

WHEELING — Hearings for six men charged with traveling interstate for gambling purposes have been delayed because of other trials scheduled in the U.S. District Court here.

James Beck, Joseph Mochan, Ralph Fischetti, Vincent Pecora, Joseph N. Pecora and Benny Phillips were to have gone on trial Monday.

The first three were arrested at the Red Dog in Hancock County and charged with interstate travel to promote gambling. The others were charged with altering contents of liquor at the Red Dog.

The Pecoras are residents of Chester. Phillips resides in New Cumberland and Beck, Mochan and Fischetti, the government alleges, in Pennsylvania. The men claim, however, they are West Virginia residents.

The six were arrested in a raid Nov. 5 by FBI agents.

Wellsville's Vince Giles ended the season as the leading scorer for Adrian College, averaging 19.2 points a game. He paced Adrian to an 11-10 mark, the school's best since 1961. Giles is now the third highest scorer in the history of the Michigan school, with a career total of over 1,200 points, and was named the teams' MVP for the second time. Giles also paced the squad in rebounds with 208.

FINAL FIGURES for the unbeaten Duquesne freshman team, coached by East Liverpool's Al Bailey, show Steve McHugh, the 5-10 dynamo from Geneva, Ohio, to be the club's leading scorer with a 22.0 average. Aliquippa's Jarrett Durham hit 21.1 a game, while Fox Chapel's 6-9 Nelson twins, Garry and Barry, averaged 18.8 and 15.7 respectively. The team averaged 93.9 points a game to 66 by its opponents. Paced by Durham's 87.1 per cent, it converted 76.4 per cent of its foul shots.

In the season finale against St. Francis, four of the seven men on the team fouled out, but the remaining three outscored St. Francis 12.8 over the last 2:33.

THE INDIANS are 5-4 in exhibition games so far, and all have been decided by one run.

KENT STATE and Otterbein are among 21 colleges that will have golf teams competing in the Cape Coral (Fla.) Invitational Tournament starting Thursday.

FINAL FIGURES for Norm Vanlier of Midland show he scored 471 points for an 18.8 average as a junior at St. Francis. He also averaged 10.9 rebounds, second on the team (he was top scorer) and had 255 assists for a 10.2 average. Vanlier's high for the season was 35 in the season's finale, a 109-103 loss to Duquesne last week.

As a team, St. Francis set school records for highest average, 89.1 ppg. and most points scored in a season, 2,228.

Middies' Fraley Player Of Year

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middletown hotshot John Fraley was honored today as Ohio high school Player of the Year as The Associated Press named its Class AA All-Ohio basketball team.

The 6-foot-5 Fraley heads up a power-packed six-man squad that includes two stars who will appear in this weekend's state scholastic championship tournament.

A statewide committee of sports writers and sportscasters helped select the dream team.

In addition to Fraley, the squad is made up of Allan Hornyak, Bellaire St. John's scoring machine; Randy Smith, of No. 1 ranked Columbus East; Roger Evans of Cuyahoga Falls; Pat Murnen of Toledo Central Catholic and Al Vilcheck, Euclid's nifty 6-8 senior who will oppose Smith when the Panthers and Tigers clash Friday night.

EARL DIDDLE

All the players except Hornyak are seniors.

Fraley, who scored 626 points for a 32.0 average before his Middletown team fell in district play, is sought by over 200 colleges.

No Middie player has stirred as much fanfare since fabulous Jerry Lucas starred for Middletown, and later for Ohio State.

Fraley, a strong outside shooter and deadly from underneath, is the only repeater from last year's All-Ohio team. He reportedly has narrowed his choice of a college to the Tri-State area of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana.

Smith, a 6-6 dandy, averaged only 13 points on East's high-octane attack but is the key men in the Tigers' bid for a third state title. A second-team selection last year, Smith is rated excellent college material with 111 offers.

The 6-1 Hornyak, only a junior, led the state in scoring with a whopping 42.6 average and is rated the best player in the eastern area since John Havlicek of Ohio State fame played at Bridgeport.

Evans, 6-7, averaged 18 points a game and 18 rebounds in sparking Cuyahoga Falls to a successful campaign. Murnen, 6-4, was the key to Central's great season scoring 16 a game despite a control style offense.

Vilcheck collected 16 rebounds a game while hitting at a 25.7 clip and has been instrumental in Euclid's drive to the state tournament.

The second team is made up of Ed Ratleff, Columbus East's high-scoring junior, prolific Rex Gardecki, Miamisburg senior; Lima Shawnee senior Rick Quinn; Al Bertke, a senior from Dayton Chaminade; Dave Reasbeck, senior from Martins Ferry and brother of former Buckeye star Dick Reasbeck and Canton Lincoln senior Bruce Fowler.

St. Peter's Upsets Duke

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Win. Run, baby, run."

Don Kennedy's simple formula was written in chalk on a small blackboard in the St. Peter's dressing room.

Before Monday night's quarter-finals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament were over, it was imprinted in the tired legs of the Duke Blue Devils, the minds of an awed record crowd of 19,500 and certainly in the thoughts of the Kansas Jayhawks.

Kennedy's Peacocks followed his writings to the letter, exploding in all directions at the opening tipoff and stampeding the 10th-ranked Blue Devils 100-71 with sharp-shooting, deft ball-handling and speed, speed, speed.

The display, one of the most devastating in NIT history, was witnessed by Kansas, whose slow deliberate style caught Villanova in a deep freeze 55-49 in the first game. Thus the Jayhawks got some idea of what they must stop when St. Peter's fuels up for them in the semifinals Thursday night.

The other semifinalists will be determined tonight when powerful Dayton takes on underdog Fordham and Long Island U. and Notre Dame clash.

St. Peter's, now 24-2, which upset Marshall in the first round, wasted little time making believers of big, slow, huffing and puffing Duke, the top-seeded team. The Peacocks burst out of the starting blocks and in almost the time it took to play the National Anthem, they had a 15-3 lead.

It was all donwhill from there as the tiny Naw Jersey school stepped boldly into the national spotlight.

"Last week they made fun of us," said Elanrdo Webster, the 6-foot-5 tallest starter who hit 51 points agjinst Marshall and 29 against Duke, including 21 in the first half that ended with the Peacocks ahead 50-29.

"No one knew where St. Peter's was—now they know."

Bob Veale Looks For Good Year

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Bob Veale expects Jim Bunning to make him a better pitcher, which makes you wonder just how good Veale expects to be.

Without Bunning around to inject his competitiveness, leadership and sound knowledge of pitching, Veals has managed to compile a pretty fair record under his own steam.

In the last four years, the 212-pound. southpaw has won 67 games for the Pirates. Only four pitchers in the majors have done better over the period — Juan Marichal, Bob Gibson, Jim Kaat and Bunning.

This brought up the natural question as the perspiring, bespectacled Veale took a few minutes from the training grind to talk about his prospects for 1968. How is Bunning going to help Veale?

The 6-foot-6 Veale pondered a moment, then said, "he is a highly competitive athlete both on and off the field. He sets a higher standard for me. Undoubtedly, he'll also take some pressure off me.

"When we go into a city for a series, we should have two big winners ready. If he loses, it should make me more determined to win. Competition between pitchers on a club is good for a club."

Veale says he expects this to be an amazing year for the Pirates. He envisions Bunning, acquired in a winter deal from the Philadelphia Phillies, as a tremendous example for the younger pitchers with his business like attitude toward the game.

Veale says he isn't planning anything new for National League opponents. He'll rely on his stock in trade, the fast ball, slider and curve. His big aim, however is just that — aim. He feels he has to get the ball over the plate more consistently to reach the 20-game status.

"I led the league in walks last season," noted Veale, referring to the 119 free tickets he issued. Veale has walked 464 in those four big seasons, and he is convinced each would have been a 20-game season if he got the ball over the plate.

"I guess I'm just like most left-handers when it comes to control," he said. "We have an unorthodox way of throwing. Everything comes in wrong sided. What is it they say about left handlers. They think left-handed. "

"I'm trying to concentrate more on the job. More concentration should increase my efficiency 20 to 30 percent. I've got to try and get that batter out with fewer pitches, make 'em hit it to somebody. I've got to remember you don't have to strike out every hitter. Concentration is all I need."

Orioles, In On One Wing, Beaten By White Sox

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

If a bad spring means a good season, the Baltimore Orioles have the American League pennant wrapped up.

The Orioles haven't exactly been tearing the Grapefruit League apart in the opening phases of the baseball exhibition season, but at least they haven't been afraid to get up in the morning. Until today.

Monday, the club made a routine flight from Miami Fla., to Sarasota, Fla., for a game with the Chicago White Sox. At least it was as routine as a flight can be after the pilot announces that an engine has been shut off.

Conversation was at an understandable minimum until the plane landed and, of course, the Orioles proceeded to get beaten by the White Sox 5-1. Their record now is 3-5.

In other games, Pittsburgh beat Detroit 7-2, Cincinnati took the New York Mets 5-2, Houston beat Oakland 6-4 in 11 innings. St. Louis overcame Philadelphia 8-7 and the New York Yankees lost 5-3 to the Mexico City Reds in Nexico.

The Orioles had barely left Miami when the pilot of their chartered DC7 noticed a runaway propellor on an engine and shut if off as a precautoinary measure.

The game at Sarasota had barely begun when Pete Ward hit a three-run homer for the White Sox and Francisco Carlos shut out the Orioles for five innings as a precautionary measure. Which is the kind of a day the Birds had.

Matty Alou drove in three runs with singles for the Pirates, raising his spring training batting average to .400 and his RBI total to 11. Bob Veale worked five innings of three-hit ball for the Bucs.

Hal MaRae had a two-run homer for the Reds in their victory over the Mets, but second baseman Tommy Helms, spiked by Ron Swoboda in the fourth inning, may be lost for a week. The Mets now have lost six in a row.

Doug Rader's double with two out in the 11th drove in Houston's winning runs. The Astros collected 15 hits off four Oakland pitchers while the Athletics had seven hits, three for extra bases.

Philadelphia took a seven-run lead over St. Louis, but the Cards scored twice in the eighth and six unearned runs in the ninth to win.

The Yanks got a pair of homers—from Andy Kosco and Frank Fernandez—and seven innings of eight-hit pitching from Jim Bouton, but errors and timely Mexico City hitting proved to be their downfall. The Yankees have three more games south of the border.

NFL Players Will Confer With Owners

CHICAGO (AP) — A minimum salary, pay for exhibition games and a sizeable contribution to the pension fund will be sought by the National Football League's Player Association Tuesday.

John Gordy, president of the NFLPA, will meet with representatives of the National Football League headed by Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and NFL president.

Joining Modell will be Wellington Mara of the New York Giants, Rankin Smith of the Atlanta Falcons and Vince Lombardi of Green Bay.

Modell said he expects player representatives of all 16 clubs to attend the meeting in the federal building. "I have no idea of what is going to happen," said Modell. "We are just playing it by ear."

However, the office of Dan Shulman, NFLPA attorney, said contract proposals will be presented in the form of a collective bargaining agreement.

Katmai National Monument, Alaska's volcanic region, has an area twice that of Delaware.

Pipers Whip Anaheim At Steubenville Arena

The Pittsburgh Pipers, who have clinched the Eastern Division title in the American Basketball Association, waltzed past the Anaheim Amigos, the league tailender, 135-118 at the Steubenville Arena last night.

The game, the first ABA regular-season contest to be played in the state of Ohio, attracted 2,398 fans. Connie Hawkins, who displayed a variety of moves, some of which he must have learned during his stint with the Harlem Globetrotters, led all scorers with 33 points.

Piper coach Vin Cazetta used his bench freely, as Aanheim was no match for any combination the Pipers presented. It was 106-84 after three quarters.

The game started slowly. Anaheim didn't score for the first 2:15, but trailed only 4-0 and quickly tied the score. It was tied again at 10 before the Pipers hit five in a row to take the lead for good. Late in the quarter Pittsburgh scored eight points in a row to widen the margin to 32-19. Anaheim was never close again.

Backing Hawkins in the scoring column for the winners were Charlie Williams with 18, Willie Porter with 16, Arvesta Kelly with 15, Chico Vaughn with 12 and Richie Parks with 10. Bob Bedell had 28 to pace the losers, with Steve Kramer netting 22, Warren Davis 15, John Fairchild 14 and Steve Chubin 13.

In the preliminary, the Pittsburgh Steelers downed the Ron Williams All-Stars 73-68. The Steelers broke a 28-28 tie with seven straight points late in the first half and never lost the lead. They increased the margin to 73-58 before the losers got the last 10 points.

Ron Williams, shooting sparingly, was the game's high scorer with 26 points. The former Weirton star, who completed his college career at West Virginia Saturday night, was honored during halftime of the second game. John Mallory, WVU's All - America safetyman, added 22 points. John Hilton led the Steelers with 14, Dick Hoak had 12 and Jim (Cannonball) Butler and Jack FitzHenry had 10 each.

New Jersey Hoping To Eliminate Kentucky

By The Associated Press

The line-up for the American Basketball Association playoffs will be complete if the New Jersey Americans can beat the Kentucky Colonels tonight at Louisville.

The Americans put themselves in that position with a come-from-behind 113-103 victory over Houston Monday night. That put them 1½ games ahead of Kentucky in the race for the fourth and final playoff berth in the Eastern Division. They have two games left to Kentucky's three.

The battle for first place in the West got tighter when third-place Denver tripped division-leading New Orleans 108-101.

The Buccaneers, who have three games remaining, lead Dallas by one game and Denver by two. But they have a three-game bulge over Denver in the loss column and the best the Broncos can do is tie for te lead.

$26 Million Invested In Olympic Construction

By STRATFORD JONES

MEXICO CITY (AP) — If the Summer Olympic Games were canceled tomorrow, the Mexicans figure they would be out around $26 million.

But officials of the Organizing Committee here are not thinking in terms of cancellation and they're going ahead with building plans which figure to reach $84 million before the end of the Games scheduled Oct. 12-27.

The threatened boycott of some 40-plus nations protesting the admission of South Africa has thrown a cloud over the country's organization efforts but hasn't throttled them.

"There are no plans for cancelling the Games," insists Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, chairman of the Mexican Organizing Committee. "We are sure that all will be resolved and that the games will be a success.

"Work continues at the same pace as before."

Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, has called a meeting of the nine-man Executive Council in Lausanne, Switzerland, April 20-21 to reconsider the IOC decision last month restoring segregationist South Africa to the Olympic movement.

Thirty-two African nations, performing as a bloc, and close to a dozen other countries have announced they won't compete at Mexico City if South Africa is permitted entry.

The Soviet Union and its satellites have issued mild threats, but taken no definite action.

Mexico estimates that its outlay for the Games will be around $84 million, with $40 million for construction and $44 million for organization.

Ramirez reports that 80 per cent of the construction money and 60 per cent of that for organization already has been spent.

The construction money, however, is being used for permanent facilities.

Alvarez de Castillo, in charge of the committee finances, says estimates are that Mexico will recover between $32 million and $40 million when the games are completed.

This money would come to Mexico through sale of concessions, television rights, tickets and lodging for tourists, all of which are being handled by the government.

Wellsville Tourney Accepting Entries

Entries are still being accepted for the Wellsville Jaycees Independent Basketball Tournament, to run from March 25-30.

A faculty bracket of about 12 teams is being planned in addition to the main events featuring independent teams. Entry blanks may be obtained from Ralph Fusco or James Saracco.

Chris Time, driven by George Sholty, had the best pacing time at Yonkers Raceway during 1967. On May 27 he was clocked in 1:59.2.

Expansion Committee Meets Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The National League's expansion committee meets here Wednesday, But NL President Warren Giles says no recommendation will be forthcoming on whether to expand to 12 teams next year along with the American League.

Giles called the scheduled meeting "more or less exploratory" and said it was called for the purpose of working out ground rules for future expansion—presentation of franchise applications, allocation of players, etc.

Giles said the NL expansion committee might discuss the possibility of earlier expansion but any announcement would have to wait until a future meeting of all 10 clubowners. Unanimous approval is required for expansion.

Middies' Fraley Player Of Year

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middletown hotshot John Fraley was honored today as Ohio high school Player of the Year as The Associated Press named its Class AA All-Ohio basketball team.

The 6-foot-5 Fraley heads up a power-packed six-man squad that includes two stars who will appear in this weekend's state scholastic championship tournament.

A statewide committee of sports writers and sportscasters helped select the dream team.

In addition to Fraley, the squad is made up of Allan Hornyak, Bellaire St. John's scoring machine; Randy Smith, of No. 1 ranked Columbus East; Roger Evans of Cuyahoga Falls; Pat Murnen of Toledo Central Catholic and Al Vilcheck, Euclid's nifty 6-8 senior who will oppose Smith when the Panthers and Tigers clash Friday night.

EARL DIDDLE

All the players except Hornyak are seniors.

Fraley, who scored 626 points for a 32.0 average before his Middletown team fell in district play, is sought by over 200 colleges.

No Middie player has stirred as much fanfare since fabulous Jerry Lucas starred for Middletown, and later for Ohio State.

Fraley, a strong outside shooter and deadly from underneath, is the only repeater from last year's All-Ohio team. He reportedly has narrowed his choice of a college to the Tri-State area of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana.

Smith, a 6-6 dandy, averaged only 13 points on East's high-octane attack but is the key men in the Tigers' bid for a third state title. A second-team selection last year, Smith is rated excellent college material with 111 offers.

The 6-1 Hornyak, only a junior, led the state in scoring with a whopping 42.6 average and is rated the best player in the eastern area since John Havlicek of Ohio State fame played at Bridgeport.

Evans, 6-7, averaged 18 points a game and 18 rebounds in sparking Cuyahoga Falls to a successful campaign. Murnen, 6-4, was the key to Central's great season scoring 16 a game despite a control style offense.

Vilcheck collected 16 rebounds a game while hitting at a 25.7 clip and has been instrumental in Euclid's drive to the state tournament.

The second team is made up of Ed Ratleff, Columbus East's high-scoring junior, prolific Rex Gardecki, Miamisburg senior; Lima Shawnee senior Rick Quinn; Al Bertke, a senior from Dayton Chaminade; Dave Reasbeck, senior from Martins Ferry and brother of former Buckeye star Dick Reasbeck and Canton Lincoln senior Bruce Fowler.

St. Peter's Upsets Duke

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Win. Run, baby, run."

Don Kennedy's simple formula was written in chalk on a small blackboard in the St. Peter's dressing room.

Before Monday night's quarter-finals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament were over, it was imprinted in the tired legs of the Duke Blue Devils, the minds of an awed record crowd of 19,500 and certainly in the thoughts of the Kansas Jayhawks.

Kennedy's Peacocks followed his writings to the letter, exploding in all directions at the opening tipoff and stampeding the 10th-ranked Blue Devils 100-71 with sharp-shooting, deft ball-handling and speed, speed, speed.

The display, one of the most devastating in NIT history, was witnessed by Kansas, whose slow deliberate style caught Villanova in a deep freeze 55-49 in the first game. Thus the Jayhawks got some idea of what they must stop when St. Peter's fuels up for them in the semifinals Thursday night.

The other semifinalists will be determined tonight when powerful Dayton takes on underdog Fordham and Long Island U. and Notre Dame clash.

St. Peter's, now 24-2, which upset Marshall in the first round, wasted little time making believers of big, slow, huffing and puffing Duke, the top-seeded team. The Peacocks burst out of the starting blocks and in almost the time it took to play the National Anthem, they had a 15-3 lead.

It was all donwhill from there as the tiny Naw Jersey school stepped boldly into the national spotlight.

"Last week they made fun of us," said Elanrdo Webster, the 6-foot-5 tallest starter who hit 51 points agjinst Marshall and 29 against Duke, including 21 in the first half that ended with the Peacocks ahead 50-29.

"No one knew where St. Peter's was—now they know."

Bob Veale Looks For Good Year

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Bob Veale expects Jim Bunning to make him a better pitcher, which makes you wonder just how good Veale expects to be.

Without Bunning around to inject his competitiveness, leadership and sound knowledge of pitching, Veals has managed to compile a pretty fair record under his own steam.

In the last four years, the 212-pound. southpaw has won 67 games for the Pirates. Only four pitchers in the majors have done better over the period — Juan Marichal, Bob Gibson, Jim Kaat and Bunning.

This brought up the natural question as the perspiring, bespectacled Veale took a few minutes from the training grind to talk about his prospects for 1968. How is Bunning going to help Veale?

The 6-foot-6 Veale pondered a moment, then said, "he is a highly competitive athlete both on and off the field. He sets a higher standard for me. Undoubtedly, he'll also take some pressure off me.

"When we go into a city for a series, we should have two big winners ready. If he loses, it should make me more determined to win. Competition between pitchers on a club is good for a club."

Veale says he expects this to be an amazing year for the Pirates. He envisions Bunning, acquired in a winter deal from the Philadelphia Phillies, as a tremendous example for the younger pitchers with his business like attitude toward the game.

Veale says he isn't planning anything new for National League opponents. He'll rely on his stock in trade, the fast ball, slider and curve. His big aim, however is just that — aim. He feels he has to get the ball over the plate more consistently to reach the 20-game status.

"I led the league in walks last season," noted Veale, referring to the 119 free tickets he issued. Veale has walked 464 in those four big seasons, and he is convinced each would have been a 20-game season if he got the ball over the plate.

"I guess I'm just like most left-handers when it comes to control," he said. "We have an unorthodox way of throwing. Everything comes in wrong sided. What is it they say about left handlers. They think left-handed."

"I'm trying to concentrate more on the job. More concentration should increase my efficiency 20 to 30 percent. I've got to try and get that batter out with fewer pitches, make 'em hit it to somebody. I've got to remember you don't have to strike out every hitter. Concentration is all I need."

Orioles, In On One Wing, Beaten By White Sox

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

If a bad spring means a good season, the Baltimore Orioles have the American League pennant wrapped up.

The Orioles haven't exactly been tearing the Grapefruit League apart in the opening phases of the baseball exhibition season, but at least they haven't been afraid to get up in the morning. Until today.

Monday, the club made a routine flight from Miami Fla., to Sarasota, Fla., for a game with the Chicago White Sox. At least it was as routine as a flight can be after the pilot announces that an engine has been shut off.

Conversation was at an understandable minimum until the plane landed and, of course, the Orioles proceeded to get beaten by the White Sox 5-1. Their record now is 3-5.

In other games, Pittsburgh beat Detroit 7-2, Cincinnati took the New York Mets 5-2, Houston beat Oakland 6-4 in 11 innings. St. Louis overcame Philadelphia 8-7 and the New York Yankees lost 5-3 to the Mexico City Reds in Nexico.

The Orioles had barely left Miami when the pilot of their chartered DC7 noticed a runaway propellor on an engine and shut if off as a precautoinary measure.

The game at Sarasota had barely begun when Pete Ward hit a three-run homer for the White Sox and Francisco Carlos shut out the Orioles for five innings as a precautionary measure. Which is the kind of a day the Birds had.

Matty Alou drove in three runs with singles for the Pirates, raising his spring training batting average to .400 and his RBI total to 11. Bob Veale worked five innings of three-hit ball for the Bucs.

Hal MaRae had a two-run homer for the Reds in their victory over the Mets, but second baseman Tommy Helms, spiked by Ron Swoboda in the fourth inning, may be lost for a week. The Mets now have lost six in a row.

Doug Rader's double with two out in the 11th drove in Houston's winning runs. The Astros collected 15 hits off four Oakland pitchers while the Athletics had seven hits, three for extra bases.

Philadelphia took a seven-run lead over St. Louis, but the Cards scored twice in the eighth and six unearned runs in the ninth to win.

The Yanks got a pair of homers—from Andy Kosco and Frank Fernandez—and seven innings of eight-hit pitching from Jim Bouton, but errors and timely Mexico City hitting proved to be their downfall. The Yankees have three more games south of the border.

NFL Players Will Confer With Owners

CHICAGO (AP) — A minimum salary, pay for exhibition games and a sizeable contribution to the pension fund will be sought by the National Football League's Player Association Tuesday.

John Gordy, president of the NFLPA, will meet with representatives of the National Football League headed by Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and NFL president.

Joining Modell will be Wellington Mara of the New York Giants, Rankin Smith of the Atlanta Falcons and Vince Lombardi of Green Bay.

Modell said he expects player representatives of all 16 clubs to attend the meeting in the federal building. "I have no idea of what is going to happen," said Modell. "We are just playing it by ear."

However, the office of Dan Shulman, NFLPA attorney, said contract proposals will be presented in the form of a collective bargaining agreement.

Pipers Whip Anaheim At Steubenville Arena

The Pittsburgh Pipers, who have clinched the Eastern Division title in the American Basketball Association, waltzed past the Anaheim Amigos, the league tailender, 135-118 at the Steubenville Arena last night.

The game, the first ABA regular-season contest to be played in the state of Ohio, attracted 2,398 fans. Connie Hawkins, who displayed a variety of moves, some of which he must have learned during his stint with the Harlem Globetrotters, led all scorers with 33 points.

Piper coach Vin Cazetta used his bench freely, as Aanheim was no match for any combination the Pipers presented. It was 106-84 after three quarters.

The game started slowly. Anaheim didn't score for the first 2:15, but trailed only 4-0 and quickly tied the score. It was tied again at 10 before the Pipers hit five in a row to take the lead for good. Late in the quarter Pittsburgh scored eight points in a row to widen the margin to 32-19. Anaheim was never close again.

Backing Hawkins in the scoring column for the winners were Charlie Williams with 18, Willie Porter with 16, Arvesta Kelly with 15, Chico Vaughn with 12 and Richie Parks with 10. Bob Bedell had 28 to pace the losers, with Steve Kramer netting 22, Warren Davis 15, John Fairchild 14 and Steve Chubin 13.

In the preliminary, the Pittsburgh Steelers downed the Ron Williams All-Stars 73-68. The Steelers broke a 28-28 tie with seven straight points late in the first half and never lost the lead. They increased the margin to 73-58 before the losers got the last 10 points.

Ron Williams, shooting sparingly, was the game's high scorer with 26 points. The former Weirton star, who completed his college career at West Virginia Saturday night, was honored during halftime of the second game. John Mallory, WVU's All - America safetyman, added 22 points. John Hilton led the Steelers with 14, Dick Hoak had 12 and Jim (Cannonball) Butler and Jack FitzHenry had 10 each.

New Jersey Hoping To Eliminate Kentucky

By The Associated Press

The line-up for the American Basketball Association playoffs will be complete if the New Jersey Americans can beat the Kentucky Colonels tonight at Louisville.

The Americans put themselves in that position with a come-from-behind 113-103 victory over Houston Monday night. That put them 1½ games ahead of Kentucky in the race for the fourth and final playoff berth in the Eastern Division. They have two games left to Kentucky's three.

The battle for first place in the West got tighter when third-place Denver tripped division-leading New Orleans 108-101.

The Buccaneers, who have three games remaining, lead Dallas by one game and Denver by two. But they have a three-game bulge over Denver in the loss column and the best the Broncos can do is tie for te lead.

$26 Million Invested In Olympic Construction

By STRATFORD JONES

MEXICO CITY (AP) — If the Summer Olympic Games were canceled tomorrow, the Mexicans figure they would be out around $26 million.

But officials of the Organizing Committee here are not thinking in terms of cancellation and they're going ahead with building plans which figure to reach $84 million before the end of the Games scheduled Oct. 12-27.

The threatened boycott of some 40-plus nations protesting the admission of South Africa has thrown a cloud over the country's organization efforts but hasn't throttled them.

"There are no plans for cancelling the Games," insists Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, chairman of the Mexican Organizing Committee. "We are sure that all will be resolved and that the games will be a success.

"Work continues at the same pace as before."

Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, has called a meeting of the nine-man Executive Council in Lausanne, Switzerland, April 20-21 to reconsider the IOC decision last month restoring segregationist South Africa to the Olympic movement.

Thirty-two African nations, performing as a bloc, and close to a dozen other countries have announced they won't compete at Mexico City if South Africa is permitted entry.

The Soviet Union and its satellites have issued mild threats, but taken no definite action.

Mexico estimates that its outlay for the Games will be around $84 million, with $40 million for construction and $44 million for organization.

Ramirez reports that 80 per cent of the construction money and 60 per cent of that for organization already has been spent.

The construction money, however, is being used for permanent facilities.

Alvarez de Castillo, in charge of the committee finances, says estimates are that Mexico will recover between $32 million and $40 million when the games are completed.

This money would come to Mexico through sale of concessions, television rights, tickets and lodging for tourists, all of which are being handled by the government.

Wellsville Tourney Accepting Entries

Entries are still being accepted for the Wellsville Jaycees Independent Basketball Tournament, to run from March 25-30.

A faculty bracket of about 12 teams is being planned in addition to the main events featuring independent teams. Entry blanks may be obtained from Ralph Fusco or James Saracco.

Chris Time, driven by George Sholty, had the best pacing time at Yonkers Raceway during 1967. On May 27 he was clocked in 1:59.2.

Expansion Committee Meets Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The National League's expansion committee meets here Wednesday, But NL President Warren Giles says no recommendation will be forthcoming on whether to expand to 12 teams next year along with the American League.

Giles called the scheduled meeting "more or less exploratory" and said it was called for the purpose of working out ground rules for future expansion—presentation of franchise applications, allocation of players, etc.

Giles said the NL expansion committee might discuss the possibility of earlier expansion but any announcement would have to wait until a future meeting of all 10 clubowners. Unanimous approval is required for expansion.

Tigers Tormented By Near Miss

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Detroit hasn't won a pennant since Steve O'Neill's World War II club in 1945, but it never will come much closer than last year.

Mayo Smith has been tormented all winter by the memory of that final Sunday in October when he still had a chance to tie Boston until the late innings of the second game of a doubleheader with the California Angels.

"I thought 92 would win it last year and it did," said Smith whose first Tiger team wound up with a 91-71 record in a second-place tie with Minnesota. "I think 92 will win it again.

A breakdown in the bullpen is blamed for the Tigers' failure to win it all last season.

"Our bullpen wasn't that bad," said Smith. "Everything that happened in the last two days was magnified. Fred Gladding, Mike Marshall and Fred Lasher all did a job for us, but we never had one guy who could do it day after day."

Gladding is gone now, the price the Tigers had to pay to get Eddie Mathews from the Houston Astros last summer. Dennis Ribant has been acquired from Pittsburgh in a deal for Dave Wickersham.

"My four starters are Earl Wilson, Joe Sparma, Denny McLain and Mickey Lolich," said Smith. "John Hiller will relieve and do spot starting."

Smith's bullpen consists of Marshall, Lasher and Pat Dobson from last year, plus Ribant and hopefully some rookies. He is taking a long look at Tom Timmerman, a 7-6 performer on the Toledo farm, and Les Cain, a 20-year-old left who was 11-13 at Montgomery in the Southern League. The veteran Hank Aguirre is a questionable factor.

Despite the 22 wins by Wilson, 17 by McLain, 16 by Spar and 14 by Lolich, the staff was seventh in the league. Pinch hitters batted only .158, and the Tigers left more men on base, 1,211, than anybody in the league.

Smith has been running a competition for first base between Norm Cash, whose averaged sagged to .242 last season, and 36-year-old Mathews who moved to first from third last year. Dick McAuliffe, .239 last year, and Don Wert, who batted .257 in 1967, are set at second and third.

Shortstop belongs to weak-hitting Ray Oyler, .207. Dick Tracewski and rookie Tom Matchick probably will be the back-up men. Jerry Lumpe has retired.

Willie Horton, taking it easy after a post season leg operation, is counted upon to handle left field. Jim Northrup returns to center and old reliable Al Kaline, still hoping to make a World Series before he quits, is in right. Mickey Stanley and Gates Brown are the extra outfielders.

With big Bill Freehan catching 155 games and challenging for the Most Valuable Player award, there is no great need for secondary catching. Jim Price will be used to rest Freehan.

The Tigers have not been dazzling the critics in Florida, but Smith knows he must take it easy with his front liners who must play every day once the bell rings.

Pistons Top Seattle, Lead Royals By ½ Game

By The Associated Press

Jimmy Walker unlocked the Eastern Division tie for the final playoff spot in the National Basketball Association with some key points, but the battle still rages.

Walker, rookie backcourt ace from Providence, fired in eight points in the final quarter Monday night as the Detroit Pistons squeaked past Seattle 88-82. The victory on the West Coast sent the Pistons one-half game ahead of idle Cincinnati in the battle for fourth place.

In other NBA action Monday, Philadelphia, with Wilt Chamberlain pouring in 53 points, clobbered Los Angeles 158-128 at home and New York tripped the Warriors at San Francisco 123-118.

Dave Bing also contributed 10 of his 16 points in the Pistons' low-scoring victory, marred by turnovers and highlighted by great defensive play. Walker finished with 21 points while Walt Hazzard topped the SuperSonics with 22.

Detroit has only one game remaining—Wednesday night at Boston—while Cincinnati plays at Philadelphia tonight and in New York Wednesday. If the two clubs are tied after the season ends, a playoff for the remaining spot would be played Friday in Detroit.

Chamberlain, with one his finest games this season, added 32 rebounds and handed out 14 assists. The 7-foot-1 center connected on 24 os 29 shots from the field as the Eastern Division champs, warming up for the coming playoffs, shot a sizzling 57.1 per cent.

Hal Greer added 32 points for the 76ers. Mel Counts topped Los Angeles with 26 points.

A three-point play by Bill Bradley put the Knicks on top to stay at 34-31 in the second quarter and Cazzie Russell's 13 points in the same quarter pushed New York's lead to 68-59 at halftime.

San Francisco, which ended its season, did get within four points of New York with a minute left but never had the ball again.

San Francisco meets Western Division champion St. Louis in the first round of the playoffs Friday in St. Louis.

Willis Reed topped New York with 29 points and Russell followed with 26. Rudy La Russo was high for the Warriors with 29.

Chamberlain's 53 Leads 76ers To 4 New Records

By KEN RAPPOPORT

PHILADELHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain's thoughts were 90 miles away. But he still had one of his finest hours in pro basketball — 53 points, 32 rebounds and 14 assists.

After the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain led the Philadelphia 76ers to stunning 158-128 National Basketball Association victory over Los Angeles Monday night, all he could say was: "I'm just happy that Kansas beat Villanova."

Chamberlain went to school at the University of Kansas, so it was natural that he should be concerned about his alma mater, playing in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York.

When a voice said over the loudspeaker that Kansas had beaten Villanova, 55-49, time was called and Chamberlain did a brief strut in the third quarter. It was a real crowd-pleaser.

"I just felt good," said Chamberlain, "very happy."

Chamberlain's theatrics during the time out, however, wasn't even a poor second to his remarkable show on the court in record of 125 set by Syracuse cords and tied another:

—Most field goals in a game by both teams, 126 (broke the record of 125 set by Syracus and San Francisco on March 10, 1963).

—Most field goals by two teams in a half, 73 (broke the mark of 70 set by Boston and Minneapolis Feb. 27, 1959).

—Most assists by both teams in a half, 45 (Broke the standard of 42 held by four different pairs of teams).

—Most field goals for two teams in a quarter, 41 (broke the mark of 40 set by Boston and Minneapolis on Feb. 27, 1959).

Marietta Oarsmen To Compete At Miami

MARIETTA — The oarsmen of Marietta College, defending national champs of small college rowing, will put an unequalled record on the line in the first Miami Intercollegiate Rowing Regatta on March 30.

The Pioneer varsity hasn't lost a race in this country in two years against 71 opponents. That includes the crews they actually rowed against in the "World Series" of small college rowing, the Dad Vail Regatta, in Philadelphia.

They are the two - year defending champs in the Dad Vail and for three years have taken first - place trophy in the Mid-America Spring Championship Regatta.

The only defeats suffered by the Marietta Varsity since 1965 were in European regattas last summer. They were downed by some of Europe's top crews and the Cornell lightweights at the Gillette Cup Regatta, Ratzeburg, Germany. Later, they lost to the ultimate winner in their division of the Henley Royal Regatta in England.

Marietta Coach Ralph Lindamood, whose varsity has compiled a phenomenal 89-8 record in his eight years at the helm, says this season is a "rebuilding year" for his crews.

Lindamood, a 1946 Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Marietta who earned a Distinguished Flying Cross in World War II, in four short years guided his Varsity to the Dad Vail Regatta Championship.

Marietta swept all three divisions of the Dad Vail (varsity, junior varsity and freshman) in 1966 and last May again won the varsity and freshman events.

Scoreless Mikita Keeps Scoring Lead

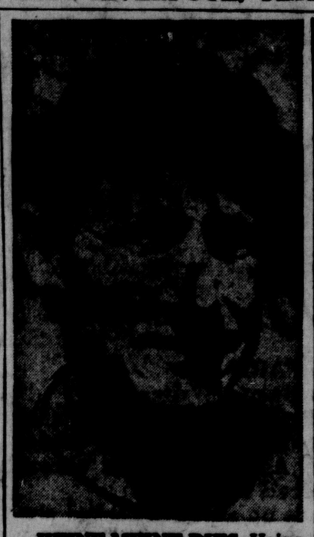

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago's Stan Mikita went scoreless in two games last week but still clung to his National Hockey League scoring lead, the league office announced today.

While Mikita's total remained at 38 goals and 41 assists for 79 points, New York's Jean Ratelle could manage only one goal in three games and Boston's Phil Esposito a goal and an assist in three contests.

That left them tied at 76 points, one ahead of Chicago's Bobby Hull and New York's Rod Gilbert, who are tied for fourth. Another point back is Detroit's Gordie Howe, two weeks shy of his 40th birthday.

Hull banged home two goals last week, giving him 44 for the season. He has six games left in which to reach the 50-goal mark for the fourth time. His league record of 54 seems out of reach.

Matty Alou Driving In Pirate Runs

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Little Matty Alou hits like mad. But can he drive in runs?

This year in spring training the answer seems to be yes—if he bats in the right spot in the Pittsburgh Pirates batting order.

The little slugger has 11 runs batted in so far this spring — high for the Pirates.

The Bucs' new manager, Larry Shepard, dropped Matty back to the sixth or seventh spot in the batting order.

Result: bingo.

"Now I can show people that I can drive in runs when I get a chance," said Alou.

Monday, the Pirates whipped Detroit 7-2 in an exhibition game —and Alou slugged three singles and drove in three runs.

The lesson seems to be that Alou can hit and if he hits with men on bases, he'll drive in runs.

As a leadoff man, or batting in the No. 2 spot, Alou has had trouble driving in runs. Obviously, when he went to bat in many cases, there were no Pirates on base.

He won the National League batting crown in 1966. Last year, he hit at a healthy .338 clip. But in 1966 he drove in only 27 runs; and last year e drove in only 28.

In 31 at bats in spring training, Alou has ripped off 13 hits, for a torrid .420 average.

Incorrigible Jamerson NAIA MVP

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—A few years ago, John Jamerson was labeled an "incorrigible" in his hometown of Toledo, Toledo, Ohio, and twice was sent to institution for boys.

Today, he's the toast of Fairmont after being named the Most Valuable Player in the NAIA Basketball Tournament at Kansas City, last weekend.

Jamerson, a 6-foot-5 junior forward, led Fairmont's Falcons to a second-place finish in the week-long, 32-team marathon. He averaged 22.4 points per game and connected on 52.3 per cent of his long-range shooting.

Coach Joe Retton's Falcons, who ended the season with a 25-6 record, lost in Saturday night's championship game to Central State of Ohio, 51-48.

"It's been a long, hard struggle for me," Jamerson said, "but if it hadn't been for sports — basketball in particular — I don't know where I'd be right now. . . maybe in some institution somewhere."

Jamerson, now 23, isn't hesitant to tell his story.

"I figure there may be some kids in need of guidance who'll read this," he said. "If athletics helped me, it can help them."

Tigers Tormented By Near Miss

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Detroit hasn't won a pennant since Steve O'Neill's World War II club in 1945, but it never will come much closer than last year.

Mayo Smith has been tormented all winter by the memory of that final Sunday in October when he still had a chance to tie Boston until the late innings of the second game of a doubleheader with the California Angels.

"I thought 92 would win it last year and it did," said Smith whose first Tiger team wound up with a 91-71 record in a second-place tie with Minnesota. "I think 92 will win it again.

A breakdown in the bullpen is blamed for the Tigers' failure to win it all last season.

"Our bullpen wasn't that bad," said Smith. "Everything that happened in the last two days was magnified. Fred Gladding, Mike Marshall and Fred Lasher all did a job for us, but we never had one guy who could do it day after day."

Gladding is gone now, the price the Tigers had to pay to get Eddie Mathews from the Houston Astros last summer. Dennis Ribant has been acquired from Pittsburgh in a deal for Dave Wickersham.

"My four starters are Earl Wilson, Joe Sparma, Denny McLain and Mickey Lolich," said Smith. "John Hiller will relieve and do spot starting."

Smith's bullpen consists of Marshall, Lasher and Pat Dobson from last year, plus Ribant and hopefully some rookies. He is taking a long look at Tom Timmerman, a 7-6 performer on the Toledo farm, and Les Cain, a 20-year-old left who was 11-13 at Montgomery in the Southern League. The veteran Hank Aguirre is a questionable factor.

Despite the 22 wins by Wilson, 17 by McLain, 16 by Spar and 14 by Lolich, the staff was seventh in the league. Pinch hitters batted only .158, and the Tigers left more men on base, 1,211, than anybody in the league.

Smith has been running a competition for first base between Norm Cash, whose averaged sagged to .242 last season, and 36-year-old Mathews who moved to first from third last year. Dick McAuliffe, .239 last year, and Don Wert, who batted .257 in 1967, are set at second and third.

Shortstop belongs to weak-hitting Ray Oyler, .207. Dick Tracewski and rookie Tom Matchick probably will be the back-up men. Jerry Lumpe has retired.

Willie Horton, taking it easy after a post season leg operation, is counted upon to handle left field. Jim Northrup returns to center and old reliable Al Kaline, still hoping to make a World Series before he quits, is in right. Mickey Stanley and Gates Brown are the extra outfielders.

With big Bill Freehan catching 155 games and challenging for the Most Valuable Player award, there is no great need for secondary catching. Jim Price will be used to rest Freehan.

The Tigers have not been dazzling the critics in Florida, but Smith knows he must take it easy with his front liners who must play every day once the bell rings.

Pistons Top Seattle, Lead Royals By ½ Game

By The Associated Press

Jimmy Walker unlocked the Eastern Division tie for the final playoff spot in the National Basketball Association with some key points, but the battle still rages.

Walker, rookie backcourt ace from Providence, fired in eight points in the final quarter Monday night as the Detroit Pistons squeaked past Seattle 88-82. The victory on the West Coast sent the Pistons one-half game ahead of idle Cincinnati in the battle for fourth place.

In other NBA action Monday, Philadelphia, with Wilt Chamberlain pouring in 53 points, clobbered Los Angeles 158-128 at home and New York tripped the Warriors at San Francisco 123-118.

Dave Bing also contributed 10 of his 16 points in the Pistons' low-scoring victory, marred by turnovers and highlighted by great defensive play. Walker finished with 21 points while Walt Hazzard topped the Super-Sonics with 22.

Detroit has only one game remaining—Wednesday night at Boston—while Cincinnati plays at Philadelphia tonight and in New York Wednesday. If the two clubs are tied after the season ends, a playoff for the remaining spot would be played Friday in Detroit.

Chamberlain, with one his finest games this season, added 32 rebounds and handed out 14 assists. The 7-foot-1 center connected on 24 os 29 shots from the field as the Eastern Division champs, warming up for the coming playoffs, shot a sizzling 57.1 per cent.

Hal Greer added 32 points for the 76ers. Mel Counts topped Los Angeles with 26 points.

A three-point play by Bill Bradley put the Knicks on top to stay at 34-31 in the second quarter and Cazzie Russell's 13 points in the same quarter pushed New York's lead to 68-59 at halftime.

San Francisco, which ended its season, did get within four points of New York with a minute left but never had the ball again.

San Francisco meets Western Division champion St. Louis in the first round of the playoffs Friday in St. Louis.

Willis Reed topped New York with 29 points and Russell followed with 26. Rudy La Russo was high for the Warriors with 29.

Chamberlain's 53 Leads 76ers To 4 New Records

By KEN RAPPOPORT

PHILADELHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain's thoughts were 90 miles away. But he still had one of his finest hours in pro basketball — 53 points, 32 rebounds and 14 assists.

After the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain led the Philadelphia 76ers to stunning 158-128 National Basketball Association victory over Los Angeles Monday night, all he could say was: "I'm just happy that Kansas beat Villanova."

Chamberlain went to school at the University of Kansas, so it was natural that he should be concerned about his alma mater, playing in the National Invitational Tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York.

When a voice said over the loudspeaker that Kansas had beaten Villanova, 55-49, time was called and Chamberlain did a brief strut in the third quarter. It was a real crowd-pleaser.

"I just felt good," said Chamberlain, "very happy."

Chamberlain's theatrics during the time out, however, wasn't even a poor second to his remarkable show on the court in record of 125 set by Syracuse cords and tied another:

—Most field goals in a game by both teams, 126 (broke the record of 125 set by Syracus and San Francisco on March 10, 1963).

—Most field goals by two teams in a half, 73 (broke the mark of 70 set by Boston and Minneapolis Feb. 27, 1959).

—Most assists by both teams in a half, 45 (Broke the standard of 42 held by four different pairs of teams).

—Most field goals for two teams in a quarter, 41 (broke the mark of 40 set by Boston and Minneapolis on Feb. 27, 1959).

Marietta Oarsmen To Compete At Miami

MARIETTA — The oarsmen of Marietta College, defending national champs of small college rowing, will put an unequalled record on the line in the first Miami Intercollegiate Rowing Regatta on March 30.

The Pioneer varsity hasn't lost a race in this country in two years against 71 opponents. That includes the crews they actually rowed against in the "World Series" of small college rowing, the Dad Vail Regatta, in Philadelphia.

They are the two - year defending champs in the Dad Vail and for three years have taken first - place trophy in the Mid-America Spring Championship Regatta.

The only defeats suffered by the Marietta Varsity since 1965 were in European regattas last summer. They were downed by some of Europe's top crews and the Cornell lightweights at the Gillette Cup Regatta, Ratzeburg, Germany. Later, they lost to the ultimate winner in their division of the Henley Royal Regatta in England.

Marietta Coach Ralph Lindamood, whose varsity has compiled a phenomenal 89-8 record in his eight years at the helm, says this season is a "rebuilding year" for his crews.

Lindamood, a 1946 Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Marietta who earned a Distinguished Flying Cross in World War II, in four short years guided his Varsity to the Dad Vail Regatta Championship.

Marietta swept all three divisions of the Dad Vail (varsity, junior varsity and freshman) in 1966 and last May again won the varsity and freshman events.

Scoreless Mikita Keeps Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago's Stan Mikita went scoreless in two games last week but still clung to his National Hockey League scoring lead, the league office announced today.

While Mikita's total remained at 38 goals and 41 assists for 79 points, New York's Jean Ratelle could manage only one goal in three games and Boston's Phil Esposito a goal and an assist in three contests.

That left them tied at 76 points, one ahead of Chicago's Bobby Hull and New York's Rod Gilbert, who are tied for fourth. Another point back is Detroit's Gordie Howe, two weeks shy of his 40th birthday.

Hull banged home two goals last week, giving him 44 for the season. He has six games left in which to reach the 50-goal mark for the fourth time. His league record of 54 seems out of reach.

Matty Alou Driving In Pirate Runs

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Little Matty Alou hits like mad. But can he drive in runs?

This year in spring training the answer seems to be yes—if he bats in the right spot in the Pittsburgh Pirates batting order.

The little slugger has 11 runs batted in so far this spring — high for the Pirates.

The Bucs' new manager, Larry Shepard, dropped Matty back to the sixth or seventh spot in the batting order.

Result: bingo.

"Now I can show people that I can drive in runs when I get a chance," said Alou.

Monday, the Pirates whipped Detroit 7-2 in an exhibition game —and Alou slugged three singles and drove in three runs.

The lesson seems to be that Alou can hit and if he hits with men on bases, he'll drive in runs.

As a leadoff man, or batting in the No. 2 spot, Alou has had trouble driving in runs. Obviously, when he went to bat in many cases, there were no Pirates on base.

He won the National League batting crown in 1966. Last year, he hit at a healthy .338 clip. But in 1966 he drove in only 27 runs; and last year e drove in only 28.

In 31 at bats in spring training, Alou has ripped off 13 hits, for a torrid .420 average.

Incorrigible Jamerson NAIA MVP

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—A few years ago, John Jamerson was labeled an "incorrigible" in his hometown of Toledo, Toledo, Ohio, and twice was sent to institution for boys.

Today, he's the toast of Fairmont after being named the Most Valuable Player in the NAIA Basketball Tournament at Kansas City, last weekend.

Jamerson, a 6-foot-5 junior forward, led Fairmont's Falcons to a second-place finish in the week-long, 32-team marathon. He averaged 22.4 points per game and connected on 52.3 per cent of his long-range shooting.

Coach Joe Retton's Falcons, who ended the season with a 25-6 record, lost in Saturday night's championship game to Central State of Ohio, 51-48.

"It's been a long, hard struggle for me," Jamerson said, "but if it hadn't been for sports — basketball in particular — I don't know where I'd be right now. . . maybe in some institution somewhere."

Jamerson, now 23, isn't hesitant to tell his story.

"I figure there may be some kids in need of guidance who'll read this," he said. "If athletics helped me, it can help them."

NBA Sets Playoff Schedule

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association playoffs begin Friday with Philadelphia playing New York in the Eastern Division and St. Louis meeting San Francisco in the West.

The league announced Monday that if an extra game is needed to decide the fourth playoff spot between Detroit and Cincinnati in the East, the game will be played Friday in Detroit.

The playoff series between the second and fourth place teams starts Sunday. Los Angeles meets Chicago in the West and Boston against either Detroit or Cincinnati in the East.

Bonnie Lee Cochran led the field in the 10 women's matches with two wins. Barbara Yarwood, Carol Faith and Darlene, Toni and Pat Cochran each had one win.

Bob and Alfred Cochran scored seven wins in the regular protector shoot. With one each were Wayne Cochran and Harold Lewis. Harold Cochran and Earl Burlingame, Alfred and Harold Cochran, Alfred and Dick Cochran and Jerry Cochran and Larry Faith.

Winners in the three - man protector shoot were Bob and Alfred Cochran and Norman Rambo and Burlingame, Zaplata and Schultz.

Schultz also captured the ham shoot. Wayne Cochran defeated 29 other contestants to win the men's Annie Oakley shoot.

Josephine Brown won the women's Annie Oakley shoot, with men, firing left handed, permitted to enter to offset the shortage of women contestants.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a mother-in-law who minds my own business and enjoys a good relationship with my son's wife. But something is bothering me and I need your advice.

My son and his wife have been married nine years. They have three beautiful little girls. My son is crazy over the girls but I know that, secretly, every man wants a son. Last night at a small dinner, the women were discussing their families. I heard my daughter-in-law say, 'Three is enough for me. I'm through."

I said nothing, of course, but when I got home, her statement bothered me terribly. As an older woman I know more about life than she does.

I had three children and it seemed like more than enough at the time, but now I deeply regret not having had more. Yes, it would have meant more work, but it would have been well worth it.

I so want to share my experience and knowledge with my daughter-in-law. I'm positive if she has another child or two she will never regret it. What do you say? — REGRETS.

Dear Re: Take another look at the first sentence in your letter. If you want the last part of your statement to hold true — stick to the policy expressed in the first part.

Asking For Help

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing to comment on the letter from the girl who wrote to say she was a Lesbian. You probably will receive a great many responses to that letter because there are many more Lesbians around than most people suspect. Your compassion and understanding is sure to move them. I know, because I am one.

You are right when you say we are a lonely lot. We're all of that. And then there is the ever-present fear that we'll be found out. No one ever would guess about me, however. I'm not the least bit masculine in appearance or behavior. I look extremely feminine and I wouldn't dream of wearing the suits or a fedora hat.

My main purpose in writing is to tell that your suggestion, "seek professional help" won't work. I sought professional help and I also prayed fervently. I begged God to remove this burden from my shoulders. But it is now five years later and I'm still a Lesbian.

I grew up in a home where my father made passes at me and my mother knew it and remained silent. If someone had recognized my problem early, perhaps I could have been helped, but not now — at age 28. So please, Ann, tell it like it is. — TARSUS.

Dear Tarsus: When homosexuals write to me they write for a reason — usually because they are lonely, frightened and ashamed. I always suggest professional help, although I'm well aware that the chances for a "cure" are slim, indeed. I suggest professional help because therapy can give these tortured people some insight into their problem. And hopefully, with understanding can come a measure of self-acceptance and peace of mind.

Confidentially

To Tangled, Bewildered and In Need of Guidance: Since your wife's history would make Lady Chatterly look like Snow White, I say, speak up — loud and clear. It sounds as if she has been as poor a mother as she's been a wife. In the divorce courts, nice guys finish last.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— by Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: In a cafe the other day I had some hamburger meatballs which had been baked and a thick cheese sauce poured over them.

It was a lovely dish, but the most surprising part of it all was when I cut into that meatball with my fork, there was melted cheese on the inside too! The cook had put a small square of cheddar cheese in the middle before cooking them. As he baked them in the oven (375 degrees), the inside cheese had melted. Way out on that could nine, I'd say.

Something different from the regular old meatballs. If you don't want a cheese sauce poured on top, any tasty thick sauce would be a welcome change.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I sew a lot by hand and since my eyes are not as good as they used to be, I always leave a little thread in each needle.

Then when rethreading, I put the old thread and new thread end to end, and twist with a wet finger and thumb. The two pieces twist into one piece and will slide through the needle.

This works best if you break the thread instead of cutting it, as breaking it leaves small fibers that twist together well.

MARY.

DEAR HELOISE: I read the letter from the lady with the parakeet telling how she disposes of the chaff in the seed cup by blowing on it outdoors.

Years ago when I first got my parakeet that's what I did . . . until one day the owner of the building made his rounds of inspection and saw bird seed around my back door.

The chaff had evidently blown away but some of the seed remained. (In blowing the chaff from the seed cup, one is bound to blow out some of the lighter seed.)

He asked me not to do that anymore as the seed attracted mice!

So now I use one of the larger paper bags from the market, holding the cap down inside (about six inches). I close my eyes so chaff won't get into them.

ARLINE.

DEAR HELOISE: I find that drying parsley in the oven takes the color out and a lot of the flavor as well.

So I dry all of my parsley and mint in the refrigerator. This takes a little longer, but it stays a beautiful green and the flavor is all there.

I spread the sprigs of parsley or mint on paper toweling and put it on the narrow top shelf of my refrigerator door for a week or more until it crumples to the touch.

Then I crumple it all up and put it in a small jar or tightcovered plastic container. I keep the container in the refrigerator until the parsley is all used up.

MRS. M. KNOX.

And believe it, folks, it really works. There is absoutely all the difference in the world in drying parsley in the oven and in the refrigerator. It stays a gorgous green.

Thanks a million, Mrs. Knox.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have squeaky bedsprings, do not oil them. Just spray on liquid wax and away go the squeaks.

While spraying them I lay newspapers under the springs to catch any drips.

Squeaky boards in floors can be toned down by pouring talcum powder in the cracks.

AMY MISCEVICH.

DEAR HELOISE: In each of my purses, I keep a small plastic pill bottle of "emergency" change — two dimes for telephone calls, two nickels and five pennies for parking meters. Also I leave a pencil or ballpoint pen and a small writing pad for extra measure.

These items are always available and don't have to be transferred from one purse to another.

MRS. THOMAS CLARKE.

Vietnam Aircraft Losses Exceed Korean Figures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. loss of planes and helicopters in the Vietnam war now exceeds its aircraft losses in Korea—but still is far below the World War II toll.

Pentagon figures show a total of 3,487 U.S. helicopters and fixed-wing planes have been destroyed in Vietnam.

In the Korean War, the total was 3,001, virtually all airplanes since helicopters were used in that war to a relatively insignificant degree.

The United States recorded 27,137 aircraft losses to enemy action in World War II. Figures were not available, but losses as a result of accidents and other noncombat causes probably ran into many thousands.

The total for fixed wing aircraft lost in the Vietnam war reached 2,007 last week. The number of helicopters destroyed in both combat and noncombat operations came to 1,480.

The Pentagon would not give a breakdown on aircraft losses by types, saying this is security material of value to the enemy.

Pentagon spokesmen said total costs of aircraft losses in the three wars are not available. But competent sources have said $4 billion probably would not be far off as the cost for Vietnam air losses.

The prices paid for individual airplanes indicate how costs have escalated since World War II.

For example, a B17 heavy bomber of World War II cost nearly $190,000—about $80,000 less than the price of an Army helicopter being used in the Vietnam war.

A B29, classed as a "very heavy bomber" in one World War II document, cost about $635,000—only a fraction of the $8 million price for a B52 of this era.

A World War II P51 fighter could be bought for $53,000. By the Korean war, the government was paying $212,000 for an F86 jet fighter. And today's fighter bomber, the F4 Phantom, runs about $2.4 million a copy.

Big Increases Reported In Population Of Prisons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharp increases in narcotics and draft-law convictions have helped boos tthe federal prison system's population while lowering the average convict's age.

Officials said the prison system experienced last year the sharpest increase of youth commitments in its history. The average age of the prison population dropped from 29.5 years in 1966 to 28.5 years at the end of 1967.

The jump in the federal system's over-all population reversed a five-year decline.

Prison officials cited as another reason for the jump in the prison population the fact that judges have been handing out longer sentences.

A Bureau of Prisons survey of its 35 institutions during a three-week period last month showed there were 781 convicted draft-law violators in the federal prison system at the time.

An official said 632 of these had told prison case workers they tried to avoid the draft for religious reasons. Of these, about 300 claimed to be members of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect who did not report to noncombat service in lieu of military service.

The system received 604 draft-law violators in the 12-month period that ended last June 30, compared with 261 in the previous 12-month period.

Although prison officials did not have available figures to show the increase in bank robbers and narcotics violators, they pointed to statistics from the Administrative Office of the United States Courts to show that youthful crime has been increasing sharply.

The office reported that during the last six months of 1967 the federal courts had experienced a 21.5 per cent increase in Selective Service Act violation cases begun compared with the last six months of 1966.

Senate's Delay Seen On Teacher Salary Hike Bill

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Republican leaders say they are not likely to act before next week on a bill that would raise salaries $500 a year across-the-board for Pennsylvania's public school teachers.

The Republican caucus discussed the $53 million pay bill for more than an hour Monday, but accomplished little more than pointing up that opinion is sharply divided on what should be done about the measure.

The bill, passed by the House last week, is now before the Senate Education Committee.

Sen. Preston B. Davis, R-Northumberland, committee chairman, said his colleagues were far from a consensus on what course to take.

"The general feeling of the caucus cannot be evaluated," Davis said. "The situation is very, very fluid."

Davis said some senators favor doing nothing until it can be determined how the bill is to be financed, while others want to act immediately and worry about funding later.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a mother-in-law who minds my own business and enjoys a good relationship with my son's wife. But something is bothering me and I need your advice.

My son and his wife have been married nine years. They have three beautiful little girls. My son is crazy over the girls but I know that, secretly, every man wants a son. Last night at a small dinner, the women were discussing their families. I heard my daughter-in-law say, "Three is enough for me. I'm through."

I said nothing, of course, but when I got home, her statement bothered me terribly. As an older woman I know more about life than she does.

I had three children and it seemed like more than enough at the time, but now I deeply regret not having had more. Yes, it would have meant more work, but it would have been well worth it.

I so want to share my experience and knowledge with my daughter-in-law. I'm positive if she has another child or two she will never regret it. What do you say? — REGRETS.

Dear Re: Take another look at the first sentence in your letter. If you want the last part of your statement to hold true — stick to the policy expressed in the first part.

Asking For Help

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing to comment on the letter from the girl who wrote to say she was a Lesbian. You probably will receive a great many responses to that letter because there are many more Lesbians around than most people suspect. Your compassion and understanding is sure to move them. I know, because I am one.

You are right when you say we are a lonely lot. We're all of that. And then there is the ever-present fear that we'll be found out. No one ever would guess about me, however. I'm not the least bit masculine in appearance or behavior. I look extremely feminine and I wouldn't dream of wearing the suits or a fedora hat.

My main purpose in writing is to tell that your suggestion, "seek professional help" won't work. I sought professional help and I also prayed fervently. I begged God to remove this burden from my shoulders. But it is now five years later and I'm still a Lesbian.

I grew up in a home where my father made passes at me and my mother knew it and remained silent. If someone had recognized my problem early, perhaps I could have been helped, but not now — at age 28. So please, Ann, tell it like it is. — TARSUS.

Dear Tarsus: When homosexuals write to me they write for a reason — usually because they are lonely, frightened and ashamed. I always suggest professional help, although I'm well aware that the chances for a "cure" are slim, indeed. I suggest professional help because therapy can give these tortured people some insight into their problem. And hopefully, with understanding can come a measure of self-acceptance and peace of mind.

Confidentially

To Tangled, Bewildered and In Need of Guidance: Since your wife's history would make Lady Chatterly look like Snow White, I say, speak up — loud and clear. It sounds as if she has been as poor a mother as she's been a wife. In the divorce courts, nice guys finish last.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— by Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: In a cafe the other day I had some hamburger meatballs which had been baked and a thick cheese sauce poured over them.

It was a lovely dish, but the most surprising part of it all was when I cut into that meatball with my fork, there was melted cheese on the inside too! The cook had put a small square of cheddar cheese in the middle before cooking them. As he baked them in the oven (375 degrees), the inside cheese had melted. Way out on that could nine, I'd say.

Something different from the regular old meatballs. If you don't want a cheese sauce poured on top, any tasty thick sauce would be a welcome change.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I sew a lot by hand and since my eyes are not as good as they used to be, I always leave a little thread in each needle.

Then when rethreading, I put the old thread and new thread end to end, and twist with a wet finger and thumb. The two pieces twist into one piece and will slide through the needle.

This works best if you break the thread instead of cutting it, as breaking it leaves small fibers that twist together well.

MARY.

DEAR HELOISE: I read the letter from the lady with the parakeet telling how she disposes of the chaff in the seed cup by blowing on it outdoors.

Years ago when I first got my parakeet that's what I did . . . until one day the owner of the building made his rounds of inspection and saw bird seed around my back door.

The chaff had evidently blown away but some of the seed remained. (In blowing the chaff from the seed cup, one is bound to blow out some of the lighter seed.)

He asked me not to do that anymore as the seed attracted mice!

So now I use one of the larger paper bags from the market, holding the cap down inside (about six inches). I close my eyes so chaff won't get into them.

ARLINE.

DEAR HELOISE: I find that drying parsley in the oven takes the color out and a lot of the flavor as well.

So I dry all of my parsley and mint in the refrigerator. This takes a little longer, but it stays a beautiful green and the flavor is all there.

I spread the sprigs of parsley or mint on paper toweling and put it on the narrow top shelf of my refrigerator door for a week or more until it crumples to the touch.

Then I crumple it all up and put it in a small jar or tight-covered plastic container. I keep the container in the refrigerator until the parsley is all used up.

MRS. M. KNOX.

And believe it, folks, it really works. There is absoutely all the difference in the world in drying parsley in the oven and in the refrigerator. It stays a gorgous green.

Thanks a million, Mrs. Knox.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have squeaky bedsprings, do not oil them. Just spray on liquid wax and away go the squeaks.

While spraying them I lay newspapers under the springs to catch any drips.

AMY MISCEVICH.

DEAR HELOISE: In each of my purses, I keep a small plastic pill bottle of "emergency" change — two dimes for telephone calls, two nickels and five pennies for parking meters. Also I leave a pencil or ballpoint pen and a small writing pad for extra measure.

These items are always available and don't have to be transferred from one purse to another.

MRS. THOMAS CLARKE.

Vietnam Aircraft Losses Exceed Korean Figures

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. loss of planes and helicopters in the Vietnam war now exceeds its aircraft losses in Korea—but still is far below the World War II toll.

Pentagon figures show a total of 3,487 U.S. helicopters and fixed-wing planes have been destroyed in Vietnam.

In the Korean War, the total was 3,001, virtually all airplanes since helicopters were used in that war to a relatively insignificant degree.

The United States recorded 27,137 aircraft losses to enemy action in World War II. Figures were not available, but losses as a result of accidents and other noncombat causes probably ran into many thousands.

The total for fixed wing aircraft lost in the Vietnam war reached 2,007 last week. The number of helicopters destroyed in both combat and noncombat operations came to 1,480.

The Pentagon would not give a breakdown on aircraft losses by types, saying this is security material of value to the enemy.

Pentagon spokesmen said total costs of aircraft losses in the three wars are not available. But competent sources have said $4 billion probably would not be far off as the cost for Vietnam air losses.

The prices paid for individual airplanes indicate how costs have escalated since World War II.

For example, a B17 heavy bomber of World War II cost nearly $190,000—about $80,000 less than the price of an Army helicopter being used in the Vietnam war.

A B29, classed as a "very heavy bomber" in one World War II document, cost about $635,000—only a fraction of the $8 million price for a B52 of this era.

A World War II P51 fighter could be bought for $53,000. By the Korean war, the government was paying $212,000 for an F86 jet fighter. And today's fighter bomber, the F4 Phantom, runs about $2.4 million a copy.

Big Increases Reported In Population Of Prisons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharp increases in narcotics and draft-law convictions have helped boos tthe federal prison system's population while lowering the average convict's age.

Officials said the prison system experienced last year the sharpest increase of youth commitments in its history. The average age of the prison population dropped from 29.5 years in 1966 to 28.5 years at the end of 1967.

The jump in the federal system's over-all population reversed a five-year decline.

Prison officials cited as another reason for the jump in the prison population the fact that judges have been handing out longer sentences.

A Bureau of Prisons survey of its 35 institutions during a three-week period last month showed there were 781 convicted draft-law violators in the federal prison system at the time.

An official said 632 of these had told prison case workers they tried to avoid the draft for religious reasons. Of these, about 300 claimed to be members of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect who did not report to noncombat service in lieu of military service.

The system received 604 draft-law violators in the 12-month period that ended last June 30, compared with 261 in the previous 12-month period.

Although prison officials did not have available figures to show the increase in bank robbers and narcotics violators, they pointed to statistics from the Administrative Office of the United States Courts to show that youthful crime has been increasing sharply.

The office reported that during the last six months of 1967 the federal courts had experienced a 21.5 per cent increase in Selective Service Act violation cases begun compared with the last six months of 1966.

Senate's Delay Seen On Teacher Salary Hike Bill

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Republican leaders say they are not likely to act before next week on a bill that would raise salaries $500 a year across-the-board for Pennsylvania's public school teachers.

The Republican caucus discussed the $53 million pay bill for more than an hour Monday, but accomplished little more than pointing up that opinion is sharply divided on what should be done about the measure.

The bill, passed by the House last week, is now before the Senate Education Committee.

Sen. Preston B. Davis, R-Northumberland, committee chairman, said his colleagues were far from a consensus on what course to take.

"The general feeling of the caucus cannot be evaluated," Davis said. "The situation is very, very fluid."

Davis said some senators favor doing nothing until it can be determined how the bill is to be financed, while others want to act immediately and worry about funding later.

Junior Editors Quiz on DINOSAURS

QUESTION: Men were not living in dinosaur days, so how do they know what they looked like?

ANSWER: Dinosaurs were large reptiles — many of them huge in size — which lived on earth in the Triassic, Jurassic and Cretaceous periods, from about 200 million to 60 million years ago. Scientists know about them because they have found their great footprints in ancient rocks. And they have found many bones which, when put together by experts, give complete skeletons, showing what the creatures looked like and how they lived. Our picture shows how experts go about assembling such skeletons. First, upper left, they are searching for bones in a place where they may be expected to be found. Here, the foot bones of a dinosaur project from a cliff side. The bones are carefully dug out and protected by wrapping in burlap with plaster poured over this to make a light but strong shell. Then they are shipped to a natural history museum. Here, experts in bone structure take off the plaster and piece the bones together, often using steel rods. The result will be a savage-looking brute such as Triceratops, shown in the main picture.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, March 19, the 79th day of 1968. There are 287 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1920, the U.S. Senate rejected the Versailles Treaty providing for a League of Nations.

On this date:

In 1628, the English founded the Massachusetts Colony.

In 1813, the Scottish missionary and explorer, David Livingston, was born.

In 1860, the American politician and orator, William Jennings Bryan, was born.

In 1942, during World War II, all American men between the ages of 45 and 64 were ordered to register with Selective Service for nonmilitary duty.

In 1945, the underground in occupied Norway embarked on a program of organized sabotage against German troops.

Ten years ago — A fire in a New York City loft building left 19 dead.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy and the presidents of six Latin American states met in San Jose, Costa Rica.

One year ago — South Vietnam's military leaders approved the draft of a new Constitution for the country.

James Monroe was the only president in our history other than George Washington to be unopposed for a second term. Only one dissenting electoral vote was cast against him, and this was cast because it was felt that no other American save Washington should ever enjoy the distinction of a unanimous vote.

In 1959, Tibet's spiritual ruler, the Dalai Lama, fled his country following a revolt by Tibetans against Communist Chinese troops.

Ten years ago — A fire in a New York City loft building left 19 dead.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy and the presidents of six Latin American states met in San Jose, Costa Rica.

One year ago — South Vietnam's military leaders approved the draft of a new Constitution for the country.

James Monroe was the only president in our history other than George Washington to be unopposed for a second term. Only one dissenting electoral vote was cast against him, and this was cast because it was felt that no other American save Washington should ever enjoy the distinction of a unanimous vote.
